

Reversal prevents Columbia airport

New U.S. Transportation Secretary Brock Adams yesterday announced his decision to halt "at this time" funding for a commercial airport proposed at Columbia, Waterloo, Ill., to serve the St. Louis area.

His reversal of former Secretary William T. Coleman's decision favoring a new airport stunned many Illinoisans, including U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy, who called it "a serious mistake and one of the worst decisions ever made by the executive branch of the government."

Percy said this metropolitan area has bright prospects but is likely to be seriously hampered by increasing problems associated with space limitations at Lambert Airport in St. Louis County.

The proposed airport was planned to ultimately replace Lambert as the major air carrier airport for this region. Lambert would have continued as a general aviation site but now will be given new attention as the key airport indefinitely, with further expansion of passenger facilities.

U.S. Senator Adlai E. Stevenson said he will do "everything I can to see that the final disposition of this matter is based on merit and not political pressure."

Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, said efforts will continue to preserve the Columbia site. No Missouri alternate airport locations exist, he emphasized. The Authority had been authorized to acquire land and begin detailed airport planning.

"It is possible that a new airport to serve the greater St. Louis area may be needed some day in the future," Secretary Adams said. "But it is premature to press this at this time with funding of a new airport site."

"Forecasts indicate," he said, "that lack of aircraft probably will not become a serious problem at Lambert until 1995."

"The air carriers serving Lambert have confirmed this viewpoint by extending their use and lease agreements at Lambert through 1995." The airlines simultaneously have said they wanted Columbia-Waterloo to be developed as an airport.

"The carriers have indicated their confidence that Lambert will be able to provide satisfactory service through the period of their lease agreements, and this fact has weighed heavily in my decision," the secretary said Wednesday in Washington. Adams said another "important factor" in reaching the decision is "the substantial opposition to the proposed airport voiced by a majority of residents living in the St. Louis area."

"In view of local preference; the air carriers' position that efficient operation can be maintained at Lambert at least through 1995; and my judgment that the Columbia-Waterloo site will continue to remain available for some time in the future, I have decided not to approve acquisition of the Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., site at this time," Secretary Adams said.

Adams added that in reaching

DRAINAGE IMPROVEMENT on Wabash Avenue from Richmond to Amos Avenue is mapped Monday afternoon by surveying crew of the Granite City Engineering Department. The project, scheduled to start early this year but delayed by cold weather, will get under way as soon as engineering data is completed. Construction of a storm water line down the center of Wabash will carry storm drainage to Amos Avenue and into the

Nameoki ditch. From left, Mark Hatscher, adjusting transit; Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald Coleman, Jim Boda and Steve Benda. Sasyk is replaced on Bi-State board

Governor James R. Thompson named three new members Tuesday to the Bi-State Development Agency board. There are five Illinois and five Missouri commissioners.

The appointees are: E. Lucian DeShong, Godfrey replacing Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison.

Roy J. May, Waterloo, replacing John E. Shuff Jr., formerly of Belleville. Shuff has been transferred to New York City by the Capital Cities firm, owner of the Belleville newspaper.

James S. Nations, Fairview Heights, replacing Roger Plummer, Godfrey.

The positions are not salaried. May formerly served on Bi-State for 11 years. He is an insurance agent.

The governor's office said Nations will hold board membership until 1980 and DeShong will serve a full five-year term expiring in 1982.

The five commissioners from each state are appointed to staggered five-year terms.

Continuing on the board is the Bi-State Development Agency chairman, Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City.

Madison Mayor Sasyk continues as a member of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board and the Health Systems Agency board that monitors federally-related health programs and decisions in the metropolitan St. Louis area.

DeShong is director of administration for the Olin Corp., and Nations is Fairview Heights alderman.

May previously served on Bi-State from 1964 to 1973 on appointments by former governors Otto Kerner and Richard B. Ogilvie.

The agency operates Bi-State Transit buses, the Gateway Arch transportation system and Bi-State Parks Airport at Cahokia.

Firm marking 25 years

An unusual longevity record for printing firms in this region has been set by the Tri-City Printing Co., founded by Chester L. Baker. The firm will observe its 25th anniversary tomorrow.

"Baker has been one of the most active individuals in local community service, serving four one-year terms as president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce in 1952-53, 1953-54, 1954-55 and 1955-56. Prior to April 1, 1952, the Press-Record operated both the semi-weekly (Monday-Thursday) local newspaper and a commercial job printing business, a dual function that continues even today at many Illinois newspapers."

But business volume had grown to the extent that the Press-Record needed to devote all its space to tasks related to the newspaper itself, and C. E. Townsend sold the job printing equipment and customer list to Baker.

The volume of printing business has grown steadily through the years and Baker now is associated with a staff that includes his wife, Ruth as secretary-treasurer, his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dorothy Baker, as office secretary, Al Edwards as printer, Paul Mihalich and Wilbert Niepert as pressmen and Mark Carnes as binderman.

The company serves the Quad-Cities and a wide surrounding area with offset printing. The company has been in business for 25 years.

It may well be that voters will decide to "back some on one ticket and some on the other ticket in each township."

Nameoki Supervisor Louis Whitsell has shown political courage in tackling tough issues and seeking solutions. He is right in citing the serious health hazards and other problems associated with lack of sanitary sewers, and he has tried to remedy that lack.

It is hard to see merit in the opposing arguments that the sewer installation program now being appealed should be resented and fought until some "fairer" or "non-tax" or "more widely approved" plan emerges.

In Nameoki and Chouteau Townships, two full nine-candidate tickets are opposing each other in each township. All four groups include some incumbent officials (two, two, five and six) plus individuals newly seeking public office.

On and off the record Woman pastor here

The First United Presbyterian Church of Madison has called a woman, the Rev. Charlotte HoTopp Zachary, as pastor of the congregation, according to Mrs. E. M. Bonatt, clerk of the session.

The Rev. Zachary, a native of Jersey City, N. J., will assume her duties at the Madison church on Friday. She is an ordained minister in the United Presbyterian Church and has served in the pastorate over 22 years, and in home missions for the United Presbyterian Church since 1960.

Her training came from nursing education and teacher education prior to entering the ministry. The Rev. Zachary attended the Jersey City Medical Center, New Jersey State Teachers College, Jersey City, Columbia University, New York University and Oberlin Graduate School of Theology. Her post graduate work was done at Oberlin and Cambridge University in England.

The Rev. Zachary has been involved in mission work in the

Her most recent post in mission work was in South St.

Nameoki drainage budgeted

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

At the request of several township residents, the Nameoki Township Board of Auditors Tuesday night "inflat" the highway department's budgets to increase the appropriation for drainage by $30,000.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell explained that inflating the budget will not necessarily allow more money to be spent for drainage improvement work, since the tax levies supporting the highway department are at their legal maximums and increasing the budget will not increase the amount of money which will be available for drainage work.

He said the budget change, however, may make it easier for the highway commissioner to spend money given him for drainage from other sources, including federal revenue sharing and health appropriations.

In the original budgets, Highway Commissioner Albert Bell provided $15,000 for drainage work. "This is all we feel we can afford to spend and probably will be adequate, since my drainage authority extends only to protecting the roads," Bell said.

A resident displayed photos of water standing across streets in several areas after a heavy rain early this week, saying, "If this is not affecting the roads, I will eat this photo."

After several residents requested more money for drainage, the board agreed to transfer $1,200 from "rentals" in the administration category of the general road and bridge budget into the category for drainage.

The residents still contended $16,200 was "a drop in the bucket" compared to the drainage work needed in the township.

Whitsell noted the board presently is preparing the town fund, community development fund and federal revenue sharing fund budgets and is considering additional drainage appropriations in those categories.

Bell contended the town board had given Bell $31,668 from the Township Board of Health and $16,368 in federal revenue sharing for drainage during the last fiscal year which was not spent. He also said $9,213 remained unspent in the highway department.

Whitsell said, "I think it is a disgrace we did not spend it. That is why I mentioned it," he added.

Bell said several factors kept the money from being spent. One was a lawsuit which kept proposed Parkway Estates

Truck hits boy

Jeffrey Teller, 12, of 5025 Lewis Ave., was seriously injured when his bicycle was struck by a pickup truck in the 5300 block of Maryville Road 7 p.m. Monday. He was still unconscious late this morning.

James Hartzel, 2412 Morrison Road, driver of the pickup truck, said he was southbound on Maryville Road when the boy entered from Willow Lane, went to the center of the roadway and then swerved to the right in front of the truck. Hartzel said he swerved his truck left into the oncoming lane, but could not avoid striking the bicyclist. The truck left 15 feet of skid marks.

Witnesses agreed and noted the bicyclist did not have any reflectors or lights.

The boy was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where x-rays showed a probable skull fracture. He was transferred to Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis.

Senior 'hot line'

This column, during the next few weeks, will deal with questions most frequently asked at this time on application of the Circuit Breaker law and tax grants and is written under the auspices of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal.

What is the Circuit Breaker?

A. The Circuit Breaker, known formally as the "Senior Citizen and Disabled Persons Property Tax Relief Grant," offers up to $500 a year in cash to qualified seniors and disabled persons in Illinois to help meet rising rent and real estate costs. Q. Does it apply only to property owners as its name implies?

A. No. The grant applies also to renters. (Continued on Page 19)

Cutting coffee costs

By JANETTE MUELLER
Less than two years ago, roasted coffee retailed at $1.29 per pound. Today, coffee prices are above $4 per pound. But even with inflated prices, few persons are likely to stop drinking coffee.

If you intend to continue drinking coffee, here are some cost-cutting suggestions:

—Brew only as much coffee as you will drink, to avoid wasting it.

—Compare brand prices before buying.

—Drink regular instant coffee. Per cup of beverage, it costs only half as much as ground coffee and less than freeze-fried coffee, too.

—Compare the unit prices — cost per ounce per pound — of different size cans and jars of coffee to find the best buys.

For persons interested in reducing their coffee consumption and drinking other beverages, try these suggestions:

—Drinking hot or iced tea. You can save more money by making tea with loose tea leaves or instant tea instead of tea bags.

—Making hot chocolate from a home recipe with nonfat dry milk or commercial mix. Presently it costs a little more than coffee. But, for the extra cost, it furnishes important nutrients, such as protein, calcium and riboflavin. A six-ounce cup is about 130 calories.

—Drinking bouillon or soup occasionally, unless you are on a low-salt diet.

Editorial comment—Important decisions face Quad-City voters Tuesday, April 5

The rites of spring have begun, and this year they include many local-level elections.

Because democracy doesn't happen automatically but has to be worked at, it will be important that all eligible Quad-City area voters participate in the process on April 5, 9 and 19.

Aiding in attracting a high voter turnout will be the fact that more offices than usual are to be decided. And most of the offices have drawn spirited competition.

A major factor in the outcome of the balloting will be the judgment of voters, most of whom know one or more candidates personally and cannot help but have opinions about who deserves a vote and who doesn't.

This is as it should be and, happily, the public usually turns out to have chosen well — in the long run, if not always in the short term.

Certainly, if nearly all people vote, those who win are sure to be the true choice of the majority.

All four townships will have elections next Tuesday, April 5, plus the City of Granite City and the Park District of Venice. In the Venice park balloting, all three candidates are unopposed.

Venice Township, encompassing most of the cities of Venice and Madison, has no competition for the positions of assessor, highway commissioner and town clerk.

Three incumbents and two others are running for four posts on the Venice Town Board of Trustees, and the incumbent collector is opposed by a candidate who says he is not actively seeking the office.

Supervisor Christ Paschoff has provided active service and leadership. Projects during his tenure have included purchase of the township building and provision of recreation facilities, free eyeglasses and hearing aids, street and sanitation equipment, lighting, fire hydrants, bus trips for students and senior citizens, and a variety of athletic equipment.

In Nameoki and Chouteau Townships, two full nine-candidate tickets are opposing each other in each township. All four groups include some incumbent officials (two, two, five and six) plus individuals newly seeking public office.

Party honors Lori Bushong

Lori Bushong celebrated her 14th birthday during the weekend at a surprise party given by her friends, Pam Snelson, Lori Bergfield, Marsha Curtis, Kristian Wright, B. J. Lybarger and Sherri Fuhrman in the latter's home 2109 Manley Ave.

Also present were Chris Jenkins, Sandy Gray, Alisha Schlecker, Rhonda Jackson, Elizabeth Taylor, Natalie Buster, Susan Jeffries, Nancy Cavar and Susan McRaven.

The afternoon was enjoyed by playing games and dancing. Pizza, soda, snacks and cake were served after the honoree opened her gifts.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bushong, 1838 Bremen Ave., entertained guests at a family dinner on Sunday evening, in honor of their daughter's birthday.

Those attending were grandparents, Russell Bailey and Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Gouwiner, and sisters Debbie and Sheri Bushong, and De De Dittrich and Sherri Fuhrman.

Mrs. Hendricks hosts meeting

The Past Noble Grand Club of Ann Rutledge Rebekah Lodge, met Tuesday for a luncheon meeting hosted by Mrs. Irene Hendricks.

A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Ann Kunemann in the absence of the president, Mrs. Clara Harbig, who is ill.

During the afternoon pinocle games were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Kunemann, Mrs. Edna McKay and a guest, Mrs. Emma Schoen. The next meeting on April 28 will be with Mrs. Harbig.

Mrs. Jan Kohl is chapter hostess

Mrs. Jan Kohl, 2341 Gray Ave., entertained members of Chapter HT, P.E.O. Sisterhood, in her home on Monday afternoon. She served a dessert luncheon to 19 members followed by the business session.

President Mrs. Carl Mathias presided as plans were completed for the annual BIL dinner scheduled for April 22 at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

The program, a game relating to by-laws, was conducted by Mrs. Polly West.

The April 11 meeting to feature a travelogue by Mrs. Helen Stoeber will be held in the home of Mrs. B. J. Davis, Rural Route Two, Granite City.

Mrs. Hoff hostess to Butterfly Club

The Butterfly Card Club met on Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Harriet Hoff, 3741 Fair Oaks Drive.

Those excelling in the pinocle games were Mrs. Lorraine Melvey, first; Mrs. Irene Willis, second; Mrs. Nell Talley, third and honors and Mrs. Edith Ryan, fourth.

Luncheon was served by the hostess to those named and to Mesdames Thelma Schmid, Mary Lou Clausen, Kate Hommert, Hazel Rollins and Juanita Rosenberg.

Plans were completed to hold the club's annual spring party at the Rollins residence on Sunday.

3 unopposed in April 5 Venice park board voting

MRS. MARY BAUDER

Mrs. Mary Frances Bauder, 700 Third St., Venice, is one of two incumbent members of the Venice Park Board seeking six-year terms April 5.

She and Alfred Dale Crawford are unopposed, as is Mrs. Joan Silas, a candidate for the four-year unexpired term of John F. Mitchell, who has retired from the board.

Mrs. Bauder, wife of Venice Police Officer Roderick J. Bauder and daughter of Mrs. Margaret Lee of Venice, was appointed to the park board in July 1975. She is the daughter of the late Venice Mayor John E. Lee Jr. and the granddaughter of the late Mayor John E. Lee Sr., under whose administration Venice Park was purchased and established. Dr. Lee Sr. was a physician and Dr. Lee Jr. was a dentist.

Mrs. Bauder, 28, a lifelong Venice resident, attended St. Mark's School and graduated from Incarnate Word Academy, Normandy, Mo. She holds a bachelor degree from Fontbonne College, St. Louis, majoring in physical education and mathematics.

Her employment has been as a physical education teacher at Verin Hall High School, Webster Groves.

ALFRED DALE CRAWFORD

Alfred Dale Crawford, 42, McKinley Bridge maintenance foreman, is an unopposed candidate in the Venice Park District board election Tuesday, April 5.

Crawford is seeking a six-year term. He was appointed to the board in August 1975 to fill a vacancy Willie Teal had resigned to become park and recreation director at that time.

A Madison High School graduate, Crawford resides at 1224 Market St., Venice. He and his wife, Frances, have two sons, Alfred Jr. and Avery. The candidate, in addition to his duties at the Venice-owned bridge and his service as a park commissioner, is assistant recreation director for the City of Venice.

Crawford has coached 13 summer baseball teams. He has been instrumental in organizing senior citizen bowling, Venice Little League programs, women's basketball and "tiny tots" basketball. He has participated in park-related activities for the past 17 years.

Pi Eta elects new officers

Mrs. Jerry Turner was elected president of Pi Eta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, during a meeting conducted on Monday evening.

Others elected for the 1977-78 year were Mrs. Judy Onesty, vice-president; Kathy Welsh, secretary and Judi Campbell, treasurer.

Mrs. Betty Beck entertained the group in her home and also presented the program which was a history of Beta Sigma Phi.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Janet Nolen.

Others attending were Charlotte Charbonner, Wanita Graham, Janet Nolen and Donna Yehling.

MRS. JOAN SILAS

Mrs. Joan Silas, 1221 Market St., Venice, is seeking public office for the first time as a candidate for the Venice Park Board.

She is a lifelong resident of Venice. She and her husband, Howard, who is employed at the Conalco plant in Madison, have two children Carla, 17, and Corey, 13.

Mrs. Silas is a Madison High School graduate.

Active in the Mt. Nebo Baptist Church, she is a member of the Madison Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Lamp Lighters Civic Association and the Newport Homecoming Association.

She has served as a Cub Scout den mother, a Brownie leader and a Girl Scout leader.

Mrs. Silas is employed by Stix, Baer and Fuller. "I decided to run for the board, as I felt I could make a worthwhile contribution to the park program, particularly in the area of recreation."

"Between working with the church, scouts and my own children, I feel I have the experience and judgment needed," Mrs. Silas comments. She is unopposed for a four-year unexpired term.

The Knights of Columbus, a worldwide organization consisting of more than 1,200,000 members, is celebrating Founder's Month during March, according to A. L. "Pete" Metcalf, grand knight of Tri-Cities Council 1098.

Founded in New Haven, Conn., on Jan. 8, 1882, by a young priest, Father Michael McGivney, the Knights of Columbus has grown from a handful of men in a small parish to an internationally recognized and respected organization.

Father McGivney had a desire to unite Catholic men in a society through which they might advance the ideals of their faith, Metcalf explained. The priest met with a small group of men in his parish and outlined his objectives for such a society—to provide a type of fraternal insurance to care for widows and children of deceased members; to provide fellowship among members; to aid in the cause of religion and to promote charitable, educational and patriotic works for the benefit of their fellow man and their country.

Metcalf said the founder suggested the organization's name relate to the Catholic discoverer of America—Christopher Columbus—and it should embody the knightly ideals of service to church, country and fellow man.

Hence, the Knights of Columbus name was adopted, Metcalf said.

On March 29, 1882, the state of Connecticut granted a charter to the Knights of Columbus and that date is observed each year as Founder's Day by member councils in every state in the United States, in the 10 provinces of Canada, the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Mexico and the Philippines.

Purpose of the order, as contained in the original charter, include:

"To render monetary aid to members and beneficiaries of members."

"To render mutual aid and assistance to our sick and disabled members."

"To promote social and cultural activities among our members."

"To promote and conduct educational, charitable, religious, social welfare, war relief and public relief works."

The local council officer said these purposes still are being fulfilled by brother knights throughout the world.

"Our members must have high standards and be willing to abide by the sound principles established to guide us in our endeavors," Metcalf said.

"Our members represent every walk of life and are dedicated to our principles of charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism."

"Charity is foremost in our order," Metcalf continued.

"Throughout the years, victims of earthquakes, floods, tornadoes, hurricanes, fires and other disasters have been aided by the knights."

"We will always be there to help anyone regardless of his faith, color or special affiliation," the council officer stressed.

He noted that in one 12-month period, over $6,500,000 was given to help various Catholic facilities and many non-Catholic, including hospitals, orphanages, dependent and crippled children, young and "old" retarded citizens, homes for the aged, community charities, colleges and universities, among others.

The Knights of Columbus pioneered the blood donor program which has been a blessing to all, Metcalf commented. Since 1938, the brother knights have donated more than 126,000 pints of blood, he added.

These projects are just a few of the many things in which the knights are involved, he pointed out.

Significant to the Knights of Columbus' entire program are the activities of local councils, Metcalf explained.

"The success of our projects depends upon the participation of every brother knight and the use of the individuals' talents," he stated.

Otto Wickam dies here

Otto E. Wickam, 62, of 2838 Denver St., a retired employee of Miles Laboratories, died at 5:58 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He worked as an operator of the field elevator for the former Miles plant for 25 years prior to his retirement in 1970.

Mr. Wickam was born in Tusculum, Mo., and moved to Granite City in 1935.

His wife, Mrs. Mabel (Bunker) Wickam, died in 1966.

Two brothers, William and Raymond Wickam, preceded him in death.

Survivors include one son, Terry Wickam of Granite City; five brothers, Sterling, Kermit, Donald and Herbert Wickam, all of Granite City, and Kellus Wickam of Blackwell, Okla.; three sisters, Mrs. Sterling (Clay) Cross and Mrs. Edmund (Florence) Keilback, both of Tusculum, and Mrs. Grace Miller of Pueblo, Colo.; and one grandchild.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Nameoki hikes pay schedule

Pay increases averaging about 5 per cent per year were approved by the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Tuesday night for township officials to be elected April 5.

Resolutions passed by the board increase the annual pay of town board members from $1,200 to $1,800 per year.

The supervisor's salary as supervisor of the town fund and general assistance was increased from $8,736 to $10,225 the first year, $10,750 the second year, $11,275 the third year and $11,850 in the fourth year.

The supervisor also receives $1,000 per year as treasurer of the road district. That amount was not changed.

The pay of the highway commissioner, which is determined per working day, was increased from $35 per day to $37 in the first year, $39 in the second year, $41 in the third year and $43 in the fourth year.

The annual salary of the tax assessor will increase from $7,000 to $7,350 of Jan. 1, and then will increase each year to $7,725, $8,100, and $8,500. The $6,000 salary of the tax collector will rise each Jan. 1 to $6,300, $6,625, $6,950 and then $7,300.

The town clerk's $5,000 annual salary will increase to $5,250, $5,500, $5,800, and $6,075 during the four-year period of his elected term.

Trustee Norman Hessler, chairman of the finance committee, said the committee felt annual increases for most township officials was fairer to the officials than setting one flat salary which would not increase during the four-year period, despite inflation.

Youth tours with Gateway Choir

Edward Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Snyder, 100 Briarhaven Drive, has returned home following a week's tour with the Gateway Choir in the Eastern states.

The 14-year-old youth is a high school freshman at Gateway College of Evangelism in Hazelwood, Mo. The school, which also has high school level pupils enrolled, is operated by the United Pentecostal Church.

On the trip, the 32 choir members sang in churches at Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, in West Virginia and Indianapolis, Ind.

The young people also visited Washington, D. C. and toured the White House, U.S. Capitol Building and other places of interest.

The Gateway Choir, consisting of boys and girls, will perform April 6, 7 and 8 in the Kansas City area and is scheduled to appear in concert at Kiel Auditorium, St. Louis, in May.

The Granite City youth lives on campus at Gateway College.

EDWARD SNYDER, 100 Briarhaven Drive, a high school freshman and choir member at Gateway College of Evangelism, Hazelwood, Mo., has returned from a singing tour in the Eastern states. The choral group will perform at Kiel Auditorium in May.

TOOLS, CLOCKS TAKEN

Glass in an overhead door to the attached garage was broken to gain entry to the home of Jerry Dugan, 1741 Poplar St., between 4 p.m. and 10:35 p.m. Tuesday. The house was ransacked. Stolen were a wall clock, a clock radio, a tool box containing $300 worth of tools, a $1,000 television set and two tables worth a total of $375. Neighbors said a dark-colored Dodge van left the area when police arrived.

Stray dogs to be held only 5 days

Beginning Friday, April 1, the holding time for stray dogs at the Madison County Rabies Control Center will be reduced from seven days to five days. This action has been approved by the Animal Control Committee of the Madison County Board. Reason cited for the reduction was the overcrowding problem at the county pound.

The number of stray dogs being held at the pound has been increasing steadily the past few months and, in order to have enough room, action was taken to reduce the number being held at any one time, a spokesman said.

Any dog not wearing a tag or other identification is considered a stray. If it has a tag or other identification, the owner is notified as soon as possible, the spokesman added.

Dr. Carl H. Rogers, administrator of the Animal Control Department has emphasized that anyone who has lost a dog should contact the pound, which is located on Illinois Route 143, five miles east of Edwardsville.

The phone number is 692-4429. The pound is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Saturdays 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Clean streams to receive emphasis

Clean Streams Week in Illinois, set for May 14-22 by Governor James Thompson, is an initial effort by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and regional and county planning commissions statewide to involve Illinois citizens in a two-year program to rid the state's waters of pollutants.

Regional advisory committees for local citizen involvement in developing a state plan for making Illinois' rivers and streams suitable for swimming and fishing by 1983 are being organized by the IEPA.

The plan is required by 1972 amendments to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act. Agricultural land, construction sites, mining areas and city streets, parking lots and residential areas are being examined to determine the types and amount of pollutants they contribute to rivers and streams.

Citizens are being asked to help develop land management schemes, educational programs, economic incentives and new regulations to help alleviate problems in their areas. Agencies for plan implementation must also be identified at the local and state levels.

The bi-state nature of the St. Louis metropolitan area directly affects jobs for this county, investments here and forms of public administration, according to a professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Robert L. Koepke, associate professor of earth sciences and planning, is the author of an article published in the Bulletin of the Illinois Geographical Society, which discusses socioeconomic implications for a bi-state metropolitan area.

Koepke said that, according to the definition established by the Federal Office of Management and Budget, "a metropolitan area is a county or group of counties which contains at least one city of 50,000 inhabitants or more, or twin cities which have a combined population of at least 50,000."

The St. Louis metropolitan area in 1970 included the central city of St. Louis (population 400,000) and six counties which in the view of the Office of Management and Budget are socially and economically integrated with it — Franklin, Jefferson, St. Charles and St. Louis in Missouri, and Madison and St. Clair in Illinois.

Koepke said that although large populations are associated with metropolitan areas, an important feature of these areas is the economic and social interrelation.

"The economic — social interrelation of the St. Louis metropolitan area is something which is known by most and experienced by many in the area," Koepke said.

"Layouts at Ford and McDonnell-Douglas in Missouri have an impact not only on Bridgeton and St. Charles but also on Alton and Collinsville."

"The creation of new jobs in Edwardsville, in turn, has an impact on Florissant, Mo., and the City of St. Louis, as well as Granite City and Edwardsville itself."

Illinois people shop in St. Louis and at shopping centers in St. Louis County, while people in Missouri travel to Illinois communities for shopping and recreation," Koepke said, citing the Mississippi River Festival concert series, the Granary rock music hall and Calokla Downs horse race track as examples.

He said the results of being "metropolitan" and "bi-state" at the same time are considerable and are important in terms of economic development.

"There have been two responses by the people of Illinois to this bi-state metropolitan condition. One has been for people to relate to and work with the Illinois state legislature and the Illinois state administration," Koepke said.

Another response has included cooperation with such agencies as the Bi-State Development Agency and East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, he related.

Koepke said the St. Louis metropolitan area is not uncommon. "There are many other multi-state metropolitan areas in the United States," he said.

"In 1970, at least 30 of the 243 metropolitan areas in the United States, or twelve per cent, were multi-state."

"The St. Louis metropolitan area is the third largest multi-state metropolitan area in the United States," he added.

Madison, St. Clair is also seen as an important population segment to Illinois, since "it contains 4.8 per cent of the total population of Illinois."

Koepke added that in other metropolitan areas, the small population areas adjacent to the metropolitan area were not as important to their respective states, "but this area is the second largest urban center in Illinois."

"Of the 30 multi-state metropolitan areas in the U.S., four of them are similar to the St. Louis region," Koepke said. "During these times when the question of bi-state cooperation is discussed, people should look to the metropolitan areas of Philadelphia, Washington D.C., Cincinnati and Kansas City for ideas about possible forms of multi-state metropolitan cooperation."

SWEET MUSIC TO HER EARS. Open Tower Lake commons building

Opening ceremonies for the Tower Lake Apartments Commons Building at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be held Friday at 1 p.m., according to the Tower Lake Area Council.

The Commons Building, with a ski lodge atmosphere and open fireplaces, will serve as a meeting place for students living at Tower Lake.

The dedication ceremony will be held in front of the new building, which is located between apartment buildings 519 and 520. SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw will welcome guests during the dedication.

William H. Hall, director of student housing, and the Rev. James Shortal, Roman Catholic campus minister, also will participate in the opening ceremonies.

At 1:30 p.m., students from the single and married student apartment complexes will participate in a ribbon-cutting ceremony. Refreshments will be served, including a cake in the shape and scale of the Commons Building, baked by University Food Service.

While refreshments are being served, Tim Hamilton, SIUE student and a resident of Tower Lake, will entertain as a strolling minstrel.

Patrick Henderson, program graduate assistant at Tower Lake, says the Commons Building will serve as a multi-purpose facility. Located on the main floor of the building are a reception area, administrative offices, a 24-washer laundry and main lounge.

A University Food Service area with seating for 100 people is located on the lower level. Daily "boarding house" specials, including breakfast, lunch and dinner, along with deli products, limited grocery supplies and a soda fountain, will be included in the Food Service operation.

The lower level also contains a multi-purpose room and mailroom. The multi-purpose room will be used for Tower Lake Area Council movies and programs, and it can be scheduled for private parties or banquets.

Planning for the Tower Lake Commons Building began in 1970 and the foundation was laid in 1973.

Bill Hall, housing director, said that since student housing is in such short supply, construction on the building was delayed until the 248-apartment Tower Lake II housing complex was completed.

Hall said 248 families and 900 single students live at the Tower Lake complex.

"Y" Senior Citizens plan Easter party

The YMCA Senior Citizen Club finalized plans to host an Easter party on Friday and to honor members observing birthdays during April, at a meeting held last week at the "Y."

President Lucille Pierce opened the meeting with the Lord's prayer and pledge to the flag. After luncheon a business discussion was held and Mrs. Pierce expressed thanks to Daniel Partney, candidate for mayor and all the candidates on his ticket, for providing a bus to the senior citizens who attended the Senior Citizen Fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, last week.

Forty-five members attended the luncheon meeting.

Louis with the Five Church Association as an associate in ministry, serving particularly under a special project grant from Church Employed Women in the United Presbyterian Church for older adults and single parents. This ministry began in 1975.

The Rev. Zachary and her husband Jesse presently reside in south St. Louis, but will move to Madison to reside in the parsonage.

The formal service of installation is planned for 3 p.m. on Sunday, May 1, with the Rev. Don Barnes of Webster Groves, presiding as moderator of the Presbytery of Elijah Parish Lovejoy.

Preacher for the day will be Dr. David Rowland, pastor of Southminster Church, Crestwood, Mo. Members and area residents are invited to attend the services, according to Mrs. Bonatt.

Who says tax form is simpler?

By ED ARMSTRONG

"NOTE: If you are eligible to claim the earned income credit (see page 2), we will figure the credit for you if you write EIC on line 23c."

"Also write the first name of your child who qualifies for the credit in the space to the left of the line 23c entry space if not shown on line 4 or line 5b."

"If you have a credit for the elderly, we will figure that also. Just attach Schedules R & RP after you have checked the applicable box for filing status and age and filled in line 2 (a) of Schedule R, or lines 1, 2 and 5 of Schedule RP, whichever schedule is applicable. Then write CPE on line 19 of Form 1040."

What does all that mean? It means income tax time, that annual ritual of wrestling with rhetoric which seems as if it were written to confuse people and complicate life.

The above paragraph was taken from the instructions accompanying 1976 federal income tax forms. It was in a section in which the good old Internal Revenue Service offers to figure your tax "if your income on line 15c is $20,000 or less, was only from wages, salary and tips, dividends, interest, pensions and annuities, and you want to take the standard deduction."

I suggest respectfully — we all want to be respectful of the IRS, because we don't want that agency upset with us — that if the taxpayer could:

"1. Place your name and address label on your return, or fill in name, address and social security number. Also fill in occupation."

"2. Fill in lines 1 through 7."

"3. Check appropriate 'yes' or 'no' boxes on line 8."

"4. Fill in lines 9 through 15c, lines 19, 21, 23a, b, and e, if necessary, and check the box on line 4b. Also, attach Schedule B and Form 4683 (foreign accounts and trusts), if applicable."

If the taxpayer could do all this which is a prerequisite to having the IRS figure his taxes, he could darn well figure his own taxes.

Millions of Americans have tax services or accountants or lawyers fill out their tax forms and pay for that service rather than try to figure out what Congress and the IRS say every year they're making simpler but really aren't.

However, there are a few of us who are either too stubborn or too stupid to admit we ought to leave this tax return business to the experts. We insist on preparing our own.

There are a great many generous souls willing to help us with guides and booklets (for a buck or a few bucks apiece, of course) with such catchy titles as, "Cut Your Own Taxes." They supposedly reveal those dark secrets on how to legally keep Uncle Sam from getting his hand quite so deep into your pocket.

I've looked at a lot of them over the years and I've reluctantly concluded that unless you're a left handed mechanic going to school to learn the new system, working as a traveling salesman on the side, living apart from your spouse, supporting a child and an ill grandparent, and drawing sick pay for half the year, you're not going to cut your own taxes no matter how many booklets you read.

For most of us who are homeowners and are in debt up to our necks — or for the especially generous who give away a lot of money or property — a most important element of our tax return is Schedules A & B — Itemized Deductions and Dividend and Interest Income.

That's where we get to list all that interest we paid on the home mortgage, on all those credit card balances and charge accounts and bank loans.

If there's ever a time when the local and state tax burden looks good to us, it's when we fill out that Schedule A, because real estate, state and local income, state gasoline and general sales taxes are all deductible from gross income for federal income tax purposes.

If we're home owners, it's a good bet that we don't have much money in the bank, so we don't have any significant

Car, van in headon collision

Robert J. Bitter, 37, of St. Louis, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for pain and bruises to the left eye, right arm, head and neck at 7:50 a.m. Wednesday and was transferred to St. Anthony's Hospital in St. Louis where he was listed today in satisfactory condition.

Bitter was the driver of an auto that collided headon with a van driven by Mark L. Mansfield, 22, of 3140 Rodger Ave., at 7:25 a.m. Wednesday on Route 203 two-tenths of a mile north of Bend Road.

Mansfield was admitted to the hospital.

Mark Duhr, 22, of 3140 Rodger Ave., a passenger in the Mansfield van, was admitted for observation with pain and bruises to the left leg, back and arms.

Authorities said Mansfield reported he was headed south when traffic ahead of him was stopped. He said he tried to stop but his brakes failed and he then crossed a double yellow line into the northbound lane, striking the Bitter auto.

CAR, VAN COLLIDE. Three persons were injured when the auto at left, driven by Robert J. Bitter of St. Louis, collided with the van at right driven by Mark L. Mansfield of Granite City at 7:25 a.m.

Wednesday on Route 203, two-tenths of a mile north of Bend Road. Also injured was Mark Duhr, a passenger in the van. Illinois State Trooper K. D. Willtrout, at left, investigates the accident.

CRASHES INTO STORE. Car of Mrs. Charlotte Faler, 1959 Poplar St., rests amid wreckage of the front window of Schermer's Supermarket, 12th Street and Madison Ave., after it crashed into the window at 11:56 a.m. Wednesday. The car struck the store building after colliding with another car in the intersection. Mrs. Faler was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Frank Hill, a store employee, sustained minor injuries and was treated at the hospital and released.

Arrest in purse snatching case

Patricia Pool, 2526 Propes Ave., suffered minor injuries during a robbery in which her purse was stolen in the K-Mart parking lot on Nameoki Road at 8:35 p.m. Wednesday. A robbery charge is being prepared against a 17-year-old Granite City youth who is in custody.

The victim said she was leaving the store when a young man approached her from behind and grabbed her purse. She resisted until the shoulder strap on the purse broke and the youth fled with the purse and its contents.

A witness chased the youth until the youth tried to hide under a parked car in front of the former Grant's building. Police arrived and arrested the 17-year-old in that lot.

The victim's purse was recovered in the youth's possession and was returned to the victim.

OFFICE DESTROYED

The mobile home office of the Whitten Trucking Co., 2200 West Chain of Rocks Road, was destroyed by fire at 3:11 p.m. Tuesday. Mitchell firemen responded to the call and were at the scene about one hour. The fire is believed to have been caused by a short in the wiring on the west side of the trailer.

Car crashes into market

Mrs. Charlotte Faler, 34, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:10 p.m. Wednesday for observation after the car she was driving crashed into the front of Schermer's Supermarket, 12th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

Frank Hill, 22, of 1229 Logan St., Madison, a store employee was knocked off a ladder, after the auto struck an ice machine which struck the ladder. Hill was treated for a pain to the left hip and released.

The accident occurred after the Faler car had collided with one driven by Harvey McDonald, 26, of 505 Fourth St., Venice.

Mrs. Faler was issued a traffic citation charging failure to yield the right-of-way. She is scheduled to appear in court at 9 a.m. Wednesday, April 13.

Damage to the store was estimated by Herman Schermer to be in excess of $2,000. Business returned to normal at the store as soon as the glass was cleaned up, Schermer reported.

One checker, Mrs. Carolyn Williams, narrowly escaped injury as she was working at the checkout lane when the car struck. Mrs. Williams, according to Schermer, looked up just in time to jump out of the way of the ice machine being pushed by the auto.

Steel capacity use rising but still below last year's

The nation's steel industry utilized 72.1 per cent of its raw steelmaking capacity in February, up from 66.8 per cent in January, but below the average rate (69.9 per cent) at which the industry operated in 1976.

Spotty demand, fuel shortages, weather-related disruptions of operations and imports have been factors in the low level of production at the beginning of this year, officials say.

Imported steel in January reached 1,121,267 tons, up 11.4 per cent from 1,006,896 tons in the same month last year.

Domestic raw steel production totaled 8,838,836 tons in February.

The January-February total of 17,948,152 tons of raw steel produced in this country is 9.1 per cent below the 19,741,248 tons produced in the same period last year.

The basic oxygen process accounted for 11,236,926 tons of total steel output in the first two months of this year. Electric and open hearth furnaces accounted for 3,979,833 and 2,731,393 tons, respectively. January-February pig iron production was 11,812,599 tons.

Bus fare among lowest in nation

The 25-cent basic transit fare charged by the Bi-State Development Agency remains one of the lowest in the country, according to survey results released Monday by Simpson & Curtin, transportation engineers. The Simpson & Curtin firm has been retained by Bi-State to conduct a comprehensive study of the agency's transit fare and zone structure, with completion expected late this year.

Only one major city — Atlanta — charges less than Bi-State, maintaining a 15-cent basic fare.

Other cities whose base transit charge is 25 cents include Boston, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Fort Lauderdale, Honolulu, Jacksonville, Oakland, San Antonio and San Francisco.

The survey results identify the top one-way fare nationally as 50 cents, a charge in effect at all times in Chicago, Indianapolis, Memphis, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh and Rochester, N. Y., and during peak hours in certain other cities.

Seventeen states have reported fare increases during the past two years. Bi-State's 25-cent fare has been in effect since November 1973, when passage of legislation by the Missouri and Illinois state legislatures provided financial assistance to the system and permitted a reduction from the former 45-cent basic charge.

Commerce Commission reform planned, Venice told

A package of legislative bills is about to be introduced in the Illinois House of Representatives aimed at reforming the Illinois Commerce Commission, the Venice City Council was told at its Tuesday night meeting.

The council wrote members of the legislature complaining about a proposed Union Electric rate increase.

In a letter to the council, State Representative Jim McPike of Alton (D-96th district) wrote, "I will give your letter of March 21 with enclosures to a legislative colleague who serves on the Public Utilities Committee in the House.

"He is about to introduce a package of bills aimed at reforming the Illinois Commerce Commission. It seems that this nearly autonomous body operates in near secrecy. We are trying to change that, and your letters will prove helpful."

The council also received a reply from State Rep. Joe E. Lucio of Edwardsville (D-96th) in which Lucio wrote, "I will do what I can to prevent any increase in Union Electric's rate."

Mayor William Ebersold suggested, "I think we should write our legislators and thank them for looking out for our interests. It's nice to know they pay attention to you when you write."

Tom Fields, manager of the McKinley Toll Bridge, reported that bids for the repair work on the approach of the bridge will be opened at 10 a.m. Monday in the bridge office.

The council called a special meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 5, to meet with the bridge engineers and award the contract.

The cost of the repair work is expected to reach nearly

Fields reported that the bridge will be open during the repair, but reduced to two lanes.

"Our traffic seems to be holding up fine even at two lanes," Fields said. "The traffic report shows a daily average of 7,128 crossings in February. This is an increase of 482 vehicles for the same month last year."

In other action, the council approved a business license for L.C. Stuenkel to operate a tavern at 400A Broadway; approved a business license for Bill Canady to operate a garage at 1023

Broadway, and approved a $50,000 building permit for renovation of the Venice-Madison Legion Post 307 building.

The police report for February showed $26 received in fines, and a total of 29 arrests made during the month.

Donald Larkin spoke to the council, asking for help in getting his baseball team into a regular little league program where it could play other cities, rather than just children from Venice. He was referred to the park district and its recreation director.

7th grader wins Coolidge 'bee'

Kristy Whitaker, a seventh grade pupil, spelt the word "carriage" correctly and then "cafeteria" to take top honors in the annual spelling bee held Monday at Coolidge Junior High School.

The 12-year-old champion will represent Coolidge JHS in a regional spelling contest at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 30, in Founders Hall on the ninth floor at Stix, Baer and Fuller's downtown St. Louis store.

Kristy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whitaker, 3272 Kilmer Drive.

Runnerup in the Coolidge spelling bee was Jill Donley, 13, an eighth grade student. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Donley, 2149 Myrtle Ave.

Kristy and Jill were presented trophies by Richard Yates, Coolidge assistant principal, who supervised the contest. Both girls are students of Mrs. Charlotte Griffith, English teacher.

The contest emcee was Richard Miller, boy's counselor. Mrs. Donna Clow, English Department head, served as judge.

Thirty students participated in the 1977 spelling bee. The other contestants were: Dynette Shrader, Tony Zarlingo, Paul Turner, Lisa Randall, Randy Long, Jill Lockhart, Vicki Theabeau, Marti Caudron, Desiree Gargac, Sandra Gray, Armand Kachigan, Joy Williams, Kathy Lorden, Ruth Hay, Christy Nilonowicz, Ellen Range, Rhonda Jackson, Terry Camren, Rich Hering, Mike Jackson, Lori King, Julia Downing, Scott Vickers, John Zgonina, Stephanie Shank, Karen Toussaint, Tom Tracy and Beeki Price.

Teachers, parents, students and friends are invited to attend the regional contest on April 30, Yates said.

Preceptor Beta Gamma elects

Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, elected officers for the ensuing year at a meeting hosted by the retiring president, Mrs. Lora Mae Lombardi in her home, 2329 Zippel Ave.

Those to serve for 1977-78 chapter year include Pat Tsigalaroff, president; Imogene Forrest, vice president; Mrs. Lombardi, corresponding secretary; Ruth Zgonina, recording secretary; May Ebling, treasurer; Arlene Haldemann, extension officer and Dolores Dorch, and Jane Laule, sorority City Council alternates.

Mrs. Tolliver reported on the workshop held for sorority chapter officers held during the weekend at St. John United Church of Christ.

The cultural program on "Writing" was given by Betty Ebling and Mrs. Tolliver, followed by a discussion on changes in writing styles and subject matter in the last decade.

Others present were Dolores Byrnes, Martha Jean Dyer, Dolores Dorch, Jean Druhe, May Ebling, Imogene Forrest, Arlene Haldemann, Jane Laule, Norma Rains, Ruth Stoyanoff and Pat Tsigalaroff.

Circle hears

Mrs. Campbell

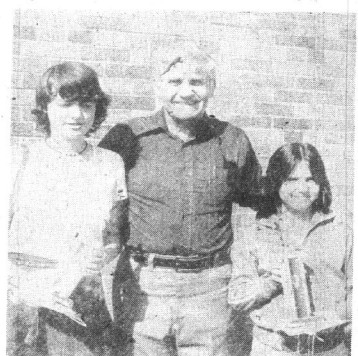

Mrs. Pearl Campbell gave the devotional lesson Wednesday afternoon at the monthly meeting of Honor Circle of Niedrighaus United Methodist Church.

She selected "Loving Words of Jesus" as her topic and included two poems in her presentation, "Beyond Today" by Norman Clayton and "My Guide." She also offered the closing prayer.

Members, Mesdames Eva Evans, Beulah Fox, Augusta Pender and Winifred Reimers, met at the church in the morning for a quilting session.

Mrs. Reimers served a dessert course at noon followed by the business session. Mrs. Pender, vice-chairman, presided and announced there were 35 sick calls made during the month.

Arrest in robbery attempt in taxicab

William E. Hargrove, 18, of 1832 Ferguson Ave., was charged Monday with attempted robbery and his bond was set by Associate Judge A. A. Matosian at $15,000.

Hargrove was arrested earlier Monday at a home in the 2900 block of Oregon St., and was held for questioning by detectives investigating the attempted robbery of a taxicab driver Monday morning.

The driver, Joseph Jones, alleged a passenger in his taxicab grabbed him around the neck, put something hard to his head and demanded money.

Jones said he pushed the cab's accelerator down, causing the cab to move forward rapidly, and said the cab was going to hit a house. When Jones applied the brakes, the would-be robber jumped out of the cab and fled on foot.

Jones recalled the robber and a juvenile being in the cab a few hours earlier and leaving them at a home in the 2900 block of Oregon Street, so he and police went to that house where the two answered a knock at the door and were taken into custody.

The juvenile has been released without charges being filed and Hargrove was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville in lieu of bond.

Steelers win 9-4 on Oilers' diamond

Six Wood River misuses coupled with solid Steeler hitting and pitching performances led to the downfall of the Oilers Tuesday as GCHS North improved its diamond record to three wins and a loss, winning 9-4 at Wood River.

North scored four times in the second inning without getting a hit, adding one in the third, two in the sixth and two in the seventh frame.

Wood River garnered runs in the first, third, fifth and seventh.

Led at the plate by junior Terry Page, who has hit safely in his last 10 times at bat, the Steelers collected nine hits while the Oilers hit safely 11 times.

Page got on base five times in the game, said Coach Robert Stegemeier. He was credited with three runs batted in and scored twice himself.

Kevin Hayes went three for five at the plate. Collecting one hit each were Doug Rains, Jeff Hamilton, Bob Batey and Rick Willard.

Sophomore Russ Chappell went the distance for North, keeping the ball down and enabling Steeler infielders to retire 14 hitters on grounders.

North's initial scoring resulted when Jodi Falloni, Bob Batey, Page and Bruce Wright all drew walks and Chappell, Rains and Hayes reached base on errors.

Chappell walked in the third, stole second and was singled in by Page.

Page walked in the sixth and was forced out at second on a grounder by Rains. Hayes and Hamilton hit safely and a fielder's choice enabled a Steeler to cross the plate.

Willard singled in the seventh and scored on a triple by Page, who was brought home by Hayes' single.

Flyers top Trojans

An opening-inning seven-run scoring effort by the East St. Louis Flyers Tuesday proved insurmountable for Coach William Campbell's Trojan nine as Madison High School bowed 11-1 to the hosts.

The game was called after five innings due to the 10-run rule which gives the win to a team ahead by 10 or more runs at that point.

East St. Louis collected nine hits and scored once in the third and fifth.

"Flyer pitcher Dave Howlett is a good southpaw," said Campbell, "who delivers the ball very hard."

The Flyers also scored twice in the second and once in the third and fifth.

Madison pushed across a run in the fifth when Tom Jones singled, Ray Peoples walked and Tom Leonard and Les Whitecotton singled.

Dale Woodson provided a double and triple for the Trojans.

Softball Cougars to begin campaign

"You all look like a bunch of turtles," taunts head softball coach Cindy Jones as her Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville softball squad prepares for its season opener. The women Cougars face a busy schedule this spring, hosting two invitational tournaments, the first of which begins this weekend — the first Gateway Invitational.

SIUE will play host to St. Louis University, the University of Missouri at St. Louis, Meramec Community College and Western Illinois University in the two-day, round-robin tournament.

The Cougars open up the Gateway Invitational Friday afternoon as they meet the Billikens of St. Louis University at noon on the Bluff Road softball field. At 2 that same afternoon, the women of SIUE battle UMSL.

On Saturday, the Cougars tangle with the WIU Leathernecks at noon and then face Meramec at 2 p.m.

Trojans bow in track meet

Madison High School stayed close to Cahokia Tuesday afternoon, but the host Comanches pulled away in field events to win 91-48 in track and field competition. The meet was originally set for Monday, but heavy rains forced postponement.

"We were behind 47-39 entering the field events," recalls Trojan Coach Charles Steptoe, "and they racked up 44 points to runaway with the meet."

Trojan pointmakers included: 440 relay—Duane Bochantin, Sylvester Collins, James Heard, Marcus White 1st (46.5 seconds); two mile run—David Patterson 2nd; 120 high hurdles—Keith Edwards 2nd; 100 dash—White 2nd, Heard 3rd; 880 run—Robert Booker 3rd; 440 run—White 1st (55.6), Mike Bartley 2nd.

330 low hurdles—Collins 3rd; mile run—Cecil Cross 2nd, 220 dash—White 1st (23.30 mile relay—Bochantin, Darrell Hampton, Bartley, Davenport lost (3:45.3); discus—Jeff Thompson 2nd; long jump—Alfred Crawford 2nd; triple jump—Crawford 2nd.

11-0 Warrior win, one-hitter by Evans

Warrior hurler Paul Evans pitched a one-hitter yesterday on the GCHS South diamond as Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion's nine blanked Belleville West 11-0 in five innings.

The game was called after the fifth frame due to a 10-run lead rule.

Evans fanned nine opposing batters, walked three and yielded a hit to the Maroons in the fourth inning. South collected 10 hits and fielded flawlessly. Belleville committed two errors.

Tom Henrich and Randy Smith opened the game by drawing walks, and Keith Champion reached base on a fielder's choice. Eldon Warfield stepped into the batter's box and slammed a three-run homer 340 feet over the left field fence.

Warrior bats went to work again in the fourth frame with Mike Clark, hitting safely and stealing second. Larry Heagey walked and Steve Sedabres reached base on an error which allowed Clark to score.

After a two-run double by Henrich, Smith doubled and Champion singled.

Mark DeGonia, pinch-running for John Lakin who had doubled in the fifth, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Joe Parente. Sedabres then hit a two-run homer.

Steelerettes capture triangular track meet

The Steelerettes of GCHS North won 14 events yesterday in winning a triangular track and field meet at home with 95 points.

Highland High was second with 57 marks, and St. Paul of Highland third with 12.

North High pointmakers included:

Shot put — Tina Taylor 1st (33-1/4); long jump — Dawn Ford 1st (15-5/8); 440 relay — Dawn Ford, Clara Bates, Laura Pineshriber, Rhonda Schillinger 1st (56 seconds); two-mile run — Janet Becherer 1st (14:25.4); 880 medley — Laura Pineshriber, Dawn Ford, Clara Bates, Stephanie Winfield 1st (2:11).

80-yard hurdles — Kay Marcum 1st (13.6); 100 dash — Clara Bates 1st (12.0); 880 run — Pam Hall 1st (2:56.9); 880 relay — Pat Smith, Debbie Morris, Tammy Hanfelder, Rhonda Schillinger 1st (2:08); 440-yard dash — Stephanie Winfield 1st (1:12.7); 110 hurdles — Kay Marcum 1st (18.8); mile run — Lisa Henderson 1st (6:44.1); 220 dash — Rhonda Schillinger 1st (31.5); and mile relay — Alisha Stone, Barb Miller, Tammy Hanfelder, Marcie Bunch 1st (5:15.4).

Discus — Connie Morrison 2nd; long jump — Rhonda Schillinger 2nd; 100 dash — Dawn Ford 2nd; and 440 dash — Marcie Bunch 2nd.

North nine victor

Was the final score 9-4 or 12-4? "Who cares?" asks Steeler mentor Robert Stegemeier. "Either way, we won."

The GCHS North coach said he is counting three runs tallied by his club in the top of the seventh inning at Triad (St. Jacob-Troy-Marine) yesterday before officials called the contest due to darkness.

Driving in three runs each were Terry Page and Doug Rains.

Jim Goodyear got the win after relieving Rains, who had pitched four innings.

Triad tallied three runs in the fourth and added one in the fifth inning, finishing with seven hits and erring three times.

North had 12 hits and no errors, including three hits each by Page and Rains.

Bruce Wright singled in the second inning, stole second and advanced as Rains bunted safely. Bob Batey hit a sacrifice fly.

Three Steelers crossed the plate in the fourth when Jeff Hamilton reached on an error, and Wright, Rains and Batey singled.

In the fifth, Page walked, advanced on a sacrifice by Jodi Falloni and scored on an error by the second baseman. Walks to Hamilton and Wright were followed by a runner scoring on a groundout.

Leading 6-4, the Steelers widened their margin in the sixth when Rick Willard walked, Page doubled, Falloni singled and Goodyear doubled.

Page, who has reached base safely in 15 straight trips to the plate, hit a three-run double in the seventh after a double by Rains and walks to Batey and Mike Simpson.

Team seeking coach

Madison County Girls' Soccer Association President Bob York has announced a coach is needed for a 14-girl team, a 11-12 age group, desiring to participate in the association's 1977 spring soccer season. Interested persons may contact York at 877-1142 or Wes Stille, association vice-president, at 877-8857.

DISCUS COMPETITOR. Madison High School's track and field team depends partially on Trojan Jeff Thompson to earn points in discus and shot put events. He threw the discus 111 feet, eight inches, in dual competition at Dupo this season.

Mulach chalks YMCA swimming club concludes its season

Greg Mulach, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mulach, 58 Terrace Lane, goalie for the Clayton bantam gold hockey team, helped win the Winterland invitational tournament over the weekend with two shutout games.

The championship game this week went 2-0 against Kansas City and earlier his team won 6-0 over Aurora.

Mulach has had 15 shutouts this season. His team finished with a record of 45-7-7.

He is a freshman at Granite City High School South.

Baseball players needed for team

The Granite City Park District is seeking boys, eight, to join out an Atom League baseball team roster for competition this summer.

A park district spokesman explains that "the team has a manager and sponsor, but it has only five players signed."

"Ten more boys are needed to complete the team."

Interested youths may call the park office at 877-3059 for further information.

Soccer camp to have 2 sessions

Five years ago, the founders of Burt Ranch Soccer Camp sought to design a camp that would offer intensive training from an experienced staff. Offered to boys aged 8-16, the camp regarded as reaching those goals during each summer session.

Over 1,000 students have attended the camp since its inception, learning the game's fundamentals from a staff headed by Pat McBride, a 10-year professional player and Bob Brette, athletic director of the Affton School District.

This summer, Burt Ranch Soccer Camp will offer two one-week sessions, July 10-16 and July 17-23. Located on a 214-acre site near DeSoto, Mo., 35 miles southwest of here, the camp features widely praised training facilities and recreational areas.

A typical day includes morning and afternoon sessions of individual and group drills, capped by game-type scrimmages in the evening. There is also time to enjoy the camp's Olympic-size swimming pool. A lake, a stream and wooded hillsides offer opportunities for supervised hiking.

Boys stay at the camp in wooden dormitories and eat in a ranch-style cafeteria. This summer's staff will include Kevin Kelley, head soccer coach at Blackburn College, Carlinville, and Rick Benben, assistant soccer coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, as well as McBride, a pro midfielder with the St. Louis Stars and head coach of the national junior college soccer champions, the Marmec Warriors.

Assisting the staff will be counselors drawn from the collegiate playing ranks at Quincy College, St. Louis University, SIUE and Meramec.

Tuition for each one-week session is $115 and includes room, board, insurance and tee shirt, a spokesman at 731 Davemar, St. Louis, 63123 (314)-631-7114 said.

Taking top honors in events were: Denise Darnell, 50 freestyle and butterfly; Denise Darnell, Lori Bridick, Leslie Allen and Elizabeth Wilson, freestyle relay; Mary Brandt, Mary Brandt, Susie Ponce and Carole Busch, medley relay; Susie Ponce 50 freestyle.

Competing also were Cindy Bridick Laura Jenness, Angela Grupas, Jerry Birtcher, Don McAlister, Tom Buente, Mike McCormick and Greg Barnett, Mary Grennell. YMCA executive director, notes that all members of the club and their families are being invited to attend a special banquet to be held Wednesday, April 27, at the "Y" starting at 6 p.m. Grennell and Don Rains, "Y" physical director, will serve as speakers and entertainment will be provided by Indian dancers.

Golf Cougars averaging 76

Coach Harry Gallatin of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville golf team is happy with the results of his players' efforts over the spring break when the Cougar golfers completed the first of eight tournaments during a trip to Florida.

Results of the 25-team University of Miami invitational tourney show that 10 teams compiled an average score of 75 for four men in the 72-hole competition. Gallatin's Cougars finished 16th with a total of 1,219 strokes for an average of 76.1 per 18 holes.

Leading the SIUE golfers were a pair of freshmen, Les Agne and Guy Phillips. They posted 304-stroke totals for the 72 holes.

This Saturday, the Cougar golf team will invade Macomb to take on the Leathernecks of Western Illinois University.

Other SIUE players' totals at the U of Miami tourney include: Kevin McConnell, 310; Tim Gehrig, 310; Brooks Brestal, 312; and Bill Delaney, 341.

South netmen win opener

GCHS South's tennis squad opened its 1977 season Tuesday on a winning note at home, defeating O'Fallon 4-1 when two doubles matches were called off due to darkness.

Mike Papes opened the singles competition, winning 6-4, 6-2. Tom Baker lost 7-5, 4-1, 6-4. Andy Hall won 7-5, 6-4 and Ron Backs won 6-1, 3-6, 6-4.

Mark Krinski and Jeff Hagopian teamed in doubles to win 6-3, 6-2.

Papes and Jim Eftimoff were trailing 5-6, 2-4 when darkness prevented further play, and the duo of Boker-Backs was ahead 7-6 when darkness set in.

Venice town budgets ok'd

A new Venice Township budget of $225,721 and an appropriation bill projecting expenses of $33,000 in the township Highway Department were approved during a public hearing held in the township offices, Fifth Street and Madison Avenue, Tuesday night. The hearing, attended by several township residents, resulted in no changes to the budget bills previously posted for public inspection. The new town budget projects expenses of $111,221, while the general assistance appropriation schedules expenses of $44,550. A total of $29,950 is budgeted for municipal retirement payments. These combined budgets are $15,129 higher than the total budgets of $210,592 a year ago. All budgets will be presented for Town Board action at the annual town meeting April 12 in the Venice City Hall, according to Christ Paschoff, township supervisor. Paschoff said the highway budget will be considered at 1:45 p.m. on that date, with consideration of the township and general assistance budgets scheduled at 2 p.m.

Major expenditures in the town budget total $109,321 in administration costs, which include $68,884 in salaries. Among these are $5,040 salary for the supervisor, up from $4,680; $6,000 salary for the town clerk, up from $4,680; $6,024 salary for the assessor, up from $2,000; $5,000 salary for the town collector, unchanged; $6,000 salary for the highway commissioner, up from $4,200; $6,000 for town board members, up from $5,000.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., March 31, 1977 Page 16

Salary of $7,000 for the supervisor of general assistance, unchanged; salary of $1,000 for the road district treasurer, up from $600; salary of $200 for the health officer, unchanged; and $24,000 for additional personnel. Other town fund items include $15,000 for hospitalization insurance for employees, $3,200 for utilities, $3,200 for travel expenses, $3,800 for legal services, $1,000 for auditing, $4,000 for official bonding, $3,000 for construction expenses, $1,000 for office supplies and postage and $2,000 for interest on tax anticipation warrants.

Election costs are projected at $900, and an additional $1,000 is budgeted for contingencies. The new general assistance budget of $84,500 appropriates $14,900 in salaries for persons other than elected officials, unchanged from last year, $11,000 for medical care, also the same as last year, and $2,500 for utility payments for clients, unchanged from last year. A fund of $4,500 is budgeted for rental payments, and $36,000 is appropriated for food payments for clients. Other items include $9,000 for medical care in private hospitals and $1,500 for medical care in convalescent homes. Another $10,600 is budgeted for institutional care and $1,000 is budgeted for contingencies. A separate budget item is set up for Illinois Municipal Retirement payments for employees. The $29,950 budgeted for this item is up slightly from last year's $28,500.

The road district budget of $23,000 provides $4,500 for machinery rental, $10,000 for material and $800 in social security payments for a total of $15,300 for road maintenance. Cost of oiling roads is budgeted at $11,295, including $3,000 for labor salaries, $7,000 for oil, $1,295 for operation of machinery and $95 for social security payments. Administration costs total $4,435.

drainage projects from being initiated.

He also did not spend money appropriated for drainage projects which he did not feel he had the authority to do, since they did not seem to directly affect his roads, Bell said.

The third factor was that the funds given by the board for drainage projects were not included in the highway department's budgets and he did not feel he could legally spend in excess of the amounts budgeted, Bell explained.

The last factor Bell mentioned was cited by Whitwell as the reason for inflating the highway department's budget for drainage, even though the budget exceeds the anticipated tax revenues into the general road and bridge fund.

He said if the budget for drainage is increased this fiscal year, appropriations from the town fund, board of health or federal revenue sharing can be entered into the highway funds as "income other than from taxes" and can be spent from the highway budget without amending the budget.

Bell continued to contend he has no authority to do drainage work other than to protect roads, but Whitwell asked the town board's attorney, H. Carl Runge Jr., what kinds of work the township legally can do.

Runge said the township could enter into any kind of "matching fund" agreement with the Metro-East Sanitary District for drainage projects, can legally do drainage work affecting streets, or can contract with the highway department or an outside contractor for drainage improvements when the town board of health has declared a health hazard exists.

He commented that contracting with an outside firm to alleviate health hazards is normally very expensive, but the board may, in some instances, contract with the highway department to do the work with its equipment, if the highway commissioner agrees to the contract.

He stressed the township has no drainage authorities other than those he mentioned and is prohibited by law from doing any other drainage work, since taxes for drainage are paid to the Metro-East Sanitary District.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a township resident and candidate for the town board, suggested the board request the Metro-East Sanitary District Board to conduct a meeting in the near future in Madison County and that a delegation of township officials and residents attend to urge drainage improvements in Nameoki Township.

Trustee Norman Heasler suggested such a move could produce some results, but he suggested the residents wait until after the April 5 election and the seating of township officials.

"After the new board has been seated, get the people together, get a plan and then go to the levee district," Heasler suggested.

Bell said an organized plan is needed for drainage improvements in the township since most of the drainage work his department is doing now is simply removing water from one area and "pushing it onto someone else's property."

Mrs. Hawkins said the ultimate answer would be for the new Metro-East Sanitary District to finish obtaining easements for a drainage ditch from the Doherty Slough, south through Parkview Estates and on south to Horseshoe Lake.

She noted a lawsuit for such easements was filed years ago by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, forerunner of the Metro-East Sanitary District and that suit still is pending in Madison County Circuit Court.

Runge said he has checked on the status of that suit and said some officials are contending the old suit, filed in the name of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, has no bearing on the new sanitary district.

The new district may have to file a new suit against those who are refusing to grant easements for such a ditch, he said.

After the public hearing on the highway budgets concluded, the town board met in regular session to act on the budget.

The trustees voted unanimously to transfer $1,200, now paid from highway funds to the town fund at $100 per month for rental of the township-owned highway department garage, from rental to drainage. The board members agreed the rent payments are not needed.

The motion to add $30,000 more to the drainage category so funds from other sources can be spent also was passed unanimously.

The changes increased the amount appropriated for drainage in the general road and bridge fund from $15,000 to $45,000 while the appropriation for administration declined from $35,950 to $34,750.

The modifications increased the road and bridge budget from $109,250 to $139,250, or $30,000 higher than the last fiscal year budget of $108,500.

The board approved the other highway budgets as they were posted without any changes. Approved was a $127,000 budget for the permanent hard road fund, up $17,000 from the previous year; $1,900 in a new budget for the construction or repair of bridges with joint funding by the county, and $12,000 for municipal retirement, up $2,000 from last year.

The newly approved budgets for the fiscal year which began March 1 total $280,150, or $51,650 higher than last year's budgets totaling $228,500.

Fewer crimes on buses

Special investigative efforts by the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department and officers in cooperation with the State Development Agency have resulted in a significant decrease in criminal activity aboard buses in the past two years, Bi-State Executive Director Robert J. Baer believes.

"Reports about two recent incidents on Bi-State buses have given the public the impression that violence is increasing on our buses, when the facts show exactly the reverse," Baer said.

He added that while the dramatic increase in bus ridership in recent years has caused a rise in the total number of minor incidents, such as mechanical problems and fare misunderstandings, acts of violence have dropped.

For example, assaults on drivers or passengers fell from 75 in 1975 to 42 in 1976. So far this year, only five such incidents have been reported," said Baer.

"While we'd prefer that the number be zero, we believe it is a significant and impressive drop, especially when you consider that we run 7,000 trips each day and carry more than 68 million passengers annually in the St. Louis metropolitan area."

Baer said that since 1975, Bi-State has been providing free weekly passes to police personnel who ride buses at random on the lookout for criminal activity of all kinds.

In areas where a specific problem has occurred, the district station is notified and the police have followed through, concentrating their efforts in those neighborhoods," Baer said.

He has high praise for the job done by police and said that their meticulous work has resulted in the arrest and conviction of a number of offenders.

"Police cooperation throughout the metropolitan area couldn't be better," he commented.

Baer explained that Bi-State has a detailed procedure for reporting unlawful or disruptive activity on buses.

All drivers are instructed to relay information to their radio dispatcher immediately upon observing any incident. Upon return, police have instituted responsive special investigations procedures.

"I want to emphasize to the public that our drivers do not have law enforcement powers and should not be expected to act as policemen on board their vehicles," Baer said.

"Since the driver can't always be aware of what is happening on board his bus, it would be helpful if bus passengers cooperate by reporting incidents that they may observe, including the date, time of day, route and direction of travel as well as the bus number."

"Such precise information can assist us and the police in solving these problems."

BURGLARY ON CAYUGA

Items valued at a total of about $380 were stolen during a burglary at the home of Ronald Hahnke, 2701 Cayuga St., between 8:30 a.m. and 2:50 p.m. Tuesday. The house was ransacked. A lock and chain were broken from the front door to gain entry. Stolen was a radio, a $300 combination radio and stereo with two speakers, jewelry and cufflinks, hand tools and two cameras.

Final absentee voting Monday

Officials of Granite City and the four townships of the Quad-City area were finalizing arrangements today for next week's Tuesday elections, including plans for distribution of ballots to precinct polling places during the weekend and the last-minute mailing of applications for absentee ballots.

Applications for absentee ballots by mail may be made through tomorrow with the city clerk's office in Granite City for the municipal and Granite City township election, and with the town clerks of Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships, but there appeared some doubt that such ballots could be returned in time to be counted in the election results.

Voters who plan to be out of the city on Tuesday will be permitted to ballot in person as absentee voters by appearing at the clerks' offices of their respective voting locations until the end of office hours on Monday.

Robert Stevens, Granite City clerk, noted that while the law permits absentee voters to request applications by mail through Friday, March 31, the applications then must be mailed to the applicant. Because of the Saturday and Sunday weekend, however, ballots would not reach the voters until Monday, and if they were mailed back it is unlikely they would be received by Tuesday, he said.

Stevens said that an unusually large number of absentee voter applications already has been received by his office. He said he believes this is due to two factors, the high interest in the Granite City municipal, and township campaigns and the fact that the public schools will dismiss classes Friday for a week-long Easter Holiday.

Because of the school vacation, many persons planned to leave the city and therefore have increased the normal number of requests for absentee ballots.

Stevens said that as of noon yesterday, his office had received 189 applications for absentee ballots. "This is much higher than usual. Normally we would get about 75 applications for absentee ballots in a city election," Stevens said.

Granite City voters will ballot Tuesday in 33 precincts in the city and township elections here. Township candidates will be listed on the same ballots as the city candidates since the boundaries of the city and township are coextensive and the same polling places will be used for balloting in both elections.

In Nameoki township voters will cast ballots in 11 precincts, with the same number in the Venice township election. Chouteau township will have seven polling precincts.

In Venice, voters also will elect three members of the five-man Venice Park board. Two will be elected to regular six-year terms and the other to a four-year unexpired term. Only three candidates have filed. They will be elected without opposition. Votes will be cast in only one precinct polling place, in the park recreation building, 365 Broadway.

Gray unopposed as Venice town clerk

Marion "Ed" Gray is a candidate for Venice Township town clerk. He is unopposed in the April 5 election, and serves as the clerk now by appointment.

"I live at 1227 Robin St., Venice, with my wife, Marie, and three children, Jeffrey, Joey and Kenny," he reports. "I have lived in Venice for 27 years and attended Venice Grade and High School. I also attended Rankin - Trade School."

Gray adds, "I served two years in the United States Army. I was appointed township clerk two years ago to fill the unexpired term of Thomas W. Foley, who retired."

"I am a member of St. Mark's Church, the Venice Fire Department, Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, Venice City Organization, Venice Social Club, St. Mark's Holy Name Society and Madison County Firemen's Organization, and a member of the Illinois Township Officials group."

MARION ED GRAY

"I feel that our ticket is a good ticket. I will work hard and will do my best for the interest of the people of Venice Township."

Pontoon Beach limits taverns

The Pontoon Beach Village Board has voted to decrease the allowable number of liquor licenses in the village to the number of licenses currently active, thus making board action necessary before any new licenses can be issued.

The action reduced the number of Class A licenses from eight to six and left the number of club licenses at one. Village Board President Floyd David Moss, who also is the village's liquor license control commissioner, will not be able to issue any new licenses unless the board votes to increase the maximum number allowed. Moss was unable to attend the meeting.

In other business, the board awarded the contract for the annual audit of the village books to Tragger & Associates, Belleville, the lowest of two bidders for the work.

David Schaeffer, district manager for Upper Midwest Employees Insurance Co., presented the board with a proposal for group insurance for village employees, which the board took under study.

It was agreed to advertise for bids for a used mowing tractor and $100 was authorized for the police department to purchase a Polaroid camera.

The police chief and village clerk were authorized to meet with officials of the Madison County Manpower office to obtain specific information on the possibility of the village making use of the environmental task force being organized.

William Brown dies at 88

William Edward Brown, 88, formerly of 2222 Bryan Ave., Ill. for eight months, died at 4:10 a.m. Wednesday at the Hillboro (Ill.) Nursing Home where he had resided for one month.

A native of Graniteville, Mo., he lived in Granite City for 64 years.

Mr. Brown was employed as a truck driver for General Steel Industries prior to his retirement.

His wife, Mrs. Pearl (Jones) Brown, died in 1953, a son, Edward Brown, died in 1950 and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Carlton, died in 1952.

Survivors include four sisters, Mrs. Pearl Pinkley of Eldorado, Ill., Mrs. Idelle McLeod, Dearborn, Mich., Mrs. Bertha Seibert of St. Louis and Mrs. Nellie Schroeder of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and two grandchildren reared by Mr. Brown and his late wife, Mrs. Shirley Kimbro of Coffeen, Ill., and Billy Carlton of Alton. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

$420 theft from garage and van

Items valued at a total of about $420 were stolen from the garage and van of Don Smith, 2506 Center St., between 7 p.m. Monday and 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Stolen from the van in the garage was a tool box and $500 worth of tools, a $100 citizens' band radio, a $50 meter and a $40 set of socket wrenches.

Taken from the garage were a $100 chain saw, two electrical saws worth a total of $70, a $40 electric drill and two speakers valued at a total of $40.

VANDALIZE APARTMENT Two young men were seen breaking the front door of 404 Kirkpatrick Homes at 3:05 a.m. Wednesday. A caller accidentally gave police an incorrect address and by the time they discovered the proper apartment, the youths had left. The door had been destroyed and the apartment ransacked. It was not known if anything was stolen.

Energy and steel GC Rotary topic

Conserving energy and producing steel require the full awareness of everyone in the plant, according to Robert Maroney, assistant superintendent of the utility department at Granite City Steel.

Maroney spoke at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club in the YMCA.

He was introduced by Rotarian Dick West, program chairman.

Maroney told the Rotarians 75 per cent of the fuel used to produce steel is coal.

Areas mentioned by the speaker that help G. C. Steel conserve energy are: utilizing all the gases possible produced from the making of coke; avoid heat loss by maximum insulation, shut off major heat areas when not in use and strive for maximum use of energy through scheduling.

Rotarian Donald Shaffner, first vice-president of the club, reported that 16 members and wives attended the district convention in Jacksonville over the weekend.

Twenty-four new members were inducted into the club during the membership drive held the past six weeks. Rotary President Steve Bristol announced that the official winning membership team will be recognized in two weeks.

The club will not hold a meeting Tuesday, April 5 as the members will participate in the Maundy Thursday, luncheon April 7 at the First United Presbyterian Church.

President Bristol reminded the membership that those who cannot attend the special April 7 meeting should report to the "Y" on Tuesday and sign the attendance roster.

Open up system to people—Walker

Former Governor Daniel Walker appeared as the guest of honor and speaker early this week at a fund-raising cocktail party sponsored by the Dick Allen for Supervisor campaign committee. The event, attended by approximately 100 people, was held at Tony's Restaurant. Tickets were $25, and cocktails and hors d'oeuvres were served.

The former Illinois governor, in his remarks, said, "Why does a former governor drive 200 miles to attend a fund-raising function for a candidate for township supervisor? I came because his views and mine are the same on opening up the political system to people's participation."

"I came because Dick Allen cares about people, which is the reason that he is running for the position of supervisor."

"Allen has been in the forefront of the fight for good government for as long as I've known him."

"I hope all you good people will get out and knock on doors, call your friends and neighbors, and get him elected supervisor in Granite City."

Mrs. Paula Vaughn, 42, dies

Mrs. Paula D. (Shedd) Vaughn, 42, of 2604 Probes Ave., ill for one year, died at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. She had been hospitalized two days.

Born in Eminence, Mo., Mrs. Vaughn resided in this area 32 years.

Mrs. Vaughn was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Survivors include three sons, Simeon, Gregory and Sean.

Vaughn, all of Granite City; four daughters, Mrs. Janice Crites of Glen Carbon, Misses Elizabeth, Claire and Erin Vaughn, all of Granite City; one half-brother, Sigmund Shedd who her stepmother, Mrs. Allie Shedd, both of Granite City, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Training in home health

Applications to the SIUE homemaker-home health training program are still being accepted, according to Rowena Lutz, home economist in special programs at the university.

Sponsored by Special Programs at SIUE, the program is partially funded by a federal grant under Program Impact of the Higher Education Act of 1965, Title I.

Participants will receive training in caring for children and the handicapped, planning and preparing nutritious meals, marketing and light housekeeping.

Older women who have reared their families or who have helped aged parents or other relatives in time of illness or stress are particularly being encouraged to participate in the program.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Lutz at 692-2420 or 377-9265.

Don't fertilize damaged shrubs

By WAYNE B. SIEPERT
Ornamental Horticulturist
Plants injured by last winter's freeze should not be fertilized. This rule applies best when injury caused by dieback of twigs and small limbs. Fertilizer stimulates the growth of normal shrubs to produce a modest amount of new growth in proportion to the root growth. When a severe freeze or fire kills part of the top, fertilizer provides too much stimulant. Excessive new growth may not ripen properly before fall and result in more cold weather injury next winter. I suggest holding back on fertilizer until mid-fall. After the plant has ripened for the winter, fertilizer will be stored by the root system or remain in the soil until spring. Getting rid of dandelions after they have sprouted is usually not a problem. Although proper watering, mowing and fertilizing are basic to a good lawn, chemical weed control is occasionally necessary, too. When an occasional dandelion gets started in your lawn you can easily control it with one application of 2,4-D. An extra bonus will be control of several other species of broadleaf weeds. A popular combination of herbicides for broadleaf weeds in home lawns is a mixture of 2,4-D and Silvex. Silvex adds clover, chickweed and henbit to the list to produce a broad spectrum of control with the same degree of safety.

When economy has a great deal of appeal, shop for the liquid mixtures you mix with water and apply with your own sprayer. When you follow the directions on the bottle and get even coverage, you can be sure of success. The same combinations of 2,4-D and Silvex are packaged as granular products for use in lawn spreaders. Formerly as combinations

TV 9 fund drive beats past record

The most successful fund-raising effort in the history of public television station KETC-TV, Channel 9, ended March 22 with the station raising $105,410 from 3,577 pledges, tabulations showed this week. The most successful previous effort, held in December, raised $88,000.

The 17 days of fund-raising were part of Festival '77, a national public television campaign coordinated by the Station Independence Program of the Public Broadcasting Service. This project, inaugurated in 1975, is designed to increase the level of funding of local stations and educate audiences about the purpose, nature and needs of public television.

Through PBS and syndication services, Channel 9 acquired a number of special programs to attract new viewers to public television, including a Monty Python comedy special, the British musical-comedy "Rock Follies," a drama of the musical Strauss family, Ingmar Bergman's "Scenes From a Marriage" and a "big band" special, "All-Star Swing Festival."

The program raising the most money for Channel 9 was the live opera special, "La Boheme," which was simulcast with KWTU-FM and KFUP-FM. "La Boheme" raised $5,675 from 194 pledges for Channel 9 and additional money was pledged for public radio station KWTU-FM.

Other successful fund-raisers were the courtroom drama, "The Andersonville Trial," and "Rock Follies," Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" and a National Geographical Society special, "The Volga."

Channel 9 plans another fund-raising pledge week in August.

HIGH WINDS up to 52 miles per hour stripped this large sign (near top center) from atop the Granite City Steel Building, 20th and State streets, Monday. As the sign fell to State Street, just a few feet north of 20th, it caught this metal utility pole, bending it across the street and snapping power lines connected to it. No one was injured, but the sign missed the car at top left by only a few inches.

Plan meeting on slough ditch

Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) has agreed to attend a meeting of area officials and residents of the Dobrey Slough area to discuss a plan for extension of a drainage ditch from the slough to Horseshoe Lake. Helen Hawkins of Nameoki Township, said today.

Mrs. Hawkins, who has led a movement to build a major drainage line from Dobrey Slough to the lake, said she talked with Cong. Price in Washington, D.C., this morning and that he said he will attend a meeting when it is arranged.

Mrs. Hawkins said she plans to call officials throughout the area in an attempt to set up such a discussion.

Chouteau ok's road budget

After considerable discussion during a public hearing Tuesday night, the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors approved highway department budgets totaling $157,760, up $5,500 from budgets totaling $152,260 in the previous fiscal year.

Suggestions of budget increases in several areas led to Highway Commissioner James Estes asking that the budget be passed as posted, contending some of the auditors seemed to be "trying to drive the budget up," and to "make it look bad."

Auditor Cletus Hedwell had suggested Estes consider increasing his budgets for utilities and materials. Hedwell contended rising utilities and phone costs would not be covered by the budget, which was the same in those categories as last year.

Hedwell also stated Estes overspent his appropriation for materials last year, but returned this year with the same appropriation.

Several objections also were raised by those in the audience, some having no bearing on the budgets.

After the hearing, the board met in special session and quickly adopted the highway budgets. Approved were a general road and bridge budget of $75,560, the same as last year; a permanent road fund budget of $57,900, down $2,000 from $59,900 last year; an equipment and building fund of $15,000, up $7,500 from last year's $7,500 budget; and a $10,000 municipal retirement budget, the same as last year.

When the budgets were posted for public inspection 30 days earlier, they were $2,000 higher, due to a mathematical error in the permanent road fund which showed a total of $59,900.

The board adjourned after passing the budgets with no other regular business considered.

Tuesday's hearing and meeting were the second in a row for the town board, which also met Monday night in a joint session with the township's Community Development Citizen's Committee.

During that meeting, the types of carpeting, decorations and furnishings and the colors and designs for painting and other interior decorating were approved for the new town hall and community center building.

The roof has been put on and interior decoration is ready to begin in the building, which is being constructed by the township with Community Development and federal revenue sharing grant funds at no direct cost to the taxpayers.

Rail values drop

Assessments of $16,803,332 on railroad property in Madison County have been certified to the office of County Clerk Evelyn Bowles by the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs which fixes valuations on railroad and capital stock properties.

The state department also certified a valuation of $4,444,860 on capital stock items in Madison County, a decrease of $854,590 below last year's stock assessments totaling $5,299,450.

The railroad valuations fixed by the state on 12 operating railroads in the county are $302,962 less than assessments of $17,106,894 last year.

New railroad assessments, with last year's valuations in parenthesis, include:

Alton & Southern $1,069,920 ($912,094); Burlington Northern, Inc. $366,508 ($464,921); Chicago & Eastern Illinois $627,778 ($405,836); Chicago & Northwestern $354,290 ($380,411); Illinois Central Gulf (GM&O) $864,983 ($1,181,227); Illinois Central Gulf (IC) $460,646 ($508,972); Illinois Terminal $5,520,190 ($4,539,492); Penn Central (Penn) $955,219 ($1,343,574); Penn Central (NYC, CCC & St. L.) $1,416,946 ($1,991,491); Norfolk & Western (NYC & St. L.) $1,457,510 ($1,351,220); Norfolk & Western (Wabash) $2,076,025 ($1,678,580); Terminal Railroad Association $1,634,017 ($2,059,073).

The new capital stock assessment was levied against 388 items, a decrease of 64 below last year's total of 452.

Davis elected by American Steel

Louis D. Davis has been elected president of American Steel Foundries, a division of AMSTED Industries, effective April 1. He succeeds Carl O. Sundberg, who retires July 1. The changes were announced

Tuesday by AMSTED President Goff Smith. Davis, 52, moves up from the position of executive vice president. A native of Oak Park, Ill., he joined American Steel Foundries in 1951 as a mechanical engineering graduate from Northwestern University. He served in a succession of engineering management positions and in June 1968 was named vice president manufacturing and product engineering. He was elected executive vice president in March 1975. Davis is a registered professional engineer and a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He and his wife reside in Homewood, Ill., and are the parents of a daughter and a son. Sundberg, 61, has elected early retirement to devote more time to personal and family business. A native of Cleveland, Ohio, he is a 1939 metallurgical engineering graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He was employed by Republic Steel Corp., American Steel and Wire Co. and the War Department before active duty service with the U.S. Navy from 1943 to 1946.

Sundberg joined AMSTED's Diamond Chain Company in 1946 as a process metallurgist. He was named research metallurgist in 1951, chief metallurgist in 1953, chief production engineer in 1959 and vice president of Diamond Chain and managing director of AMSTED-Siemag Kette GmbH in West Germany in 1962. He was named vice president of South Bend Lathe Company, a former AMSTED division, in 1962 and became its president a year later. In 1970, he was elected president of ASF.

The retiring president is a director of the Steel Founders' Society of America, a fellow of the American Society of Metals and a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Management Association. He is a registered professional engineer and has been active in a wide variety of professional organizations serving his industry. Sundberg resides with his wife, the former Lela M. Rhodes, in Naperville.

American Steel Foundries manufactures cast steel freight car components, hot rolled steel springs and fifth wheels and sliders. It operates plants in Granite City, Alliance, Ohio, East Chicago, Ind., and Hammond, Ind. Its headquarters are in Chicago. AMSTED Industries is a broadly diversified manufacturer with 10 divisions making products for railroads, construction and general industry.

Osmonds stimulating but avoid stimulants

MARIE AND DONNY OSMOND

The Osmonds are an unusual family, and not just because they are featured on network television each week. Although they are devout Catholics, they will not follow the example of many young men of their faith by going on two-year missions for their church. They reason that they can best promote their ideals through their music. The president of their church agrees. The Osmonds give more than 10 per cent of their income to the Mormon church. The family that prays together stays together and the Osmonds are strictly a family affair. Father Osmond works the lights for every show, Marie irons their $1,500 spangled suits and Mother Osmond counts the gate. Nobody smokes, drinks or takes stimulants of any kind, including coffee, tea or coke.

Expensive test drive

An around-the-block test drive that lasted nearly six days caused the arrest of the "prospective buyer" who was held in lieu of $2,000 bail on a charge of theft. Andrew L. Foreman, 24, of East St. Louis, allegedly appeared at White's Auto Sales, 280 Madison Ave., Madison, at 3 p.m. Friday, March 29, and asked to take a car on a test drive around the block. Police reports said he returned the car to White's at 3:38 p.m. Wednesday and was arrested. Circuit Judge Horace Calvo set bail Wednesday afternoon. Foreman was in Madison City Jail today waiting transfer to the Madison County Jail if bond is not posted.

Airport

his decision he had taken into consideration the fact that the existing facilities at the airport are inadequate and that unless some remedial steps are taken, serious peak-hour delays are likely to develop at Lambert by the mid-1990s, forcing a reduction of service. "The question of the best way to provide additional air carrier capacity for the St. Louis area has been a matter of contention between the citizens of Missouri and Illinois. "From the viewpoint of all concerned, including the federal government, the best solution obviously would be one reached with the full concurrence and support of both states," Adams said. The Department of Transportation and its Federal Aviation Administration stand ready, he added, to work with Missouri and Illinois to insure the continuance at St. Louis of "economical, efficient and environmentally sound commercial air transportation service."

In deciding to disapprove federal funding for acquisition of the Columbia-Waterloo site, Adams reversed the decision announced Sept. 1, 1976, by former Secretary Coleman. The Presidential change led to the change in department heads in January 1977. Following the Coleman decision, DOT, through its Federal Aviation Administration, had concluded on Jan. 30 an initial grant agreement of $100,000 with the sponsor. Adams said he would have had to provide more money by tomorrow had he not ruled negatively. Saunders told the Press-Record, "We have not yet had an opportunity to examine the secretary's findings in detail, but we understand that his decision was based primarily on the disunity within the St. Louis area on the airport question. "With the kind of opposition shown by some Missourians, Secretary Adams appeared reluctant to review former Secretary Coleman's decision strictly on the basis of the region's need for a new airport and the merits of the case. "The announcement in no way changes the findings of Secretary Adams' three predecessors that Lambert Field has a limited future life as the region's major air carrier airport — and the directly related fact that the Columbia-

State running far short on payments by absent fathers

SPRINGFIELD — "Illinois is doing a miserable job of getting absent fathers to support their dependents," short-changing the state of millions of dollars annually, says Sen. Don A. Moore, R-Midlothian. Moore says he intends to do something about it, starting by prodding Illinois Atty. Gen. William Scott and Cook County State's Atty. Bernard Carey to begin enforcing the state's "absent father" law.

Technically, the statute involved is the "support of dependents act" which Moore successfully pushed for two years ago.

It and a package of companion or subsequent laws eased the way for local prosecutors to force fathers to pay up or face contempt of court actions.

But the law was greeted apparently with rousing indifference by the prosecutors charged with implementing it.

Scope of the problem is indicated by figures which show that as of last January, Illinois had $21 million in payments due but in arrears, according to an investigation of state records by Copley News Service.

State's attorneys complain they lack the staffs to prosecute such cases, Moore said, and maybe some feel the money involved in any arrears, individual case isn't large enough to warrant time spent on it.

Moore feels it's a matter of amount, but the idea that it's due that should be important. "I know we're not going to get all of it, but we sure can get some, and I want that money," he said.

"Maybe by comparison it isn't a lot, but if a guy cheats the state out of $200 I think he ought to have to pay that $200."

To make enforcement easier, he secured an additional $1 million for the public aid budget two years ago. The money is still there, unused, he said.

CALLAWAY NAMED
President Ford announced June 18, 1975, that Howard H. Callaway would become his 1976 campaign manager.

JAMES BORN
James VI of Scotland, and later James I of England, was born June 19, 1566.

Farm fuel supply could be short during spring

SPRINGFIELD — Fuel supplies for farm machinery will be tight during spring and summer months, according to a Department of Business and Economic Development source.

Wayne Barr, manager of fuel allocation for the department's energy division, says fuel companies are operating at capacity to build up stocks of fuel and diesel oil depleted during the unusually hard winter in the Midwest.

"I would say agriculture is probably going to have ample fuel," Barr says. "But it will be tight this year. I hesitate to say too much because if the facts aren't presented in the right frame, people will panic and make any shortages we might have worse than they actually would have been."

Barr's division is primarily in control of state "set-aside" fuel allotments from major manufacturers. It is the energy division which allocates "set-aside" fuel in compliance with federal energy administration guidelines.

The energy division also operates an "energy hotline" which offers assistance to farmers and manufacturers unable to locate fuel. Normally, the division allocates fuel for those large users out of "set-aside" supplies.

But the "set-aside" program is expiring and Barr's office is currently feeding information to Washington about extending the current program.

"The question we are asking of the government is, 'If the farmer doesn't have

He also got legislation which would let local state's attorneys keep 25 per cent of the state's half share of any money recovered from welfare cheaters including non-paying "absent fathers." The other half share is federal money.

The Illinois law is modeled on similar bills in California and the state of Washington, with a little borrowing from Michigan's bill. The result, says Moore, is the strongest measure of its kind in the nation.

If it is enforced. Under the law, initial enforcement is up to the local state's attorney. When he fails to perform, the attorney general through the public aid department is empowered to proceed.

Neither the attorney general nor individual state's attorneys seem to be very inclined to take action on the cases.

Youth holds police at bay with toy gun

A 19-year-old Granite City resident was charged with three counts of aggravated battery after he allegedly held several Granite City policemen at bay using a toy cap pistol during a disturbance in the 2100 block of Benton St. at 2:20 p.m. Wednesday.

The disturbance began about 2 p.m. when a young man allegedly kicked open the door at the home of Mrs. Debra Pace, 2108A Benton St., took a knife from her and threatened her with it. Mrs. Pace's mother called police and the man left. The youth then allegedly went to 2157 Benton St., and started beating and choking a dog. The dog's owner yelled at him and he started approaching the owner. She said she got a stick to defend herself and the man turned around and resumed choking the dog.

Another man intervened to save the dog, but backed away when the youth got out a pocket knife and threatened the man, who picked up another stick to defend himself, police were told.

The youth said he was going to get a gun and left. He was seen minutes later walking buildings walking toward the alley and Patrolman Douglas Patrolman David Rosenberg then distracted the youth's attention as Lt. Joseph Nemeth and Law jumped on the youth, knocking him to the ground and taking his gun away.

The youth was taken to the police station and later was taken by city ambulance to Alton State Memorial Hospital for psychiatric care.

Room ransacked

A youth who ransacked a bedroom at 1403 Kirkpatrick Homes while visitors were present in the rest of the apartment Tuesday evening fled through the bedroom window as police arrived on the scene and escaped.

Visitors in the apartment of Judy Pickle, 1403 Kirkpatrick Homes, called police after hearing noises in the southeast bedroom at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. The noises continued until police arrived. Officers then broke down the locked bedroom door, but found the youth had fled. The bedroom was ransacked and the mattress and a chair had been ripped open with a steak knife from the kitchen. Plexiglass had been removed from a bedroom window to gain entry. Nothing was known missing.

New state environment director is no novice

By CARYL CARSTENS

SPRINGFIELD — Leo Eisel is no stranger to the environmental wars of Illinois. Eisel, new director-designate of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, was in the middle of the controversy over damming of the Middle Fork River to provide a water supply for Danville and create a new recreation area.

In September, 1973, he was appointed director of the Division of Water Resources in the Department of Transportation. In that post, he did service studies of the Middle Fork proposal which were supported by Gov. Dan Walker.

Now Eisel believes there are more economical ways to provide water for the eastern Illinois area than building a reservoir on the Middle Fork. And he believes there is a potential for recreation development along the Middle Fork without the creation of a lake.

As director of the EPA he will be in charge of enforcement of the state's environmental regulations. The EPA wins no popularity prizes among local government officials," Eisel said. Discussions between state and local government officials may produce better working relationships, he said.

"We have to find more time to meet with local government officials," Eisel added.

Eisel hopes the EPA regulations can be made more acceptable to local government officials, but he never expects the EPA "to be the most loved agency."

The new EPA director believes that identification and control of hazardous chemicals is one of the most serious problems government must solve. More than 50,000 chemicals are in regular use, Eisel said, and some of them are known to cause major health problems.

In Illinois, Eisel considers soil erosion to be a major problem, both in the rural and urban areas. He expects legislation to be introduced to control erosion in rural areas and he would favor expansion of the regulations to include urban areas.

Eisel doesn't believe the economy and the environment have to be in conflict. The environment can be protected without harming the state's economy, he thinks.

"Through careful planning, you can have both," Eisel said. Environmental regulations may be enforced without loss of jobs, according to the EPA director.

Programs to improve and protect the environment will generate jobs to replace those that disappear when industries react to EPA regulations, he said.

Jobs that have been lost by the closing of plants would have disappeared in the near future anyway, because the plants were marginal operations, according to Eisel.

Eisel at 34 is one of the youngest of Gov. James Thompson's cabinet members. He has had a busy career in his brief span.

A native of Colorado, Eisel was graduated with highest distinction from Colorado State University in forestry. A Fulbright Fellow, Eisel chose to study at Lincoln College, University of Canterbury, Christchurch, New Zealand, where he received a master's degree in hydrology with first class honors.

Eisel completed his education with a doctorate in engineering at Harvard University. While at Harvard, he received the Clemens Herschel prize for excellence in applied hydraulic engineering.

As a consultant to the State Department, Eisel spent several months in Pakistan, developing a program for analyzing irrigation problems. He is a specialist in developing analysis programs built on mathematics and the use of computers.

Other positions Eisel held before joining the state Department of Transportation was as staff scientist for the Environmental Defense Fund and research associate in the Harvard University Development Advisory Service.

Elderly to get new indirect benefits

By JOAN MURARO

SPRINGFIELD — Senior citizens who receive medical assistance from the state Department of Public Aid are going to get another, indirect, benefit.

The department has clarified its rules on determining eligibility, and those who receive medical benefits will not, in future, lose out on "circuit breaker" grants.

Rep. Cal Skinner Jr., R-Crystal Lake, said he has been informed the department has changed its policy and in future will not consider the tax relief grants as income when determining eligibility for medical assistance.

Johnetta Jordan, a public information officer for the department, said that in the past there was no clarification of the regulations and all income was considered left at the rear of the yard.

A neighbor saw youths in an auto in front of Miller's home about 11:10 p.m. Tuesday and said two young men got out and were seen walking near Miller's yard, but they were not seen stealing anything.

Police were called and questioned the youths at the scene, later releasing them. After the burglary was discovered, they were picked up and questioned by detectives.

They admitted being in the car and one admitted going in Miller's back yard to get a drink from the garden hose, but they denied burglarizing the shed. They were released due to a lack of evidence, but police say they are continuing the investigation.

from the department and families with parents over 65 or disabled parents with dependent children. All of these, in future, will be eligible for property tax relief or its equivalent for renters.

Skinner said he and Rep. John Sharp, D-East Alton, sponsored legislation to achieve the benefits which have now been made available by the departmental rule change.

He said he and Sharp had fought for two years to achieve the change, finally implemented by outgoing Director James Trainor shortly before he left the department. The Crystal Lake representative said he was motivated to seek the assistance by incidents involving seniors in his legislative district.

"Why, one lady in my district got less than $3 a month from public aid as medical assistance and the department's stupid regulation cheated her out of 'circuit breaker' relief of hundreds of dollars a year," he said.

Last December, the Legislative Advisory Commission on Public Aid joined Skinner and Sharp in urging the regulatory change.

Question 4 in shed burglary

Four youths have been released after being questioned by detectives investigating a burglary at a storage shed behind the home of Elmer Miller, 2808 Saratoga St., between 11:10 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday.

The shed doors were pried open and two power saws, a power sander, a tool box and tools and about 50 feet of garden hose were stolen.

The hose had been cut off. A power mower also was moved from the shed, but was left at the rear of the yard.

A neighbor saw youths in an auto in front of Miller's home about 11:10 p.m. Tuesday and said two young men got out and were seen walking near Miller's yard, but they were not seen stealing anything.

Police were called and questioned the youths at the scene, later releasing them. After the burglary was discovered, they were picked up and questioned by detectives.

and letterpress printing, design ideas and artwork. It is located at 1814 Delmar Ave., across the street from the Press-Record, which was sold by Townsend in 1970 to the Post Corp.

The Bakers have been local residents for many years, although originally residing in Indiana, where they were married in 1933.

Their son, Byron, is an attorney with the Holiday Inn Hotel in Memphis, and their son, Dennis, operates a radio service company in Granite City. Their daughter, Debbie, is a teacher at Woodstock, Ill.

The family came here in the late 1930s when Baker became the first cold strip mill operator at Granite City Steel.

The Bakers moved to Kohler, Wis., in 1946 to operate a furnace and air-conditioning business, and in 1948 he accepted the position of maintenance supervisor of the Granite City Steel cold mill.

With the acquisition of the printing firm Baker devoted full-time to it but continued his association with the steel company by printing its monthly employee newspaper.

A mechanical expert, he is credited with achieving an unusually high degree of quality in producing a wide variety of job printing orders. His hobbies include leisure-time operation of "ham" radio equipment.

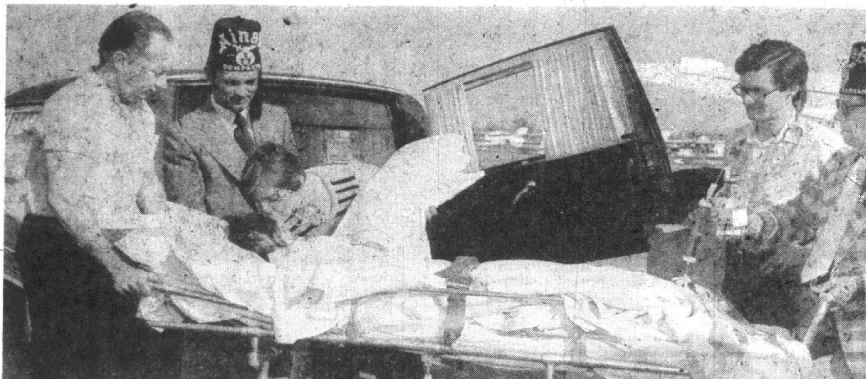

In addition to his leadership role in the Chamber, where he has injected a "can do" approach to a variety of committee and board objectives, Baker has served on the Illinois State Chamber's Small Business Council, aiding small firms in "cutting the maze of state and federal red tape."

At Chamber gatherings, where he has been regarded with favor as both a "doer" and "planner," he has been heard to philosophize, "The road should be as smooth or rough, but it depends a lot on your attitude as you travel it."

FLIGHT TO BURNS INSTITUTE For Page Clark, 5-year-old Mount Vernon, Ill., child who was burned over 50 per cent of her body, is assisted by Granite Cityans for Ainal Temple Shrine last week. The child is being placed in an ambulance provided by Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary for transfer from Children's Hospital, St. Louis, to the Alton Airport from where she was flown to the Shriners' Burns Institute at Cincinnati, Ohio. From left, Ed Wieschman of Thomas Mortuary who drove the ambulance; Kelly Hogan of Granite City who assisted in the ambulance trip and accompanied the child on the flight to Cincinnati; Jana Pawley of Park Forest, Ill., aunt of the injured girl; George Albertus, a registered nurse who also accompanied the child on the flight, and Assistant Rabban R. H. "Dick" Ervay of Granite City, a member of the Ainal Divan. The plane was furnished by Paul Pratt, an attorney with offices in Granite City. The child was burned when her clothing caught fire while playing with matches at the family home. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Clark of Mount Vernon.

$2,000 from Petrillo shown in Partney fund

Disputed contributions to organizations supporting candidates in the Granite City municipal election were noted this week in a Press-Record check of campaign contribution reports.

Among the contributions listed in official documents filed with the Madison County clerk's office was a $2,000 contribution from Nick Petrillo to "Three G's," which supports Daniel Partney's ticket.

A $400 contribution by Leon Scroggins was shown by the "City Club," which supports Mayor Paul Schuler.

Petrillo, who says he is running for city treasurer as an independent, issued a denial, saying the contribution must have been made in his name by someone else.

Scroggins, treasurer of the Partney campaign, denied taking the contribution to Partney's opponent.

Petrillo, in denying the $2,000 contribution to Partney, alleged that another city treasurer candidate, Russell Robinson, had out-of-town residents at a fund-raising dinner.

Robinson replied that Petrillo also has held fund-raising activities.

Robinson said his gathering was attended by friends and neighbors, including some friends who live elsewhere.

Three G's, supporting Daniel Partney for mayor and candidates in Partney's group, listed five contributions that totaled $4,200.

According to the document, contributors have been Nick Petrillo, $2,000; Dan Partney, $900; Ralph Elliott, $500; Margie Nonn, $300, and Chapman and Chapman law firm, $500.

Warren Decatur is chairman of Three G's, with Scroggins as treasurer.

Scroggins was among 25 listed as recent contributors to the City Club, which stated its purpose as to "support candidates for local township and county office."

Ernest Eli is treasurer of City Club, which lists assets of $16,715.

Seven persons were listed as giving $400 each, including Scroggins. The other six shown listed, were L. Callis, W. Bernadine Hagnauer, George Valicoff, Rufus LeMaster, Bill Gargall and Fred Painter.

Largest contributors to the City Club, as their names were listed on the disclosure form, were: E. Eli, $550; Mr. and Mrs. Pollus, $500, and W. Dalls, P.

Greenwald, G. Sprankle, S. Basarich and E. Baker, $495 each.

Contributing $400 each, in addition to those previously listed, were L. Callis, W. Bernadine Hagnauer, George Valicoff, Rufus LeMaster, Bill Gargall and Fred Painter.

Ronald Veizer gave $390; Everett Kelley donated $300; C. Blevins gave $250, and $200 contributions were reported from H. W. Greve, Valerie Stevens, Albert Stevens, A. Westphal, Walter Blizling, Paul Lonnoe, D. Polette, M. Mueller and V. Treanger, according to the document.

Repair street

Granite City Street Department workers Wednesday repaired a sunken area in Fehling Road at the entrance to the parking lot of American Heritage Bank to prevent damage to autos.

Street Superintendent Lionel Portell said the sunken area is a suspected break in a sewer line, but that surface repairs were necessary to keep motorists "from losing the mufflers on their cars."

The area was filled with blacktop to street grade level, Portell said.

Vadalabene to aid in effort for drainage

The drainage line to Dobrey Slough remained inactive this week, despite efforts by the state waterways division to repair the pump which drains the slough.

The pump was removed more than a week ago for repairs and heavy rains early this week caused flooding problems of some streets and basements.

State officials returned the "repaired" pump Tuesday, but when they set it up, it would not work. The pump again was removed for repairs.

The Granite City Street Department pumped the water out with a portable pump Wednesday to relieve the problem temporarily.

State Sen. Sam Vadalabene announced Wednesday that he will make every attempt to see that an adequate pump is provided to drain the slough as soon as possible.

Labour rally Sunday

A labor rally to support the candidacy of Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer and the candidates who have endorsed them will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday at VFW Post 1300, 2044 Washington Ave.

All members of organized labor are being invited. Free refreshments will be served during the rally.

Track Steelers win over Edwardsville

Coach Harry Lang's, GCHS North track team took note of damp grounds and switched to the SSUE track Tuesday to defeat Edwardsville High School 72-69.

Fred Clay won the 220-yard dash, long jump and triple jump but had to settle for second place in the 100-yard dash even though setting a new North High record time of ten seconds flat.

Bruce Jetteff won the 330-yard low hurdles. David Peters the high hurdles and Mike Baker the two-mile run in a soggy and windy 10-08.

David Ebrecht, Greg Stout, Aaron Hickam and Don Lucy won the two-mile relay and Greg Landys captured the pole vault.

Ken Futch won the mile run but his junior varsity squad lost

101-27. Edwardsville topped North freshmen 79-56 despite John Kafalas' victories in the 100 and 220 dashes and pole vault and his participation on the winning 440-yard relay team.

Schermers does it again.

Look this ad over closely and you will find many real big "blockbuster" savings. By "blockbuster" we mean items that save you a lot more than just a few pennies.

For example: 20 lbs. of red potatoes at $1.39 saves you lots of money. Cabbage at 2 heads for 59¢ does the same. There are stores this week where you can't even buy one head for 59¢. And so it goes: Sliced bacon for 59¢ lb. Right here at Schermers.

BE SURE AND HAVE YOUR CARD PUNCHED!

Don't be confused by the high priced look of "the big stores." Shop Schermers, we're home owned, home operated. A hard working member of your community.

In Memoriam 33

In Loving Memory of NEWTON TAPP
March 31, 1970
It was a sad and terrible day. When we heard our Newton had passed away.
He died in Vietnam—in the war—undisclosed.
Did he die without knowing how much we cared?
Newton is gone but we'll forget him never.
Thoughts of him will linger in our thoughts forever.
Dear God in heaven to you we pray.
That Newton will have the peace he wanted someday.

In Loving Memory of NEWTON TAPP
March 31, 1970
He died as brave men have a chance to die.
Fighting to save a world's morality.
He died the noblest death that men might die.
Fighting for God and right and liberty.

In loving memory of our mother FRANCES ROZYCKE who passed away April 2, 1966.
In the graveyard softly sleeping Where the flowers we place there gently wave.
Lies the one we love so dearly In her silent lonely grave. Though her smile is gone forever And her face no more we see. We still have precious memories, Of the days that used to be.

First Presbyterian announces services

Palm Sunday services at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, will be conducted at both 8:30 and 11 a.m., according to the Rev. David B. Maxton.

"And They Prepared the Passover" is the meditation for Maundy Thursday. Holy Communion service at 7:30 p.m. April 7, the minister added.

Sunrise service will be held at 6:30 a.m. Easter Sunday, April 10, and the topic selected is "Take a Walk." The sermon at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. Easter Sunday service will be "The Last Enemy," Rev. Maxton said.

Assistant pastor, the Rev. Robert C. Landes and the Rev. Maxton extend an invitation to area residents to attend any or all of the Holy Week observances.

Shower fetes Amy Barker

A baby shower was given last week for Amy Marie Barker, three-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George (Patricia) Barker Jr., by the infant's great-aunt, Mrs. Marilyn Price, 3241 Newell Drive.

The baby was born on March 1 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Pink and white decorations were used and the table was centered with a cake made in the shape of a pink teddy bear by the honoree's cousin, Mrs. Beverly Crider. Guest favors were miniature cradles filled with multi-color mints and a miniature baby doll.

A buffet luncheon was served to the infant's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Carolyn Barker, paternal great-grandmothers, Mrs. Hilda Lombardi and Mrs. Ruby Barker and the paternal great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Emma Boyde.

Others attending were Mesdames Marty Kristian, Ruby Turk, Margaret Coffman, Milka Chomko, Marge Norwood, Marie Lombardi, Brenda Dusek, Joanne Conreux, Pat Turk, Thelma Berry, Jackie Sparks, Ann Bade, Pat Mushill, Cathie Barker.

Mesdames Georgia Padgett, Dorothy Stroyoff, Dolores Waelton, Jimmie Gancheff, Mary Beth Chomko, Cookie White, Billie Schuler, Sandy Hutchins, Pat Hewlett, Clara Parker, Jane Franko, Sybil Larkin, Sandy Kelly, Beverly Crider and Manba Chomko.

Misses Christy Lombardi, Becki Ann Price, Ann Dusek, Sheri Barker, Vanessa and Jessica Chomko, Terri Schuler and Joe Schuler and Donald Barker, and the honoree's mother, Mrs. Patricia Barker.

Cotter College chapter topic

Mrs. Ray Schafer spoke on Cotter College in Nevada, Mo., and its campus area at a meeting Monday evening of Chapter KU, P.E.O. Sisterhood, held in the home of Mrs. Dale Mullen, 2267 Waterman Ave.

President Mrs. Dale Rea opened the meeting and welcomed 13 members.

Mrs. Schafer urged all members to visit the campus of Cotter College located in a city of 10,000 people in the foothills of the Ozark recreation area. Although the college is limited to 350 resident students, there are 11 separate buildings situated on more than 40 acres and five new buildings have been erected since 1962, she added.

The facility also features a 33 acre nature wildlife reserve with a beautiful lodge to complete a pleasant environment in which students and the staff may live, Mrs. Schafer announced.

Mrs. Rea reported the Founders Day luncheon will be at the Signal Hill United Methodist Church in Belleville this week. Those attending with the president include Mrs. Leonard Davis, Mrs. Larry Dew and Mrs. Elmer Gruen.

Outraged response to ban on saccharin

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau
Saccharin a national issue? It has a constituency of millions of diabetics, weight-watchers, cardio-vascular patients and senior citizens.
Still, some Illinois Congressional offices were surprised by the "widespread and inflammatory" reaction to the Food and Drug Administration's proposal to ban saccharin from food and beverages, probably in July. FDA cited a three-year Canadian study linking high daily doses of saccharin to evidence of bladder tumors in laboratory rats.

The 1958 Delaney Amendment to the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act of 1938 requires the FDA to ban any ingredient shown to cause cancers in humans or animals.

"We have no evidence that saccharin has ever caused cancer in human beings," acknowledged FDA's Sherwin Gardner.
While some Illinois offices suspect that Gardner's proposed ban, which must lie on the shelf 90 days, is a tactical maneuver to get Congress to relax the Delaney Amendment, congressmen are responding to the overwhelming demand of voters that saccharin not be outlawed.

"It involves people right in their homes," said Rep. John N. Erlenborn's office in accounting for the heavy volume of mail supporting saccharin.
As a 1977 issue, saccharin rivals common situs picketing, which lost narrowly in the House.

"There's probably been nothing like this since the bombing of Cambodia," says Rep. Paul Findley's staff, adding that it should signal Washington that it must be more sensitively attuned to what Americans want.
"The mail was not only heavy, it was outraged," said Rep. John N. Anderson's office. "People don't want to see saccharin disappear from the market."

Rep. George M. O'Brien, R-17th Dist., figures the saccharin issue is so hot that "we're going to win one for a change." He's got a bill to give FDA some latitude in interpreting the Delaney Amendment.
Rep. Robert McClory's staff put the saccharin mail in the "spontaneous category," meaning it was a genuine outburst of protest rather than the often engineered special-interest bombardment.
Rep. Tom Corcoran's office said anti-abortion mail is heavier than the saccharin protest and Cong. Paul Simon's office reported a similar light volume on the artificial sweetener.
Sen. Charles H. Percy's office counted 350 letters for Accidental poisoning of children still a problem

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health
Safety caps on medicine's drugs and other potentially hazardous substances have helped reduce the number of accidental poisonings. Even so, several thousand Illinois children, aged 12 and under, are victims of accidental poisoning each year.
This is doubly tragic, as child poisoning is one of the most easily preventable tragedies in the whole consumer product safety area.
Studies show that most victims of accidental poisoning are children who are too young to read or understand poison dangers.
The substances most frequently involved in child poisoning are: aspirin and aspirin products, plants, household cleaning products, bleach, eye, drain cleaners, paint thinners, gasoline and various petroleum products.
If you want more information about accidental poisoning, write to: Illinois Department of Public Health, Consumer Product Safety Program, 533 W. Jefferson, Springfield, 62761.

Another good idea is to find the number of the nearest poison control center (St. Elizabeth Hospital) and keep it in an easy-to-reach place, such as on the cover of your telephone directory.
Accidental poisoning can happen, even with the most vigilant of parents. If it happens in your home, call the poison control center for advice and assistance.
Have the container the child ate or drank from with you when you make the call. That way, you will be able to tell the poison center exactly what the child ingested... and that information is essential for proper treatment.

Ribbon cutting to open antique shop

Antiques and Boutiques, a new shop at 4008 Braden Ave., will open its doors to the public Friday, following a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 10 a.m., to be performed by Mayor Paul Schuler and attended by other civic and elected officials.
The "grand opening" will continue Saturday. Hours of operation will be from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. on both days.
Mrs. Ann Davis, owner and operator of the shop, said she will feature antique glassware, primitives, collectibles and depression glass, among other items.
Refreshments will be served on both days of the open house.

The shop is located in the same building as Gateway Dry Wall and Decorations, Inc. The firm is owned and operated by Mrs. Davis and her husband, Gary Davis.
"We would like to welcome all our 'old' friends and new to come in and browse around and see what we have to offer," Mrs. Davis said.

Easter school vacations to begin April 1

Easter vacations for Quad-City area students will vary this year, with all public schools in Granite City, Madison and Venice to hold the last day of classes on Friday, April 1.
Pupils will return for regular sessions on Monday, April 11. St. Elizabeth School, Sacred Heart, St. Margaret Mary and St. Joseph Schools, in Granite City, will conduct final sessions on Wednesday, April 6, and students will resume regular classes on Tuesday, April 12.
St. Mary-St. Mark, Madison and Venice, will observe the holiday after classes on Friday, April 1, with sessions to resume on Tuesday, April 12.

WORKSHOP ON FERTILIZER COMMERCIAL UTILIZATION
A workshop for any person or agency that handles fertilizers and weed killers commercially will be held Wednesday, April 6, at Belleville Area College in Room 141 from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. The University of Illinois will supply instruction concerning new Environmental Protection Agency regulations which require workers to be licensed to apply or handle fertilizers and weedkillers.
An Illinois Department of Agriculture staff will be present to test and license after the workshop. Persons from the southern third of the state are being urged to attend.

Thinks Skubish could work harmoniously

To the Editor:
I have known Tom Skubish all of his life and believe the city of Granite City and the 7th Ward will greatly benefit if he is elected our alderman.
He has grown up in an environment of politics; therefore, because of his exposure to various situations, I believe he has the experience and knowledge required to deal with problems in addition to making decisions, solutions and recommendations in all city matters.

He is always ready to listen to anyone's viewpoint and he is able to express his ideas in a clear and convincing manner.

both face to face and in a council situation.

He has an understanding of the many conditions that develop in the day-to-day operation of the 7th Ward. I believe he will work as part of the Granite City team, exercising tact and diplomacy, in addition to working harmoniously with others.

He has displayed leadership qualities as evidenced by his position as a science teacher, coaching responsibilities and background. I ask voters of the ward to vote for Tom Skubish on April 5.

Says candidate cares about young people

To the Editor:
I would like to talk to the young voters. We have a chance to speak out for the candidate of our choice.

I'm sure young people who had a chance to know Paul Ray Bowler during their stay at North High School know he cares about youths and what happens to them.

They know that he is fair where everyone is concerned. So, let's show at the polls April 5 that we care, too.

Too much emphasis on attracting industry

To the Editor:
As I don't know Mayor Schuler personally, but do know some of the Party family personally, I will still try to be impartial.

I think of the Party family very highly, so I am not dealing in personalities. Most, in both candidates are guilty of a lot of talk that they can't fulfill. Therefore, if it has no meaning.

concessions does one need to induce industry?

I don't believe in tax concessions. We don't need industry that can't pay union wages, that can't pay their share of taxes based on depressed assessments.

Both candidates are guilty of a lot of talk that they can't fulfill. Therefore, if it has no meaning.

For example, attracting industry. Mayor Schuler had nothing to do with attracting industry. On the other hand, Mr. Party's idea of tax concessions to attract industry is completely unacceptable.

Homes and small business are supposed to be assessed at 13 1/3 cents on the dollar of market value.

I have been told that a lot of industry in Illinois is assessed at one mill on the dollar of market value. What more tax

High winds factor in damage to signs

To the Editor:

As a firm supporter of Schuler for mayor, I was quite disappointed to see that a "Party" man, Mayor Schuler, had been destroyed in a yard on St. Clair Avenue, and I didn't blame the homeowner for Granite City a sign asking, "Is this freedom?"

My faith in Schuler supporters is renewed, however, as I continued my drive to work.

All the way down Madison Avenue, signs have been renewed, however, as I continued my drive to work.

The all way down Madison Avenue, signs have been renewed, however, as I continued my drive to work.

This damage was strictly "high wind" damage and not damage by the opposition.

I think when the St. Clair sign owner realizes this, he'll promptly remove his "Is this freedom" sign.

I personally feel that it has been my privilege to know this man, who has helped not only the senior citizens of Granite City but also the city of Granite City.

We appreciate that spirit in the leader of our city, and admire the way he has guided the city throughout his term in office.

Township facilities for senior citizens

To the Editor:

I would like to say a few words in behalf of Nelson Hagnauer, who has been a God-send to the senior citizens of Granite City.

Mr. Hagnauer as supervisor of Granite City Township has provided us with a recreation hall in downtown Granite City with revenue sharing funds that the township received.

He has worked with us in a manner that no one can complain about.

He also has a building under construction which will give us a huge hall within this building, that he has worked on many, many hours.

I personally feel that it has been my privilege to know this man, who has helped not only the senior citizens of Granite City but also the city of Granite City.

We appreciate that spirit in the leader of our city, and admire the way he has guided the city throughout his term in office.

Able to define goals

To the Editor:

I am pleased to hear that Paul Bowler is running for alderman of the 7th Ward in Granite City. Several years ago when Mr. Bowler was a student, I was his faculty adviser.

He impressed me with his ability to cut through the many confusions which seem to be a part of bureaucracy, and achieve clarity and definition of goals. I think that you, as you will be very much needed in our public offices.

The voters would benefit through Mr. Bowler's election as their alderman.

Much progress in GC since 1973

To the Editor:
I have heard the speech and read the talk of all these dreams that one of our mayor candidates has been talking about for the city of Granite City.

Sofar, I haven't heard or read anything about these dreams or what the mayor candidate has to know what these dreams are for our city.

I am not a person who is running for office and never intend to, but I am a lifelong resident and would like to know about these dreams for our city.

There has been many a time in my life, living here in Granite City, that I have had a thought or maybe a dream of what we could do to help Granite.

So far, up until the past three years, I have never seen anything that really improved Granite City. Since three years ago, I have seen a lot of progress and I can see more to come.

Five years ago, we never had a program for the senior citizens like we have today. Now we have a place for them to go, thanks to Nelson Hagnauer, and they themselves by being with people their own age.

They can have coffee, tea, doughnuts and rolls, play cards, and have transportation to and from the club.

Also, they have a hot dinner at noon - 8,800 served in 1976 - and all they have to do to enjoy this is to talk the Chorus.

Also, this will pick them up and take them to the doctor, dentist, druggist, hospital or downtown to shop. In the month of February, 488 people were taken to the doctor.

This is something we should all be very thankful for, because someday we may need this kind of help or companionship ourselves. Thanks to Nelson Hagnauer.

Also, I have seen the fire department improve about one hundred per cent in the past four years. They have more men to fight our fires and they have better equipment now than what we had five years ago.

Also, our fire department has had to take over the ambulance service, which is a big help to our city because now we have people driving these that know what to do when someone is hurt real bad or in need of some kind of help.

But, many drivers knew nothing but how to drive and push the cart.

With these people on the job, we would be able to save a few more lives and that's what we would all like to see.

Another thing I would like to see is the mayor candidate has to know what these dreams are for our city.

They have better qualifications than they used to have to become a police officer. They have the education and the "guts" it takes to do this job.

In years past, all you had to be the "guts" and be big enough that nobody wanted to pick on you. In past years, you never read about our police going to school to learn something new.

Now, you can read about some of them going to school all the time. This is good for us people in Granite City, as they are learning new ways to combat crime.

Another thing I can see now at City Council and that is they can go through the entire night of business without somebody breaking all the pencils or tearing up the paper all over the table or floor.

In past years, it was like a three-ring circus to go watch this. Now you can see them get their business done and never see a pencil broken or paper thrown all over the floor.

Now, you can see them get their business done and never see a pencil broken or paper thrown all over the floor.

enough to dream about building a city.

Another article I read in the Press read to me like a candidate for mayor doesn't have anything to do with a company that is an officer of, and also he doesn't have anything to do with this other business. If not, how is he making a living for his wife and children?

Also, a writer said to leave their signs alone. Who was she referring to in this statement?

Twenty minutes after I read her piece in the paper, all the Schuler and Blevins signs on West 20th, Denver and Cayuga Streets were torn down.

Not one Partney sign, nor his running mates, were touched. I know this to be true because I drove around and tried to find out who was doing this.

Also, sign cost money and neither side has that kind of money to spend on signs. I hope there is a law that if a person or persons are caught, they will have to pay for them.

I will replace these signs and I hope they stay.

The woman who wrote the letter in the paper also said, let's keep the mud and garbage out of this election. Did this woman read the Press-Record and see the ad against Nelson Hagnauer on page 23? This is our mud and garbage as a man can have.

The man that put the picture in the paper has played this kind of campaign all his life and he can't play it any other way. This man is also on the same ticket as the man in fact, he may be his right-hand man.

Now, if the people of Granite City could look back about six or even ten years and see what we had in Granite City and what we are getting now and have been getting for the past four years under our present Mayor Paul Schuler, they have to see a man can do much more than this in four years.

If he does just half of the things this next term, if elected, the people of Granite City should be very proud and thankful.

I also hope all the people in Granite City who have been helped by our Supervisor Nelson "Nellie" Hagnauer will remember him on election day.

R.W. "Rudy" ELMOORE

Guard provided; need walks, signs

To the Editor:

As a resident of Glenview and a former street sweeper, I want to thank the candidate who is running for alderman of the Sixth Ward.

His candidacy has done nothing else, it has awakened the people of the city administration to the needs of our area.

Among other things, we have had need of an adult school crossing guard on the Wilson Avenue street.

Also, we need a crossing guard on the Wilson Avenue street.

To the Editor:

We are fortunate to have some excellent candidates for alderman in our community.

One of the best candidates for alderman throughout the city is Walter Padgett of the Third Ward.

Walt and his wife, Judy, along with their three daughters, are lifelong residents of Granite City and are very concerned with the future of our city and the welfare of its citizens.

He believes in making Granite City a community in which we can continue to take pride. He can make it happen.

A vote for Walt Padgett is a vote for an alderman who will be responsive to the needs of the people of the Third Ward and all of Granite City. Please vote, everyone.

Need sewers from health standpoint

To the Editor:

As I have been told the letter, "Sewers badly needed in Nameki" may I agree that the Quiet Valley Lagoon system is on the verge of being condemned because the system does not work properly.

This so-called sewer system is owned and operated by the Village of Pontoon Beach and has nothing to do with Nameki Township. It is a sewer system which charges each user $4 a month, which is not enough to maintain that lagoon properly.

Therefore, the state will require the village to upgrade their system or tap into the Madison County sewer system that is being held up in the courts.

Residents of Nameki Township are not on any sewer system at all and those in the quiet valley are not much better off.

The state Environmental Protection Agency has warned that Gaslight Walk sewers will be closed in October 1977.

That is why we have worked on our sewer program for the last eight years and now have a 75 per cent state grant to help solve these problems, only to have a small group of people to finance our share of the cost.

If there is a better way, please let us know and I will be for it. My opponents in this township election have indicated that they are opposed to our sewer program, but have not offered anything as an alternative.

Whether you call it improved action, continued action, progress or any other name, if these people hold up our sewer program much longer, we will have an epidemic of sickness and disease.

Yes, the county is building a park near Quiet Valley, not the township.

As your County Board member, I am proud to say that I have promoted this program at very little cost to the taxpayers.

The land was donated free of charge, the work has been performed by Manpower employees, paid for by a federal grant to employ the unemployed, and the county is paying for picnic tables and swing sets to be installed.

This park project cleared a swamp and improved drainage, but has nothing to do with taking money away from our sewer program, which must be installed by professional contractors.

I know that the Quiet Valley residents don't enjoy the smell and I will be happy to come over and smell it with you again. You are better off in your home in small Long Lake. But until sewers are installed, we can consider ourselves lucky if a bad smell is all we get.

To the Editor:

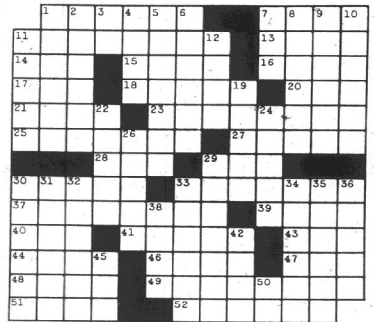

On April 5, the voting electorate of Granite City will go to the polls to elect our various city and township officials.

There is an interesting three-man race for the office of city treasurer.

Thompson looking at patronage

By AL MANNING
 SPRINGFIELD — Despite the hiring freeze imposed Jan. 21 by Gov. James Thompson, five persons on his staff are being paid $18,000 or more per year to dispense patronage jobs.

At the time the freeze was announced — on the eve of the meeting of the Republican County Chairman's Association — Thompson said the only persons hired would be cabinet directors, their top aides and employees providing vital human services.

But the patronage office is swamped with job seekers. Mike Dunn of Rockford is directing the patronage hiring from a first floor office in the old Waterways Building on Monroe Street.

He is assisted by Tom Booth, Tom Seymour, Mark Neuse and Jack Peroni. The state has been divided into sections — Chicago, Northern Illinois, Central Illinois and Southern Illinois — and each assistant handles a section.

It supposedly works this way: a county chairman or politician from Central Illinois who is sponsoring someone for a job contacts Booth. If Booth and Dunn think there is a suitable position, then Dunn contacts the department director and arranges an interview. The director does the hiring.

Dunn's job is a difficult one, even without the limitations of a hiring freeze.

It's virtually impossible to satisfy all of the county chairmen because they want to see all the Democrats employed by the state replaced with loyal Republicans. Court orders and Thompson's personal philosophy prevent that from happening though.

Thus Dunn won't win any popularity contests. Already the politicians are criticizing him because he's only 24 years old and inexperienced in such matters. When he travels around the state to meet with various county chairmen, they don't want to see him — they want to talk to the governor.

Dunn's predecessors have had similar problems, even though former Gov. Dan Walker claimed to end the abuses of patronage.

Under Walker, David Cleverdon handled the front office patronage work while others, most notably Brian Hanigan, took the heat on the front line.

For example, former employees of the state Department of Transportation who were fired by Hanigan dragged him into federal court recently to force him to publicly explain Walker's patronage system.

Many of the DOT employees were laid off for "budgetary reasons" at the same time summer help was being hired.

Under oath, Hanigan admitted the governor's front-office staff directed the political hirings.

"The governor's office was informed of the number of positions and where they existed, and in turn they referred us to the names and addresses of individuals to whom employment should be offered for those positions and it was," Hanigan testified.

(Hanigan, it should be noted, is now certified under the personnel code at his job in the Department of Business and Economic Development.)

Thompson's patronage operation doesn't appear to be much different from Walker's, except he is relying more on party regulars than did Walker. Plus, he readily admits to having a patronage office, where Walker would not.

Auditions here for 'George M'

The Masquers have announced auditions for their spring production of the Broadway musical, "George M." Tryouts will be held Saturday, April 2, and Sunday, April 3, at the YMCA, 2601 Edison Ave. Both sessions will begin at 2 p.m.

In his lifetime, George Michael Cohan was a towering giant of the American musical theater, and "George M." is his story.

The show calls for a large number of dancers and singers. If persons interested in auditioning have access to the music of "George M.", they are to prepare a selection from the show. If not, they may prepare a selection from any Broadway musical.

Those auditioning will also be asked to read from the script. Dancers will have the opportunity to present prepared material as well as to work with the choreographer. Those trying out for the role of George Cohan are to have a prepared routine.

Mrs. Beverly Scroggins of Granite City, director of the show, has chosen Mrs. Margaret Pennell as choreographer and assistant director.

Terry Wafar will conduct the orchestra, with vocal direction by Mrs. Rogers Mefford. Set designer is Mrs. Judy Padgett. Persons interested in further information regarding the audition may telephone 877-2228.

The Masquers group is a not-for-profit community theater organization.

The group invites participation from residents of the entire Illinois metropolitan area.

"George M." will be the final production of the Masquers' 1976-77 season.

Dance aids Moose Little Leaguers

Granite City Moose Lodge 272 held a dance during the weekend to benefit the Little League team sponsored by the lodge.

About 100 members and guests attended the event at the Granite City Moose Club, 15th and Adams streets.

Music for dancing was played by The Sunsets.

Dean Harrell, manager of the Moose Little League team, served as chairman of the benefit affair.

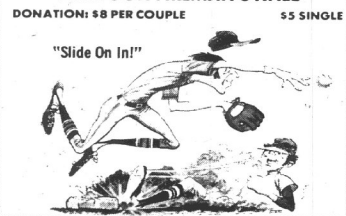

PENALTY ON LATE TAXES

The deadline for filing 1976 Illinois income tax return is midnight April 15 and returns filed after that date are subject to penalties at a rate of five per cent a month — up to 25 per cent — of the amount of unpaid taxes. Any unpaid taxes are also subject to interest at seven per cent a year, computed for the period between the tax due date and the date of payment.

300 at Park ice show

Close to 300 spectators were at Wilson Park rink Monday night to view the 1977 Ice Show and exhibition skating events.

Those attending also saw competitive skating by local students in the Granite City Park District's Learn-to-Skate classes.

First through fourth-place medals were awarded to competing students in the individual testing program.

Trophies also were presented to representatives of teams which played in the Madison-St.

Granite City Braves also received first-place trophy for playoff competition, with Alton Flames receiving the runnerup award.

In the skating tests, scored and evaluated by five judges, the winners were:

Second Test Ladies — Denise Portell, first; Gay Wright, second; Christine Byer, third; Linda Maliszewski, fourth; and Paula Fisher, fifth.

First Test Men — Glenn Wright, first; Frank Maliszewski, second.

First Test Ladies (Group A) — Dawn Muskin, first; Beth Bodnam, second; Marsha Fisher, third; and Linda Grebel, fourth.

First Test Ladies (Group B) — Sheila Whitt, first; Rita Harrell, second; Cindy Grimes, third; and Chris Loyet, fourth.

In exhibition skating, sequences were performed by Cindy and Janet McKenna, Leslie Roberts, Beth Hodge, Pam Mitchell, Alicia Null, Debbie Bigham, Dana Jones and Sheila Whitt.

ALICIA NULL prepares to execute a solo number in the 1977 ice show at Wilson Park skating rink, performed by students in the learn-to-skate classes.

SWIRLING MOTION. Pamela Mitchell moves to the music in exhibition skating at Granite City Park District's ice show Monday evening.

HARVARD GROUP TO SING

A group of singers from the Harvard-Radcliffe Afro-American Cultural Center will appear in concert at SUE Tuesday, April 5, at 1 p.m. The Kumba Singers will perform in the Green Lounge of the University Center. They were organized in November 1970 by students on the Harvard campus. The word "kumba" is Swahili for creativity.

IN EXHIBITION skating. Sheila Whitt, foreground, wears her first place medal, awarded in the First Test Ladies (Group B) competition. Pam Mitchell is in the background.

Johnson School vandalized 2nd time in 3 days

Vandals caused extensive damage inside Johnson School, 4225 Old Alton Road, Monday for the second time in three days.

A window in the west hallway was broken with a rock to gain entry. For an unknown reason, the burglar alarm failed to operate.

Every room except the office area was ransacked with books, bookcases, desks and papers thrown around. In the kitchen, eggs, milk and trays were thrown on the floor and against the walls.

The equipment room also was entered with several machines thrown on the floor and damaged.

Authorities suspect two boys seen running from the school during a similar incident Saturday evening may have been responsible for both break-ins.

A bicycle which one left behind Saturday evening is being held by police.

The youths are about 13 to 14 years old. Nothing was known missing after either incident.

Excerpts from comments to U.S. Transportation Secretary Brock Adams on the Columbia-Waterloo airport proposal by Gov. James Thompson, Lieut. Gov. Dave O'Neal, Sen. Charles Percy, Sen. Adlai Stevenson, Cong. Melvin Price and Cong. Paul Simon:

Controversy is generated, partially by the geography of the Mississippi River, which separates Missouri from the most desirable site for a new, modern airport, Columbia-Waterloo, Ill.

Rather than having the St. Louis region's airport move across the river — as successfully occurred, for example, in the Cincinnati area where the regional airport was relocated near Covington, Kentucky — Missourians have adopted a strategy to "save Lambert at all costs."

For the past seven years, proponents of Lambert have advanced a shifting series of supposed "solutions," each of which is wholly inadequate to satisfy the region's future aviation needs.

As the inadequacy of one solution became apparent, Missouri interests went on the next, all the while contending vociferously that the vast majority of Missourians desired to retain Lambert, despite its impending obsolescence and the severe impact of its aircraft noise on the heavy St. Louis population concentrations.

Lambert's inadequacy, moreover, is clearly demonstrated by the magnitude of resulting delays. Even assuming that Lambert would prove technically adequate to meet air travel demand, approval of the Columbia-Waterloo site would be justified and required by environmental considerations.

The adverse environmental impact of future air carrier operations at Lambert is so great that, under Section 16(c)(4) runway extension and alterations contemplated by the Parsons Plan could not even be lawfully approved given the feasible and prudent alternative of Columbia-Waterloo.

While acting in the national interest, Secretary Coleman carefully acted to protect the interests of Missouri by the conditions of his grant.

In short, the decision bears all the hallmarks of sound administrative decision-making:

It was balanced, carefully considered, made after unquestionably fair procedures and extensive study, and explained in a detailed and thoroughly reasoned document. Most important, the decision was eminently correct.

In the aftermath of the secretary's decision, the Missouri interests began to advance a series of allegedly "new" alternatives including so-called "operational policies," to prolong Lambert's life, and cited in support a number of allegedly "new" studies.

Yet there is no alternative and there is nothing in any of the allegedly new studies cited by Missouri that in any way undermines the need for a new airport or the superiority of the Columbia-Waterloo site, or, indeed, that was not considered by Sec. Coleman before he issued his decision.

And the conclusion, as summarized by Federal Aviation Administration Administrator McLucas in the transmittal letter, was that "the consideration of these alternatives" — including "scheduling and regulatory changes" of the sort now proposed by Missouri — "supports the finding that there is no feasible and prudent alternative to the Illinois location within the meaning of Section 16(c)(4)."

It should be recognized, moreover, that each and every one of these "improvements" must be successfully carried out before Lambert could remain even a technically marginal facility.

Examination of the facts about the latest "alternatives" proposed by Missouri demonstrates that the alternatives are not new and were considered and rejected in the decision process.

These "alternatives" have never been shown to be either workable in practice or desirable as a matter of policy and, indeed, these inadequacies are set out in the very "think papers" cited by Missouri in support of these alternatives are explored.

The airlines have very recently reaffirmed their testimony in this proceeding and their clear support of the secretary's decision.

DAMAGED BY HIGH WINDS. A 3.5-inch rain, accompanied by winds gusting to 52 miles per hour, collapsed this house still under construction at 2572 Westmoreland Drive Monday. Flooding and other less serious wind damage was caused by the storm throughout the Quad-City area.

Treasury job—only one open in '78 state vote?

There's an early interest in the treasurer's office because it's the only statewide office where it's virtually certain there won't be an incumbent in the running.

Donald R. Smith, a Republican, said when he was appointed by Gov. James Thompson to serve out Dixon's term that he wouldn't be a candidate for the office in 1978.

The treasurer's office is the only statewide opening on the primary ballot.

No one is announcing a candidacy, but some soundings are being taken discreetly.

It's not too early for sounding out possible support and financing since candidates will have to file petitions in December if the primary date isn't changed from March.

An early start would be helpful if the field is crowded — as it well might be.

Harry Page, Champaign County Treasurer Jim Skelton of Champaign and State Sen. James "Pete" Philip of Elmhurst are among Republicans being mentioned.

the Republican candidate for state treasurer in 1974. He beat Jeannette Mullen in the primary but lost to Alan Dixon in the general election.

All Page is prepared to say at this point is:

"Don't ever rule me out of anything that I might be interested in."

Skelton, also the Champaign County-GOP chairman, reportedly has been touching base with Republican leaders but hasn't decided to run. His second term as Champaign County treasurer will expire in 1978.

Philip, the DuPage County GOP chairman, has not made any public moves for the nomination. But he's head of the party organization in the most Republican county in the state and considered making the treasurer's race four years ago.

Constantino talked with then Gov. Dan Walker and Secy. of State Alan Dixon about the appointment to serve out Dixon's term as treasurer. Skelton said he definitely is interested in the post.

It's expected Dixon, as the ranking downstate Democrat, will have a considerable influence in selecting someone to run for his old job, but he's not been besieged by applicants.

The incumbents, assuming they all seek reelection to the offices they now hold, will be tough to beat in either a primary or a general election. Republicans would have a tough top half of the ticket in U.S. Sen. Charles Percy, Gov. James Thompson and Atty. Gen. William Scott.

Democrats have a formidable pair in Dixon and Comptroller Michael Bakalis.

All but Bakalis are members of the million-vote plurality club. Thompson, in his first bid for elective office, won by 1.39 million votes and Scott won a third term by 1.11 million votes in 1978.

Percy was elected to a second term in 1972 by 1.14 million votes. Dixon won by 1.34 million votes in 1976, the largest plurality ever given to any Democratic candidate in Illinois.

While not matching that pace, Bakalis has been impressive at the polls. He upset State School Supt. Ray Page (Harry's brother) in 1970 by 473,361 votes and beat incumbent George Lindberg in 1976 by 180,097 votes.

Either party will have a hard time gaining ground if the incumbents are content to seek reelection.

Bill would require permits for pistols

SPRINGFIELD — Legislation has been introduced in the house which would require a person to obtain a permit before purchasing a handgun.

The purpose of the legislation is to curtail the sale of handguns so they don't get into the hands of persons afflicted with drug abuse and mental illness backgrounds, Rep. Harry Yourell, sponsor of the bill, said.

"The mentally deficient and those who have a record of drug abuse do not meet my criteria for persons to have a gun in their possession, for their own protection," the Oak Lawn legislator said. "I can not see why there would be any opposition to this bill because a person has to identify himself," he said. Yourell explained that the Firearms Owner Identification Act was a way to generate revenue, not as a means for protection of gun owners.

No legislation will keep the gun out of criminal hands, he said. "Criminals manufacture their own guns and nothing we do in the House will stop that from happening," he said.

There always are some persons who will go berserk with the idea of possessing a gun, but here we begin to deal with human feelings and you can't change that," he said. Yourell said the issue of gun control is controversial because there is no middle ground. "People either want to own guns or they're deathly against them either because they are afraid of them or never have used them."

Yourell is an owner of guns and has hunted worldwide. He said the legislation does not prohibit the hunter because the bill is restricted to handguns.

Yourell also has two other bills in the legislative hopper dealing with guns.

One provides that a person convicted of wrongfully acquiring a firearm must serve a minimum of 15 days' imprisonment.

The other provides for mandatory prison sentences for persons convicted of committing crimes of armed violence.

Heading off crime in the early years is the thrust of another piece of legislation introduced by the representative.

This is in an area that he feels is more talked about than acted upon — parental responsibility. This bill makes a crime of parental neglect.

"Habitual criminal acts begin in the state of childhood and it is there that they should be stopped," he said.

"Parental neglect is a serious problem," he said. "Parents are forgetting that their first responsibility is to their children."

Passing legislation is not a way of getting to children but it can make the parents more responsible for the acts of their offspring, Yourell said.

"We should have someone other than the law dealing with the problem; the parents are the closest to the children and so they should have the major interests," he said.

If the bill passes, Yourell believes that communication gaps can be closed between the parent and the child.

"The bill will strengthen relationships and will contribute to the communication of the family unit, the founding strength of our society," he said.

Steel shipments edge up but import level remains serious

The automotive market led the way to slightly higher domestic steel industry shipments in January than had been registered in December, but imports continued to severely inhibit the industry's recovery, new statistical studies show.

The nation's mills shipped 6,459,000 net tons of steel products during January, compared with 6,334,000 tons in December, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Shipments also were adversely affected by fuel shortages and disruptions of operations caused by severe winter conditions.

January imports totaled 1,100,000 tons, or 15.1 per cent of the total domestic apparent steel supply. In 1976, foreign steel, with 14.1 per cent of apparent supply, captured its largest share of the United States market in four years.

The automotive market accounted for 1,651,000 tons, or more than a quarter of the January shipments by the domestic industry. In December, domestic steel producers shipped 1,418,000 tons of finished steel for automotive use.

The rise in shipments to the automotive industry offset drops in shipments to steel service centers and to the market for construction and contractors' products.

Shipments for containers and packaging, and to manufacturers of machinery, industrial and electrical equipment increased.

In terms of grades, shipments of carbon steel increased from December to January, but shipments of stainless, tool and other alloy steels fell.

Two women get probation in Mitchell shooting case

Five persons have been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to prison terms. Seven others received probation sentences, one was placed on conditional discharge and charges against two others were dismissed.

Probation sentences include those given to two women who were charged in the shooting of a man and concealing his body in a shallow grave on a Mitchell farm.

Susan Rae Mueller, 17, and her mother, Barbara Ann Hammond, both of Rural Route One, Granite City, have been sentenced to serve five years of probation each in connection with the death of a Greenville, Ill., man and the concealment of his body in a shallow grave last summer.

Miss Mueller pleaded guilty Feb. 14 to voluntary manslaughter and concealment of a homicidal death, and her mother pleaded guilty to concealment of a homicidal death the same day.

Sentence was pronounced at Edwardsville by Circuit Judge Moses W. Harrison II.

The body of Roscoe William Willman, 43, Greenville, was found on Mrs. Hammond's farm in the Mitchell area Sept. 23 after authorities received information it was buried in a shallow grave.

Lye and battery acid had been poured on the body, which was badly decomposed, according to deputies. The two women who were arrested first were charged in informational documents from the Madison County state's attorney's office with murder, conspiracy and concealment of a homicidal death.

Judge Harrison also ordered two years of probation for Ronald L. Useery, 20, of 2018 Meridian Ave., who pleaded guilty to burglary at the Word of Life Tabernacle Church, 1200 Meridian Ave. The burglary occurred Dec. 5.

Four juveniles also have faced juvenile court action in connection with that burglary. Henry Boyd, 25, of the 900 block of Jefferson St., Madison, has been sentenced to serve two to six years in prison after pleading guilty to unlawful delivery of a controlled substance containing heroin July 1, 1976. The sentence was pronounced by Judge Harrison.

He was one of several persons arrested Oct. 18 following an undercover drug investigation in this area by agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG) of Southwest Illinois last summer. Federal agents from the Drug Enforcement Administration participated in the arrest.

Judge Harrison sentenced Dewayne Meyers, 19, of 1729 Maple St., and Louis Joyner, 19, of 1941 Benton St., to serve two years of probation after pleading guilty to unlawful delivery of cannabis to MEG agents last summer.

Harrison also ordered that Meyers serve the first six months of his sentence in the Madison County Jail. Meyers and Joyner were among 10 persons arrested in a MEG arrest operation throughout Madison County Jan. 17.

Carol Bruce Bryant, 34, formerly of the 2000 block of Quincy Avenue, has been sentenced by Circuit Judge William Beatty to serve two concurrent sentences of three and one-third to 10 years each in prison for robbery and aggravated battery.

Bryant was found guilty of the two charges during a bench trial before Judge Beatty. He was charged with offering a Madison woman a ride Aug. 30 from 14th Street and Madison Avenue in Madison to 20th and Russell streets where he allegedly threatened her and took her rings, a wristwatch and her purse before throwing her out of the car.

Judge Beatty also sentenced Andrew Williamson, 31, St. Louis, to serve two concurrent sentences of 15 to 45 months each in prison after he pleaded guilty to two counts of unlawful possession of a controlled substance.

Police confiscated drugs in a home on East 22nd Street during a search using a search warrant June 19, 1976. Five persons were arrested that day in connection with a police investigation into stolen and forged checks being cashed in the city. Another man already has been sentenced to probation for the use of the stolen checks.

Williamson was charged with forgery and conspiracy in connection with the checks, but those charges later were dismissed, leaving him charged only with possession of the drugs found in the home.

Judge Beatty stipulated Williamson is to serve his sentences concurrent with a sentence he presently is serving in Jefferson City, Mo., and he was returned to Missouri authorities.

Richard C. Ripley, 20, of the 2000 block of St. Clair Ave., was sentenced by Judge Beatty to serve two concurrent terms of three to nine years in prison for aggravated battery and attempted armed robbery.

He pleaded guilty to shooting the Rev. Dennis Rutledge, pastor of Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, Dec. 1, while Rutledge was walking with his small daughter at 311 and Carlson avenues. Ripley also pleaded guilty to attempting to take Rev. Rutledge's wallet during the incident.

Rev. Rutledge suffered a bullet wound to his right leg from which he has recovered. The gun also was clogged at his head, but failed to fire, it was alleged.

Judge Beatty sentenced Dennis L. Coleman, 28, of the 3300 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, to serve one to three years in prison for burglary of the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 3007 Edwardsville Road, May 13, 1976. Coleman pleaded guilty to the charge March 9.

Joseph T. Becker, 236 Northbridge, who pleaded guilty March 9 to burglary of a Chicago and Northwestern Railroad train car at Cochen siding Dec. 14, was sentenced by Judge Beatty to serve one year of probation.

Judge Beatty also has sentenced Carl Lloyd, 17, Pinckneyville, Ill., to serve three years of probation to participate in the Teen Challenge program in St. Louis after Lloyd pleaded guilty to theft.

He allegedly was a passenger in an auto which Granite City police stopped Oct. 15 and found to be stolen from Pinckneyville. The driver also was charged with theft and that charge is pending.

David Floyd, 24, Wood River, was sentenced by associate judge to serve one year conditional discharge under the court's supervision for a misdemeanor charge of theft.

Floyd was one of 12 persons arrested and charged Jan. 7 in a coordinated series of arrests on warrants obtained by federal agents of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Department of the U.S. Treasury during a "swap shop" operation in North Venice.

The undercover agents operated Ed's Swap Shop for 10 months, purchasing stolen merchandise and collecting evidence for the subsequent arrests. Most of those arrested are to be tried in federal court.

The court also has agreed to dismiss a charge of delivery of heroin against Kevin Campbell, 20, of Lee Wright Homes, Venice, stemming from the Oct. 8 MEG arrests, and a charge of delivery of a controlled substance against Carol Baugh, 25, of 2008 Washington Ave. stemming from a Jan. 17 MEG operation.

ART OF THE BELLY DANCE TO BE TAUGHT

There will be a shake here, a shake there and a shake-shake everywhere when Cindy Spudich teaches the art of belly dancing this spring at SIUE. Sponsored by campus recreation as a non-credit course, the class for beginners will meet for eight weeks, beginning Tuesday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 003 of Lovejoy Library.

An advanced class will be held at 8:15 the same evenings. The art of belly dancing, which originated as a religious dance, began in Egypt and Turkey and was brought to the U.S., where it has since become "Americanized," according to Mrs. Spudich. There is no age limit for a belly dancer, as she has had students from ages 16 to 63. Individuals may sign up by pre-registering and paying their fees no later than April 5.

Women guards doing well at state prisons

SPRINGFIELD — The number of women guards in Illinois prisons housing adult male inmates steadily is increasing with "surprisingly few" problems, says Acting Corrections Director Charles Rowe.

Many of the women, he said, do "extremely well" in their varied duties.

Presently there are 153 women either already serving in the adult male facilities including maximum security facilities, or undergoing training at the department's training academy at St. Xavier College near Chicago.

The women wear the same green pants-shirt-blazer uniform that male guards wear and are assigned to all jobs except cell block duty.

Rowe says he has no plans at this time to assign women to cellblock duties for privacy reasons, since cell block personnel include in their jobs supervising inmates' showers.

Women are, however, routinely assigned to "the yard," where inmates spend recreational time, to the armory, and to security duties in classroom and work areas inside the walls, and to guard tower duty.

They also are assigned to search male inmates, but Rowe said that male guards at the facility at Dwight, where women inmates are housed, do not "shake down" the women prisoners. Those searches are made by females.

No Illinois prison guards carry firearms in day-to-day activities except for those on the walls and towers. Women who are assigned to these duties must pass the same rifle range training and tests as the male guards, Rowe said.

Initially, he said, wardens tended not to assign the women security officers to jobs inside the walls, but with increasing requests from the women for such assignments they gradually began widening the numbers of posts to which the women were assigned.

"I don't think some of them

(the women) thought we'd actually make those assignments," the acting director said, "and after they began assigning them inside, the numbers of requests for inside duty dropped off somewhat." He added that no women officers so far have refused inside assignments or dropped out of the program rather than accept such duty.

What objections there have been to women guards have come from the male guards. The inmates have voiced no complaints, and there have been no incidents involving the women, he said.

The men's objection is not to fears that their safety is jeopardized by having women in security positions, Rowe said, but rather stems from job assignments.

Some jobs, like tower and gate duty, are considered more desirable assignments than cell block duty, and since women are not assigned to the cell blocks, some of the men feel they are losing their chances for the "softer" posts to keep the cell blocks staffed.

"They may also have some doubts about their safety, but they have, they never have voiced them to me," he said.

Rowe said he feels the situation is like that of police forces when they first began using women officers — some initial apprehension which gradually diminished as male officers became used to working alongside female officers.

However, he has not had one area of complaint that police did. Most of the initial objection to women police came from wives of male police who objected to their husbands spending eight-hour shifts in a car with a woman. The prison situation is different from a closed car, he noted, and said he has heard no objections from wives of male prison guards to the women on the job.

The department has about 2,500 security personnel, including those assigned to the juvenile division, where women traditionally have been in custodial positions, often living with young residents as "cottage parents."

Passion Play at Hope Lutheran

The Rev. David Fielding, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave., is inviting the public to attend a Passion Play at 9 a.m. Palm Sunday to be held in the church basement.

The play for adults and by adults, has special interest for children. It will depict the life of Christ, he added.

The play is being put on by members of various Granite City churches for the public. The actors will perform in several different churches in town. The program at 9 a.m. will enable visitors to return to their own churches later in the morning for their own services, Rev. Fielding said.

Lawn care adds to home's value

By RON CORNWELL
Madison County
Agricultural Advisor

Most realtors will agree that an attractive lawn can increase the resale value of residential property by at least five per cent.

It does not take long to figure that this would mean an average increase of $1,500 to the sale value of a $30,000 home.

On Monday, April 4, a special program on lawn care will be offered at the Farm Bureau auditorium, 900 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville. The program will be offered at 1:30 p.m. and then repeated at 7:30 p.m.

On Monday, April 11, the same lawn care program will be offered at the Collinsville High School Vocational Center in the horticulture classroom. Starting time will be 7:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, April 12, the same lawn care program will be offered at the Highland High School Community Room. That program also will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Main speaker for all of the programs will be Wayne Siefert, University of Illinois area specialist in ornamental horticulture. Siefert plans a special session during each program for questions and answers.

Those who have any questions about these programs may call the Madison County Extension office at 656-7200.

To hedge against drought during pollination and to stretch the workload during harvest, Madison County farmers will want to plant hybrids that mature at different times.

Most seed corn companies use "Growing Degree Days" as a maturity rating system for hybrids.

The degree day or unit describes the amount of solar energy a plant receives in a day. The more solar energy received, the more rapidly corn develops.

To calculate growing degree days, add the day's high and low temperatures and divide by two to get the average. Then subtract 50 degrees F. from the average to get the day's degree units.

Corn should be mature when the total number of growing degree units accumulated during the actual growing season equals the number of growing degree units specified by the seed company as necessary for the hybrid to reach maturity.

Use 86 degrees F. and 50 degrees F. as the upper and lower limits when recording the day's temperatures. Corn growth slows at temperatures above 86 and below 50 degrees. If the day's maximum temperature is 88, for example, adjust it downward to 86 degrees. And if the minimum temperature falls to 48, adjust it upward to 50 degrees.

Start recording GDD at planting time. Continue until physiological maturity is reached. The average hybrid grown in central Illinois requires 2,500 to 2,700 GDD to reach maturity.

A quick and easy way to identify physiological maturity is to look at kernels at the middle of the ear for a black layer that forms near the tip of the kernels. This indicates that no dry matter is being deposited in the kernel.

The moisture content of the kernel will be about 30 per cent. This will vary among varieties.

How long should you keep farm records to meet Internal Revenue Service demands? If the land stays in the family, pass all the records along as the next generation takes over the farm.

Records pertaining to construction costs of new buildings, grain storage, livestock feeding facilities or other specialized facilities should also be kept permanently.

In major remodeling jobs, the amount spent is added to the value of a capital asset. Usually, your depreciation schedule contains most of this valuable information, so it should be kept permanently.

Records of ordinary farm income, such as sales of grain or livestock and ordinary farm expenses, should be kept for at least 10 years. Copies of income tax returns and estate tax reports should be kept indefinitely.

In addition to keeping your record book for income tax purposes, also keep cancelled checks, receipts and all other evidence to support the various entries in the record book.

treasurer; Sue Tritschuh, secretary; James Mathis, president, and Rod Hartzel, vice-president. The North chapter initiated 89 new members during March. New officers will be elected in May.

BOB KUBAN

Kuban band to entertain at benefit dance

The Bob Kuban Band will provide the music for the Pontoon Beach police dance at 9 p.m. Saturday, April 16, in the Stardust Skate Center, 3967 Lake Drive.

Tickets which include free refreshments are being sold by the police at $15 per couple. Kuban gained national recognition with his gold record "The Cheater."

Proceeds from the dance will go to the Police Explorer Post 255 trip fund. Post 255 is sponsored by the Pontoon Beach Police Department.

The Explorers are planning a trip to Colorado this summer which is expected to cost at least $3,600, according to Sgt. Harold Denham of the Pontoon Beach police and post adviser. The post consist of 17 young people in high school interested in a law-enforcement-related career.

Broadcast seminar

The Illinois Broadcasters Association will conduct a one-day seminar for mass communications students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Thursday, April 7, according to John Regnell, chairman of the department of mass communications at the university.

Sessions are scheduled in the television studio of the Communications Building, beginning with registration at 8:30 a.m. and continuing until 3:30 p.m.

Kenneth A. Shaw, president of SIUE, will give the welcoming address. Shelby Harbison, president of the Illinois Broadcasters Association, will keynote the general session of the seminar.

During the day, students will hear prominent media administrators from different parts of the state address such topics as news and public affairs, regulatory concerns of the broadcast media, and advertising and sales.

Between sessions, the broadcast majors will have an opportunity to chat informally with the panelists.

Among the panelists to discuss news and public affairs are: Robert Henley, vice-president and general manager of WGN, Chicago; Gene McPherson, general manager, of WVLN, Olney; and Joseph Costantino, vice-president and general manager of WRTH, Wood River.

Panelists for the session on regulatory concerns in broadcast media include: Russell Withers, general manager of WMDL-AM-FM, Mt. Vernon; Robert Farrow, WICS-TV, Springfield; and Philip Nolan, general manager of WIND, Chicago; as well as Henley, McPherson, Costantino and Harbison.

Andrea Wiley, feature editor for WBBS Radio, Chicago, will be the luncheon speaker.

Advertising and sales will be the areas under scrutiny by the panelists during the afternoon session. Members of the panel include Withers, Farrow and Nolan.

The program committee for the broadcast seminar includes: John Kurtz, member of the board of directors of the Illinois Broadcasters Association; James Turpin, executive director of the association; William Cathcart, Western Illinois University; and John Regnell, SIUE.

GRANITE CITY CANNOT JUSTIFY TO FEDERAL GOVERNMENT OVER $477,731.00 SPENT IN SEWER CONTRACT

THE TRUE FINIS P. ERNEST STORY ON GRANITE CITY SEWER REPAIRS

1. TWO FIRMS INDICTED

An antitrust indictment charging conspiracy in bid fixing was expected today against Finis P. Ernest, Inc., and the Modern Asphalt Paving and Construction Co., both of East St. Louis. The indictment will charge the two firms of conspiracy in bidding on two jobs consisting of "excavation, street and storm sewer construction and sanitary sewers construction," let by the city of East St. Louis.

Metro-East Journal, May 24, 1973

2. GRANITE CITY OFFICIALS SIGN QUESTIONABLE CONTRACT

Granite City signs contract on June 19, 1973 with the Federally indicted Finis P. Ernest firm.

3. JURY FINDS DEFENDENTS GUILTY OF BID FIXING

The firms are Finis P. Ernest, Inc. and Modern Asphalt Paving and Construction Co. They were found guilty of violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act in a conspiracy to fix bids they submitted on a 1971 East St. Louis sanitary sewer project.

Metro East Journal Feb. 20, 1974

4. GRANITE CITY SEWER WORK CHARGES QUESTIONED

Granite City officials say they were justified in paying Finis P. Ernest, Inc., $225,000 for work the firm did not actually perform during its sewer repair job in the city.

Metro East Journal, Aug. 24, 1975

5. AUDITS TO CHECK GRANITE CITY SEWER COSTS

The Metro-East Journal reported Aug. 24 that Granite City paid the Ernest firm charges for 47 days of by pass pumping and 50 days of dewatering when the firm was not actually doing the work.

Metro-East Journal, Aug. 31, 1975

6. AUDITS TO CHECK GRANITE CITY SEWER COSTS

FDAA already has reduced its reimbursement of the daily dewatering cost on the Granite City job, saying the city paid too much. Ernest charged the city $2500 per day, but FDAA Administrator Thomas Dunne told the city only $1785 per day could be reimbursed. Dunne said the FDAA checked with the Army Corps of Engineers in St. Louis and Bovay Engineers, Inc., of Houston, Texas, recognized as experts to determine a reasonable charge for dewatering. That reduction in eligibility cost the city $119,000.

Metro-East Journal, Aug. 31, 1975

7. SEWER WORK AUDIT EXPECTED TO CENTER ON ERNEST BILLS

Although such audits are routine, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler admits that reports of $225,500 in questionable charges for repair work by Finis P. Ernest, Inc., of East St. Louis probably will be the focus of the audit. Schuler, in fact, said Thursday that he would not be surprised if the audit report found fault with the city's expenditures.

Metro-East Journal, March 30, 1976

8. SEWER PAYMENTS UNJUSTIFIED

The investigation showed that the Ernest firm charged the city for 47 days of bypassing and 50 days of dewatering when the firm was not actually performing the work. The firm also doubled the bypassing rate specified in the contract if two pumps were used at one site. Warren Ruksaber, financial officer for the Illinois Civil Defense Agency said other cities such as Venice, received much more of the money they spent on sewer repairs back from the FDAA.

"Venice had an excellent audit" he said, "They had the work performed as they were supposed to."

Gary Pierson, public assistance officer for the FDAA, also said Venice received a good report.

"Venice was able to get the work done in close proximity to what we allowed," he said.

Venice records show the city claimed $278,754.87 from FDAA, and only $690.35 was denied.

Metro-East Journal, September 1, 1976

9. GRANITE CITY NOW REQUIRED TO RE-DO ERNEST WORK

According to the Granite City Superintendent of Streets the sewer division created within the street department is now going back and repairing the same sewer breaks that the Federally indicted and convicted East St. Louis, Finis P. Ernest, Inc., firm was paid $1,685,000.00 to repair originally.

Coalition wants an open primary

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Coalition for Political Honesty, which stirred a tempest across the state's political scene in 1976, plans another active role this year.

Activity will center in the Legislature, a target of the organization's program in 1976. Last year the Coalition aroused the ire of many lawmakers by its unsuccessful effort to have placed on the November ballot three proposals to bring about reforms in the Legislature.

These were proposed constitutional amendments to prohibit conflict of interest, prohibit legislators from holding another government job (double-dipping) and to prohibit them from drawing two-years pay in advance.

More than 600,000 signatures were obtained on petitions to place the issues on the ballot. But the effort failed when the Illinois Supreme Court ruled that the proposals were unconstitutional.

However, because of the pressure of public opinion generated by the petition movement the legislature did enact legislation to end the advance pay practice.

Now the Coalition people are back with another program hardly likely to improve their popularity with most lawmakers.

But once again the pressure of public opinion may force legislators to pay more attention to the Coalition than they would prefer.

A major goal is enactment of an open primary law. Several bills have already been introduced including one by Rep. David Robinson of Springfield in the House and one by Sen. William Morris of Waukegan in the Senate. Both are Democrats.

Ironically the last serious effort on behalf of open primary legislation was made some years ago by Springfield Republican G. William Horsley, then a member of the House who later became a senator.

Despite Horsley's usual hardwork and perseverance, the legislation made little headway. Open primaries have been pretty much a dead issue in Illinois for more than a decade.

But politics have been changing at an accelerating pace. The traditional two-party system has been undergoing some rough blows.

Fewer and fewer Americans participate actively in affairs of either party. This lack of interest is reflected in consistently light turnouts at the polls.

This is especially true in primary elections. Millions of potential voters are disillusioned with both parties and refuse to be identified with either.

A first step in increasing participation in elections, reason some political scientists, is to free potential voters from the requirement of declaring their politics in the primary.

There have been some indications that support for an open primary is growing in Illinois.

As they were in the case of advance pay, legislators are somewhat behind the eight-ball on the open primary issue.

It is difficult legislation to oppose if public opinion is so strong for it as Pat Quinn, spokesman for the Coalition, and some other advocates believe. It is something like being against motherhood and for sin.

There are, however, some sincere and valid arguments against an open primary and with Illinois being basically a conservative state an early switch from the current system would appear unlikely. The Coalition people, anticipating that approval at the current session is unlikely, are already giving thought to taking the issue to the people.

New books on library shelves

By JEANETTE KAMPEN

Adult Services Librarian

The Granite City Public Library will not charge fines on overdue materials during National Library Week, April 17-23. This will be a good opportunity for library patrons to return overdue books and other materials with no penalty and no questions asked.

The public library always is eager to expand the scope of its service and welcomes new users of the library. All residents of Granite City and Granite City property owners are entitled to a free library card. Resident library cards for the adult department are issued for five years and may then be renewed; each resident may have a card in his name.

Persons who live outside the city limits of Granite City and who do not own property in the city may have a card upon payment of a $5 fee.

Nonresident cards are issued for one year and can be used by the patron's entire family. To qualify for a card for the adult department, a person must be at least the seventh grade or must be at least age 13.

Each person to apply for a library card, with the exception of seventh and eighth graders, will be asked to show some identification that has his current address on it. The parents of seventh and eighth graders must sign the application card in order to verify the information and give permission for their son or daughter to use materials in the adult library.

New items. New mysteries include H.P. Keating's "Filmi, Filmi, Inspector Ghoté" — the murder of a famous film star plunges the determined and plodding

Inspector Ghoté of the Bombay C.I.D. into the intrigue in

"Bollywood," the film capital of India. In "A Dangerous Funeral" by Mary McMullen, nobody in the Converse family even consider the possibility of murder when Philip Converse dies at the venerable age of 72. When a niece and nephew do some investigating of their own, they find that beneath the wealthy and sophisticated facades of their relatives lies real desperation — enough to lead one of them to multiple murder.

Shulamith Hareven received the Prime Minister's Creativity Award in Israel for "City of Many Days." Hareven traces the life of a Jewish family in Jerusalem through several decades of this century, focusing upon Sara Amarillo, whose coming of age and slow, difficult progress to maturity form the center of this moving work of historical fiction.

Donita Hill has written the first major biography of the founder of the Mormon Church since 1945, "Joseph Smith: The First Mormon." Hill narrates the story of a charismatic leader, one of the most complex and influential figures in American history. Smith was a prophet, seer, city planner, lieutenant general of militia, politician, instrument of divine revelation — a man who believed in God but not in the contending, confusing sects of his day and, because of his beliefs, died a martyr.

Agricultural world's fair is planned

The Farm Progress Show, called "The World's Fair in Agriculture," will return to Illinois in the fall of 1978.

The three-day show, which attracts 300,000 people, features field demonstrations of the newest in harvesting and tillage machinery, extensive crop variety and farm pesticide plots and more than 70 acres of commercial exhibits.

The nearly 400 exhibits include machinery, livestock equipment, seeds, buildings and every other farm item. It also includes a show for farm women.

The nation's largest farm show is scheduled for Sept. 26, 27 and 28, 1978, on the farms of Phil Deal and Jim Mischenheimer in Christian County. The host farms are located three miles south of Taylorville.

Deal farms 1,350 acres and has a beef cow herd. He and his wife, Donna, have three children.

Mischenheimer farms more than 1,600 acres and raises hogs. He and his wife, Linda, have three children.

The show is sponsored in Illinois by Prairie Farmer.

This will be the 26th annual show. The first show was in 1953 at Armstrong, Ill. Other Illinois show locations include Belvidere, Farmer City, Joliet, Morton, Buffalo, Galesburg and Malta.

Officials stress that the 1978 show should not be confused with this year's Farm Progress Show to be held Sept. 27, 28 and 29 on the Maurice Crawford farm in Washington County, Iowa.

WHAT DO OTHERS SAY ABOUT PAUL SCHULER?

I am voting for Paul Schuler and I am also volunteering my time to help re-elect Mayor Schuler for two main reasons: 1. He has done a good job as Mayor and by his record he deserves a second term; 2. Paul Schuler has proven to me he is sincerely interested in youth and their problems.

Bruce Rotter (age 19)

Mayor Schuler has encouraged a responsive, honest and open form of city government.

We are fortunate to have a Mayor with Paul Schuler's excellent character, ability and dedication to Granite City.

MARILYN LAYLOFF
(Mrs. Thomas Layloff)
2832 Grand Ave.

Granite City has been a winner under Mayor Paul Schuler's leadership. His record of accomplishments for all the citizens of Granite City regardless of age, ethnic background or social status speaks for itself and that is why I am behind Paul Schuler 100%. I want another four winning years for all of us.

ANDY FRYNTZKO

Problems of Senior Citizens are often shoved aside by everyone and politicians frequently think of us only when they want our vote, but not Paul Schuler. I am backing Paul Schuler again for Mayor as he really cares about us, every day of the year, not just at election time. I hope everyone and particularly Senior Citizens will vote for Mayor Schuler. He cares.

As a resident of Granite City, I have been acquainted with Mr. Paul Schuler for the past 45 years. I knew him as an above average student in the public schools where he excelled as an athlete, lettering in a majority of sports. I knew him as a private citizen, a religious individual always willing to help his neighbor and friends. I know him as our mayor while a member of Citizen's Advisory Committee.

I feel that under Mayor Schuler's leadership our city is moving forward, therefore I am asking all of my friends to support Paul Schuler for Mayor on April 5.

The event included open house and a tour of the new wing of the hospital and the new chapel, named the "Elsie G. Smith Chapel."

Governor Joseph Teasdale, members of Congress from Missouri, state legislators and other state officials attended. Mrs. Smith, the former Elsie Engleke, was born in Granite City, March 29, 1915, to John and Adele Engleke.

She graduated from Granite City High School in 1932 and from the Deaconess Hospital School of Nursing, St. Louis, in 1937. She was head nurse in the delivery room at Deaconess Hospital from 1937 to 1939, and head nurse at Boone County Hospital, Columbia, Mo., from 1939 to November 1941.

In March 1942, Mrs. Smith joined the staff of the Ellis Fischel Hospital. She was a supervisor from 1943 to 1949; acting director of nursing from 1949 to 1952, and director of nursing from 1952 until her death Feb. 28, 1967. She died of leukemia after a brief illness. Mrs. Smith also served as a member and chairman of numerous state and district committees of the Missouri State Nurses' Association and taught nursing service education and personnel management courses at the university.

'Food Preservation' class set in April

"Food Preservation," one of the most popular programs to be presented last year by the Granite City Park District, has been scheduled again, this time in two parts, it was announced today.

One session will deal with fruits and the second on vegetables. The classes will be held at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues, on Tuesday, April 12, and Tuesday, April 19. Both will start at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Mary Yevlin, home economist at Granite City High School South, will teach the food preservation sessions. She will answer questions and explain practical methods of preserving food, including canning, freezing and drying. The young homemaker, as well as the experienced cook, will find much to help her in preparing casseroles, baked goods and similar items for the freer, the organizers said. Both sessions are free, but those wishing to attend are required to register in advance by calling 877-3069, or stopping at the Wilson Park office, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., before April 11.

Radio series on farming changes

During the week of April 4, WSIE-FM will broadcast a five-part series on the American farmer and the nation's agricultural system. WSIE-FM (88.7), the radio station located on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will air the reports during its daily newsmagazine, All Things Considered, at 4 p.m. The series will focus on the government's changing farm policy during the Carter administration.

Recent studies have indicated that the country is on the verge of an era of intensified food inflation, resources shortage and pollution. As a result, the Carter administration is being urged to shift its support from agri-business to the family farmer.

About 2,500,000 family farms went out of business between 1945 and 1973, while farms with sales of $100,000 or more grew five-fold between 1960 and 1974. In the series, reporters will explore the impact of socio-economic changes on food production in this country. The programs will examine the current marketing system, grain reserves and low consumers and farmers are protecting their interests.

Songs of romance tonight

The Mastersingers' benefit concert, highlighting songs of love and romance, is set for tonight at 8:15 in Meridian Ballroom of the SIUE University Center.

Sponsored by the Women's Club at the university, the concert will feature love songs by Gershwin and Porter as well as works from operas by Menotti, Charpentier, Donizetti, Cilea, Brahms and Bernstein. Mastersinger vocalists include: Sarah Travers Turner, soprano; Carol Kirkpatrick, soprano; Rico Serbo, tenor; and Leonard Van Camp, bass. John Gross will be pianist for the group.

Mrs. Turner, assistant professor of music at the local university, has performed at Radio City Music Hall and has worked with such personalities as Hugh Ross, Leonard Bernstein and Alfred Wallenstein. Carol Kirkpatrick is the wife of Rico Serbo, a visiting lecturer in the SIUE department of music, and both are under contract to Columbia Artists. She has performed with the San Francisco Opera and Syracuse Symphony. Serbo has also performed with the San Francisco Opera and Seattle Opera, as well as the Buffalo Symphony.

Van Camp, professor of music in charge of choral activities at the University, has performed with the Wichita Symphony Orchestra and is nationally known as a choral director, clinician, arranger and writer.

Each of the Mastersingers has studied at European conservatories and performed in several countries, including Italy, Switzerland and West Germany. Tickets for the concert are $3. Proceeds will go into a scholarship fund and to aid other projects at the university supported by the Women's Club. Tickets may be purchased at the door tonight.

Advanced study in international management attracts Aleana Hiles

Aleana Hiles, a senior at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is the recipient of the $3,500 Celia M. Howard Fellowship presented through the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

The fellowship is awarded to women who plan to attend one of five schools in the United States that specialize in the study of public management, administration of justice, law, and languages.

Upon graduation this spring from SIUE, Miss Hiles will attend the American Graduate School of International Management (formerly "Thunderbird") in Glendale, Ariz., where she plans to work toward her master's degree in business. The school is, she emphasized, "one of the best for training in international management."

To illustrate what she meant by this statement, Miss Hiles said one of the reasons for her graduation from the school is that the student must be fluent in a particular language.

Miss Hiles said that not only American students attend the school for international business training, but foreign students who want to work with American companies also attend.

Miss Hiles is one of four Illinois women to receive the Celia M. Howard Fellowship. "When I was told I won," she said, "the women at the BFW meeting seemed to have tears in their eyes, they were so happy for me."

She explained that the money for the fellowship was obtained through donations by these women and other BFW women throughout Illinois.

The Celia M. Howard Fellowship was named in honor of a member and former president of the Illinois BFW. A goal of $100,000 was raised by the clubs in 1950, and a trust was created and implemented for perpetuating the fellowships. They are offered annually to mature Illinois women who have received a bachelor degree.

Miss Hiles said the $3,500 will cover about half of her tuition and living expenses in Arizona. The rest of her expenses will be covered in part through money she has saved over the years, including money she earned while working for her father, Dr. Claude Hiles, a pediatrician. The Hiles are former Granite Cityans who reside in Glen Carbon.

"I worked for him every Saturday and summer since I was 14 years old," she said. She added that she probably would have taken over the practice had she been interested. Although she decided not to, she doesn't regret all the years she worked for her father.

"It helped me become more professional," she explained. She has been employed as an SIUE telephone operator for four years.

Besides being a hard worker, Miss Hiles is ambitious. Not only is she fluent in Spanish, a language and culture which she loves and is majoring in at SIUE, she is also majoring in speech communications.

It is an area, Miss Hiles said, that is essential for all professionals. "I think it will help me tremendously in interpersonal and small group communication," she said.

As part of her Spanish training, Miss Hiles went to school in Mexico in the summer of 1975 and lived with a Mexican family where "no one knew any English." Although they used a lot of sign language at first, Miss Hiles quickly mastered the language and was able to converse well with the Mexicans.

Scout-O-Rama kickoff meeting is April 13

The ticket sales kickoff for the Cahokia Mound Council "Scout-O-Rama" will be held Wednesday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Alex Tarpo, Jr., general chairman of the councilwide event, said "A Scout-O-Rama is a booth-type show put on by Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers, designed to show the public the many things that are done in the Scouting program."

"Each unit taking part in the show will choose a subject or activity that is typical of its program in the unit. This could be a favorite monthly theme in Cub Scouting or a merit badge or the special interest area of an Explorer post," Tarpo said.

Ronald Blumenthal, ticket chairman for the unitwide (Quad-Cities) district, said, "I hope the public will be represented at the ticket kickoff meeting. We will explain the commission for the units and the prizes for the youths selling tickets."

Proceeds from the event go to the local units selling the tickets and to the operating fund of the Cahokia Mound Council which includes the southern half of Madison County and Bond County.

The event is scheduled for Saturday, May 21, from noon until 8 p.m. in the Granite City Park District Ice rink.

Tarpo said, "The reason for the event is that we who are active in Scouting are convinced of the good things that the program offers. We know what Scouting has to offer, but other people who have no connection with Scouting do not know of the program features and have little knowledge of the depth of the program. "We want our youth members to show them. We want the public to see that Scouting is more than just helping a little elderly lady across the street," Tarpo said.

Tickets will sell for $1 each, with children under six free when accompanied by an adult.

A school security monitor told police two boys were attempting to get into parked cars. When police arrived, two boys allegedly were found inside the car of Karl Trebing, 2261 Delmar Ave., without the owner's permission.

The car was full of marijuana smoke and a lighted marijuana cigarette butt was found in the owner's possession.

The boys were released to their parents on notices to appear before juvenile authorities.

Arrest juveniles

Two juvenile boys, ages 14 and 16, were arrested in an auto behind Granite City High School South Monday and were charged with criminal trespass to a vehicle.

A school security monitor told police two boys were attempting to get into parked cars. When police arrived, two boys allegedly were found inside the car of Karl Trebing, 2261 Delmar Ave., without the owner's permission.

The car was full of marijuana smoke and a lighted marijuana cigarette butt was found in the owner's possession.

GREASE CATCHES FIRE

A pan of grease on a stove caught fire at the home of Jim Stout, 414 Roda Ave., last week, causing minor damage. The fire had been extinguished by the time firemen arrived and they used smoke ejectors to clear the air in the house.

FELLOWSHIP WINNER, Aleana Hiles, a senior at SIUE, is the recipient of the Celia M. Howard Fellowship awarded through the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Miss Hiles plans to use the $3,500 toward her tuition and living expenses at the American Graduate School of International Management in Glendale, Ariz. She will receive her degree in Spanish and speech communications this June and will begin her studies in Arizona this summer. Miss Hiles, currently employed as a telephone operator at SIUE, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Claude Hiles.

Fourth trustee named to sanitary district

A fourth member of the Metro-East Sanitary District board of trustees now headed by Russell Robinson of Granite City as chairman was appointed by the St. Clair County Board at Belleville Monday night in an apparent compromise in a political feud that has delayed appointment of two St. Clair County trustees.

The board agreed on the appointment of Omar A. Brumitt of Cahokia as one of the two remaining St. Clair County trustees in settlement of a long-standing political feud between Victor Canty of Washington Park, board chairman and Francis Touchette, County Board member and Democratic leader of Centerville Township.

The board at the same time approved the appointment of Melba Roberts of East St. Louis to fill a County Board vacancy and ending another dispute over appointments but it held up the appointment of a fifth sanitary district trustee, an East St. Louis member of the County Board said "there are a few more things to be checked out" in the appointment of a fifth member.

Robert Eastern Sr., an East St. Louis license inspector had been proposed as the fifth sanitary district board member.

As a result of the action, State Rep. Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia) announced he will withdraw a legislative measure that he had introduced in the Illinois House to change the method of appointing sanitary district trustees. Under present law the trustees are appointed by the chairmen of the County Boards in Madison and St. Clair Counties, with confirmation of the board memberships.

Flinn's bill would have provided for such appointments by the governor.

The Metro-East Sanitary District was established last December under a state law abolishing the old East Side Levee and Sanitary District which had been in existence since 1907. The law provided for appointment of five trustees — three from St. Clair County and two from Madison County — by the chairmen of the two County Boards.

Nelson Hagauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, appointed Robinson and Leonard Hylla of Madison. Both appointments were confirmed by the board. The St. Clair County Board also confirmed Canty's appointment of John Erhardt of Washington Park as a member.

Further efforts by Canty to name the remaining two trustees from that county were blocked by Touchette. Five appointments by Canty were blocked as a result of the political dispute.

State Rep. Flinn filed his bill to change the appointment method two weeks ago, followed by the agreement on Brumitt's appointment Monday night.

Brumitt is 52 and a former St. Clair County deputy sheriff. He has been a bus driver and has worked as a railroad engineer since 1946 except for his 15-month service with the sheriff's department.

He also is a trustee of the Commonfields of Cahokia Public Water District.

Mathematics 'field day'

About 750 high school student mathematicians will test their problem solving abilities Saturday during the Southeastern Illinois University at Carbondale's 20th annual Mathematics Field Day. Participating schools will include GCHS South and North. Students from 55 high schools are to compete for individual and team honors in a two-hour mass examination that will begin at 10 a.m. in the SIUE Arena.

Individual and team awards will be presented to high-scoring juniors and seniors in two enrollment categories — schools with more than 750 students and those with under 750. Awards will be presented at 2:15 p.m. in the arena.

While students are completing the examination, their teachers will hear a discussion about new university mathematics programs. There also will be a coffee for teachers, beginning at 9 a.m. in Neckers B240, and a luncheon at noon in the Student Center.

Mr. Paul Rutledge
Treasurer of the City of Granite City
City Hall
Granite City, Illinois 62040

To the Voters of Granite City:

Having had the pleasure of serving the citizens of Granite City as an Alderman for 22 years, some 10 years as Chairman of the Finance Committee, and the past 6 years as Treasurer of the City of Granite City, I have come to be concerned about the issues that face the voters of our city on April 5th. After knowing the condition and handling of our city's finances over the past 4 years, the two candidates for the office of Mayor, and the issues raised during this campaign, I feel a necessity to speak out.

I wholeheartedly endorse the candidacy for Mayor of Granite City of Daniel J. Partney.

Yours-sincerely,

Paul E. Rutledge

Madison Methodist plans Holy Week

The Madison United Methodist Church, 1641 Fifth St., Madison, will conduct special Holy Week services beginning at 7:30 p.m. Sunday through Wednesday, according to the Rev. Edward R. Weston, pastor.

Guest speaker at all services will be the Rev. E. B. Beaty, a retired United Methodist minister from Centralia.

Special music will be provided on Sunday by the Chancel Choir of the host church, on Monday the Wood River First United Methodist Church Youth Choir; Tuesday by the Madison Golden Age Bell Ringers and on Wednesday by the Nameoki United Methodist Church Youth Choir.

The United Methodist Women will provide refreshments during a fellowship hour following each of the services.

The church will also hold a Maundy Thursday Holy Communion service on April 7 at 7:30 p.m. Host pastor, Rev. Edward R. Weston, will preach, "Know Ye What I Have Done For You?"

A sunrise service, 6:30 a.m., will begin the Easter celebration. The Venice United Methodist Church and the

REV. E. B. BEATY
Guest speaker

Madison Presbyterian Churches will also be participating.

The traditional 10:45 a.m. Easter service will be led by Pastor Weston. The sermon is entitled, "Why Do You Weep?"

The public is invited to attend any and all of these services. For further information, contact the church office at 876-3555, Rev. Weston said.

Holy Week services at Hope Lutheran

Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wahash Ave., is announcing its schedule of services for Holy Week. Rev. David Fielding reports that Lent is a time of spiritual renewal. Those who have no church affiliation, and also those who are unchurched Lutherans living in the Granite City area, are urged to attend services during Holy Week.

On Thursday, the regular Maundy Thursday Communion will be at 7:30 with the adult choir participating. The service will consist of scripture lessons, hymns and litany.

Easter, the regular Festival Communion Services will be conducted at 8 and 10:30 a.m. with a special "Love Loaf Breaking Ceremony." Families will bring their loaves to the church, representing the end to their Lenten project of helping with World Hunger. Also, a liturgy of Baptismal Vow Renewal will be conducted and new lights in the sanctuary will be dedicated.

Other activities on Easter include the Granite City Sunrise Service at 6 a.m. at the Wilson Park Pavilion. Coffee and donuts will be served afterwards. The Sunday School will feature an egg hunt at 9 a.m. and have a special program. Sunday School begins at 9 a.m., Rev. Fielding added.

MR. AND MRS. MARTY THOMASON whose wedding took place at the Word of Life Tabernacle. Formerly Rosalie Wallace, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunsen of Godfrey and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Runge of Cahokia.

Rosalie Wallace and Marty Thomason wed

The wedding of Rosalie Wallace, 612 Alton Ave., Madison, and Marty Thomason of Granite City, was solemnized in an afternoon ceremony on March 26 at the Word of Life Tabernacle.

Officiating at the double ring service at 1 p.m. was the Rev. Henry Crippin. Nuptial selections were provided by the church organist.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Dunsen of Godfrey, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Runge of Cahokia. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moser, reside at 3113 Jill Ave.

A formal length blue chiffon gown fashioned with a beaded bodice and complemented with a matching chiffon cape, was worn by the bride.

She wore a white picture hat and a corsage of white carnations and red rose buds.

Honor attendant, Mrs. Minnie Brown, selected a full length blue chiffon dress worn with a white wide brimmed hat. Her corsage was of white carnations and red roses.

The groom chose his brother, Jerry Thomason, as best man. Following the ceremony an afternoon reception was held in the bride's home with an evening reception hosted at the Sportsmans Club in Madison.

The groom is employed by the Terminal Railroad Association. They are residing at 2009 Edwardsville Road, Granite City.

St. John Lutheran confirmation class

Ten young people will be confirmed in their Christian faith at St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair and Dale avenues, on Palm Sunday, April 3. Last Sunday the class was examined at public worship services regarding their understanding of the Christian faith and especially of Holy Communion.

The pastor of the congregation, the Rev. Samuel Boda, conducted the questioning. Confirmands have been attending Saturday morning class sessions for the past two years.

The confirmands will enter the church sanctuary Sunday morning at 10 a.m. in a processional, carrying palm branches reminiscent of the first Palm Sunday, when people welcomed and acclaimed Jesus Christ as King and Lord, as He descended the Mount of Olives on a colt on His way to Jerusalem where He would carry out the work of providing eternal salvation for all mankind, Rev. Boda added.

Following individual confirmations, each class-member will receive a copy of the revised standard version of the Holy Bible as a gift from the congregation. During the course of the service, communicant members of the congregation will be invited to rise to be "re-confirmed" in their Christian faith.

Class pictures will be taken in the chancel of the church building following the confirmation ceremony.

The confirmation class will experience its "first communion" on Maundy Thursday, at 7 p.m., robed in white; the congregation will be observing the anniversary of the institution of the Lord's Holy Supper. All communicants will be invited to the Lord's guests at His table, Rev. Boda announced.

Palm Sunday service at St. Peter Church

The confirmation class of 1977 will be honored on their 50th anniversary during the Palm Sunday Worship service this Sunday at St. Peter's Evangelical United Church of Christ, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard.

The festive service will begin at 10:15 a.m. as the Chancel, Junior and Chancel choirs enter the chancel carrying palm branches. All three choirs will provide special music for the worship.

Members of the 1927 confirmation class include Mrs. Helen Ida Lerch Niepert, Mrs. Dorothy Marie Stocklin Evans, Mrs. Dorothy Elsie Niepert Logan, Walter Emanuel Houston who is deceased, and Thelma Marie Kinzel.

The Rev. Robert Ketelhut will welcome a class of new members during the service. His sermon topic will be "Loyalty - Which Kind?"

Following the worship, the Special-Events Committee will host a coffee hour in Fellowship Hall in honor of the new members and the 50th anniversary confirmation class.

Holy Week services will continue on Maundy Thursday, April 7, with the Upper Room Holy Communion at 7:30 p.m. The Chancel Choir will provide special music and the pastor's sermon topic will be, "Faith Makes The Difference".

St. Peter's observes "open communion" for all devout and sincere believers, Rev. Ketelhut added.

Ample parking for all services is provided on the lighted lot adjacent to the church. Those are always on hand to assist the handicapped and child care for pre-schoolers is provided at all services.

The Solemn Eucharist will follow, read by three lectors and the congregation. Rev. Lear will officiate at the single service for the day. There will be no Saturday night service or 7:30 service, he added.

During the services Mrs. Kevin Nigol, organist, will play the following.

The revival will conclude on Easter Sunday morning with a service of special Easter music and an Easter message by Rev. Carter.

The pastor, Dr. William J. Fritts, on behalf of the church, invites the community to visit and participate in these services.

The church will be led in a C.A.R.E. Revival during this week. The emphasis will be on the following.

Proper packaging a 'must' for safe mailing of parcels

What do corn seeds, automobile tires, birthday cakes and honey bees have in common? They are just a few of the unusual items that pass through the post office, the postmasters of the Quad-Cities said in a statement today.

"Not many college students are mailing their dirty laundry home as they used to, but just about everything goes via parcel post. We see typewriters, mops, brooms, hockey sticks, tailpipes and mufflers, small trees and furniture in the mail. Live chicks regularly go through the mail. Books are common items and some people mail their entire personal libraries," the postal officials said.

"Some mailings have made news," the postmasters — Herbert Backs of Granite City, William Singleton of Venice and William Clifton of Madison — noted in the statement.

"One was an egg mailed safely across the country. Of course it had been carefully cushioned and packaged. Another," they said, "was the mailing of household goods from New York to Hawaii over the course of a year in individual packages."

The total postage was less than $3,000, while moving companies estimated the cost at $5,000 to $8,000 for moving 10,000 pounds to Hawaii. The multiple mailings were accomplished with only the loss of a small socket and damage to a typewriter knob, both due to our poor packing, not your handling," the mover wrote to the postmaster.

The area postmasters noted that no matter what is mailed, it is important that it be properly packaged. "From time to time some packages are brought into the post office that are so poorly wrapped they cannot be accepted. This is for the protection of the mailer," the postmasters said, emphasizing that window clerks will point out the deficiencies and explain how they can be corrected.

To avoid such delays, the postmasters made these suggestions:

Paperboard, fiberboard, wood, metal or plastic boxes are acceptable. The size of the box must provide enough space to cushion the contents. Fragile items in a package should be wrapped separately to protect them from each other as well as from the outside forces.

Heavy items should be braced to prevent shifting and damage to the parcel.

If the box itself is an adequate shipping container, outer paper

SIDEWALK REPLACEMENT in the 2900 block of Pershing Boulevard nears completion in preparation for resurfacing of Pershing from Marshall Avenue to Garden Drive, which is scheduled to get under way this week. From left, Jeff Pritchard and Mark Hatscher, employees of the Granite City engineering department, and Dave Nolan, engineering technician, measure walk installation Thursday afternoon at Marshall and Pershing. Curbing and guttering already have been installed. The job is being done by the city at a cost of $42,000 and is part of a $200,000 improvement program involving all seven city wards.

REV. JAMES BOYCE JR.

Dr. King to be honored

The late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will be honored Saturday in Venice.

A parade will form at noon Saturday at Line Alley and Market Street, with several civic, religious and fraternal groups participating with city officials.

The parade will end at the Venice City Hall with memorial services scheduled at approximately 1 p.m.

Rev. James Boyce, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church of St. Louis and former pastor of the New Salem Baptist Church in Venice, will be the guest speaker.

Rev. Boyce is active in the St. Louis National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and the Urban League.

The memorial is under the sponsorship of the Madison Branch of NAACP.

John Henry Williams, local NAACP president, has invited the public to participate.

New aquatic classes at 'Y'

A new session of aquatic classes at the YMCA will begin April 4. Several days, times and classes will be available to choose from, according to Donald Rains, program director at the "Y."

The progressive program (polling, minnow, fish and advanced classes) are held Monday through Thursday from 4 to 4:45 and 4:45 to 5:30 p.m. Diaper dip classes (6 months to 3 years of age) will be conducted on Mondays and Wednesdays from 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. and on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the same time.

There will be an afternoon class on Tuesday and Thursdays from 2:30 to 3:15 p.m. and an evening class on Mondays and Wednesday from 6:30 to 7:15. Tadpole classes (ages 3 to 5) will be held on Monday through Thursday from 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. and on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:15 to 4 p.m. and evenings from 7:15 to 8.

Saturday morning learn to swim classes also will be available from 9:00 to 9:45, 9:45 to 10:30 and 10:30 to 11:15 starting April 23. Phone registration is encouraged before the session begins Monday, April 4, especially for the morning classes, Rains said. For information on aquatic classes or any YMCA programs Quad-Cityans may call the "Y" at 876-7200.

NOW IS THE TIME TO MAKE THE IMPORTANT MOVE FOR A BETTER TOMORROW...

"The greater the power, the more dangerous the abuse."

It has been no secret. For years Chairman Hagnauer has been appropriating every political office for himself that he can. He holds the positions of County Board Member, Chairman of the Madison County Board, Madison County Liquor Control Commissioner, Chairman of the East-West Gateway Co-ordinating Council and Chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, in addition to Township Supervisor. With all these pieces of the political pie, he is saving the smallest slice for you. Isn't it time we realized that he is only using political positions for his own benefit, and not for what political offices were intended. An elective office is a sacred trust that the people bestow on those who seek them. They are not to be used for ones own benefit. Now is the time for the people to serve notice on the politicians that the days of political abuse and double-dipping are over. DICK ALLEN wants to see government work for YOU, the people. DICK ALLEN believes that now is the time to make the move and return government to the people and take it away from the politicians and their cronies. DICK ALLEN cannot do this alone. He needs your help and support. Help him make the move for a better tomorrow. On April 5th, don't be intimidated, stand up and be counted and cast your vote for...

DICK ALLEN, ATTORNEY AND ADMINISTRATOR FOR SUPERVISOR.

ON APRIL 5th

DON'T FORGET: "It is illegal to hold the offices of Township Supervisor and County Board simultaneously" (Ill. Rev. Stat. 1975 Ch. 102; Par. 4.10)
After 19 months, Chairman Hagnauer will have to resign as Supervisor.

"WELCOME, TRAITOR." Cardinal Ron Yankowski (78) says to Terry Metcalf as they shake hands on the basketball court after Metcalf, a football Cardinal, felt sorry for the losing Granite City police and

PERPLEXED. Terry Metcalf, a member of the Big Red (football Cardinals) basketball squad, but wearing a Granite City police and fire team shirt, did not know to which bench to report during a time-out, so he simply sat in the middle of the floor. Metcalf took pity on the local team after the first half due to a lopsided score, so he donned a local shirt and played part of the third period against the Big Red.

Commission commends GC for '76 crime drop

An overall 20.5 per cent reduction in major crimes in Granite City between 1975 and 1976 was cited by John O. Ellis, executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission in a letter congratulating Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Veizer this week.

Final figures on major crimes for 1976 were tabulated under the Illinois Uniform Crime Report Management Information System and were released this week.

In his letter to Veizer, Ellis said, "At a time when many cities are still reporting an increase in crime, it is gratifying to see that in 1976, Granite City has a substantial decrease in reported crime while, at the same time, a continually increasing rate of clearance of crimes (arrests)."

"We congratulate you on this accomplishment which reflects, we feel, Granite City's dedication to ever-improving law enforcement and your vigorous leadership as chief of police," the letter stated.

The annual report showed 7,916 major crimes were committed in the city in 1975 and the number dropped to 6,294 in 1976, a 20.5 per cent reduction.

The increase of robbery declined substantially from 68 in 1975 to 23 last year, a 66.2 per cent drop. The number of battery and aggravated battery cases also declined 47.3 per cent, from 110 cases to 58 last year.

Rape was down from seven to six, a 14.3 per cent decline, burglary dropped 22 per cent, from 817 cases to 637, and the number of theft cases dropped from 1,942 to 1,621, a 16.5 per cent reduction.

Auto theft cases were down 23 per cent, from 274 in 1975 to 211 last year.

The only category where an increase was noted was murder and voluntary manslaughter where the number of cases recorded by the state increased from four in 1975 to six last year.

The total of six used by the state disagrees with the city's statistics since it includes a hit and run fatal accident which Granite City police consider an involuntary incident, and counts a double murder here as two murder cases while local statistics consider it one murder case.

Unofficial tabulations indicate the crime rate in Madison and Venice showed decreases, but official tabulations for those cities have not yet been released.

STOLEN CAR WRECKED

The auto of Wilma Garrison, 2414 Grand Ave., reported stolen from in front of the owner's home Monday, was found by Madison County Sheriff's deputies after it had been driven into a parked car in the 2700 block of Stratford Lane and then had been abandoned.

PUMPING OPERATIONS CONTINUE Monday afternoon at the end of Ivy Lane. Heavy rains drenched the Quad-City area with more than three inches of rain. Nearly two feet of water accumulated on Ivy Lane before the pumping was started. (Press-Record Photo)

210 elderly, disabled entertained at program

A total of 210 elderly Quad-City area residents and disabled senior citizens filled the Long Lake Fire Hall for an evening of free entertainment during the weekend.

Phil Spence, local organist, composer and music teacher, led the gathering in sing-alongs and invited guests from the audience to sing with him.

One woman even taught Spence "The Battle Hymn of the Senior Citizens" during the evening. Eight-year-old Kim Asbeck, vocalist Diane Palerini, organist Norma Jean Lawton and musician J. W. Apperson also entertained.

Free refreshments were served and buses were provided to take senior citizens, disabled veterans and others to and from the event.

The evening of entertainment was sponsored by a citizens' committee and was made possible through donations from local businessmen, civic leaders, politicians and candidates.

Freeman Clineard, service officer for the Illinois Department of Veterans' Affairs and chairman of the citizens' committee for the project, commented, "We were delighted to see this many senior citizens and disabled veterans attend and they all seemed to have a very good time."

"This is one way we can show these fine people we have not forgotten their achievements. We recognize their value to our society and I hope similar events can be planned in the near future.

"The generosity of those who donated their time, services, money, food and facilities made it possible to make this a very enjoyable evening and we could not have done it without them," Clineard concluded.

Phil Barnett state officer

Phil Barnett, owner of the Barnett Termite and Pest Control Co., 1903 Fifth St., Madison, was elected state president of the Illinois Pest Control Association at its spring conference held during the weekend at the Peoria Hilton Hotel, Peoria, Ill.

Charles Haggarty of Hanna City, Ill., was elected to the office of executive vice-president during the two-day session.

The Illinois Pest Control Association represents 173 companies in Illinois and it was noted there were 151 companies represented, including two from Belleville, one each from Edwardsville and Bethalto.

Main topics discussed were state and federal laws relating to pest control businesses and an update on information about chemicals which are approved for use.

The fall conference is scheduled Nov. 19-20 in Springfield, Ill., according to Barnett.

GRANITE CITY, ILLINOIS

Bill would lower 'homestead' to 64

Rep. Jim McPike (D-Ill.) has just introduced legislation which would lower the eligibility age from 65 to 64 for the state homestead exemption against property tax boosts.

The homestead exemption currently is $1,500 for property owners, but due to inflation this reduction disappears after about three years, he said. The 56th District legislator's bill would amend the Revenue Act of 1939 to read:

"When real estate has qualified for the homestead exemption provided by this section and so long as it continues to qualify for that exemption, and when the owner of such property has an annual gross income of less than $10,000, or the maximum household income allowed for additional grants . . . the amount of real estate taxes extended against that property may not exceed the taxes payable on that property when it first qualified for the exemption."

The bill also provides that if taxes are lowered through changes in equalization, those qualifying for homestead exemptions may benefit through lower tax payments. McPike's measure further provides that the state would reimburse county collectors for losses incurred by local governments because of any tax boost protection through the amended legislation.

The bill, if passed by the House and Senate and signed by the governor, would become effective Jan. 1, 1979.

"I have introduced this bill for two important reasons," McPike told the Press-Record. "First, it would alleviate the unhappy financial situation older citizens on fixed incomes face during these days of inflation."

"Second, the property tax is one of the most regressive taxes we have. It penalizes those who work all of their lives to own their homes clear and free when they retire, or become disabled. When they retire on a fixed income, the property may be debt-free at the time, but many find themselves unable to keep up with rising taxes on that property."

"The result is that they again must sacrifice other necessities to meet the annual amounts levied against their homes."

"This bill is one of the first small steps attempting to do something about a serious problem. The eventual solution will be a comprehensive tax reform package that provides equitable financing for government services, including an equitable method to finance education."

Mackay heads state criminal justice division

Attorney General William J. Scott on Monday announced the appointment of former U.S. Attorney Donald B. Mackay as chief of Scott's Criminal Justice Division.

Mackay joined the attorney general's office March 15 under temporary assignment to the Anti-Trust Division. He has received his post as U.S. attorney for the Southern District of Illinois, which includes this area, following the change of administration in Washington. Mackay was U.S. attorney from 1971 to 1977.

Prior to that, he was in the private practice of law in Bloomington, where he had previously served as McLean County public defender. He received his law degree from John Marshall Law School in Chicago in 1963. Mackay, 38, resides with his wife and three children in Springfield.

Mackay succeeds James B. Zagel, who left the post to become executive director of the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

The Criminal Justice Division provides prosecution assistance to county state's attorneys, at their request.

The division has achieved a record of 95 per cent convictions, with 87 per cent of the defendants convicted being incarcerated.

The "UNITED FOR PROGRESS" Party Would Like To Know and The Citizens of Nameoki Township Need to Know.

Is the Present Nameoki Township Supervisor Really a "FULL TIME" Supervisor as he has stated?

How could he be if—

He worked a "FULL TIME" job as a tool and die maker five of the six years he has been Township Supervisor.

During the same six years he has had another paid political "FULL TIME" job as County Board Member.

During the same period he has also taken the time to campaign while running for State Representative.

During the past year and until recently he worked days "FULL TIME" for a local excavating company.

During the past two months he has campaigned during the day while working as your "FULL TIME" Township Supervisor.

Illinois Statutes State "IT IS ILLEGAL TO HOLD THE OFFICE OF TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR AND COUNTY BOARD SIMULTANEOUSLY" So if he were elected he could not hold both of his paid political "FULL TIME" jobs after next year.

Elect "HAROLD DAVIS" for Nameoki Township Supervisor, a man capable, willing and has the time to provide the people with the services they need and deserve. He will devote his efforts to this ONE elected position.

Vote for the entire "UNITED FOR PROGRESS" team.

Steinem, 'Rape Speakout' April 7

A "Rape Speakout" panel program and a talk by the feminist, Gloria Steinem, are scheduled Thursday, April 7 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

All women are being encouraged to attend the events, according to officers of Metro-East chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW), sponsor of the program.

Miss Steinem, co-founder of NOW and founder of the Women's Political Caucus, will speak at 7:30 p.m. April 7 in the Meridian Ballroom at SIUE.

Her subject will be related to the Equal Rights Amendment and she will review myths connected with the issue and answer questions from the audience.

A leader in the feminist movement for many years, Miss Steinem has received many honors, including "McCall's Woman of the Year." Tickets for her appearance at SIUE will cost $3 for non-students and $1.50 for students. They may be obtained from the SIUE University Ticket office, or at the door.

The Rape Intervention Program Committee, sponsors of the "Rape Speakout," said the event will take place from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. April 7 in SIUE's Goshen Lounge.

Panelists will discuss the subject of rape and respond to questions. The following day, April 8, workshops will be conducted at SIUE, dealing with different aspects of rape, such as medical and legal points, among others.

The Metro-East NOW Chapter is planning to elect new officers at its meeting in May, the current officers said. A date has not yet been set.

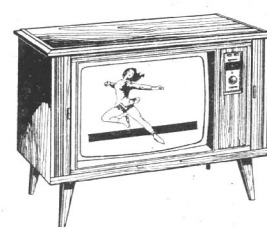

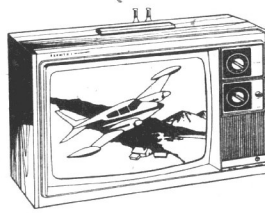

New task forces will be formed and chapter activities are expected to be expanded also in May, it was reported. A membership recruitment drive is to be part of the group's spring schedule of activities, it was learned.

4 seek 2-year City Council term

Curtis Blevins has served as an alderman of the Fifth Ward in Granite City since March 22, 1976, and is a candidate April 5 for the remaining two years of the unexpired term.

Blevins, 2907 Denver St., comments, "I am 42 years old and have resided in West Granite since 1920. I have lived at my present address since 1936."

"I was educated in the Granite City School system and graduated from Granite City High School in the class of 1933."

The candidate adds that he was "involved for many years in scouting as a scout, assistant scoutmaster and scoutmaster. I had the distinction of being the first boy from the West Side to earn the Eagle scout badge."

"I was married in 1936 to Juanita Elmore and have three daughters, Mrs. Ronald (Jacquelyn) Dillard of Granite City, Mrs. Larry (Barbara) Stephens of Fairview Heights and Mrs. Max (Judith) Mills of Granite City, and 12 grandchildren."

His father, Robert Blevins, 93 years old, and stepmother reside at 2706 Cayuga St.

"Many other relatives live in the city and take pride in being Granite Cityans."

"I have owned and operated the B & E Lumber and Hardware Co., formerly B & E Planning Mill and Supply Co., for the past 31 years. My former partners in the business were Clyde Edwards, Warren Blevins and Roger Paulett."

"I am a former member of Carpenters Local 633, the Elks lodge and Moose lodge."

Blevins is a member of Eagles Aerie 1126, having held that membership for 35 years. He is a member of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and Illinois Lumber Dealers Association and a past member of the Granite City planning and zoning commission.

He relates, "I am presently serving as a Ward Five alderman and as the chairman of the City Buildings Committee."

"I am a member of the Street and Alley Committee and the Air Pollution Committee, and I also chaired the special committee to negotiate the Illinois Bell Telephone franchise agreement."

"As the record will show, the council has functioned intelligently and swiftly to give our city sound judgment and decisions on the many issues necessary for progress."

"I am proud to be a responsible participant as a councilman, and ask voters' support so that we may continue as a team to make our city one of the best to live in, work in and best of all — live out our declining years."

Candidates on the April 5 ballot for a two-year aldermanic term in the Fifth Ward include Tommy Ray Taylor.

There are four candidates altogether for the two-year unexpired term in a position originally held by the late Walter F. Nonn and now held by Curtis G. Blevins.

Those running besides Taylor and Alderman Blevins are Mrs. Margaret Nonn, widow of former Alderman Nonn, and Gary G. Barnstable.

Taylor resides at 2807 Denver St. He has declined to provide detailed biographical information and campaign statements.

Aside from the four seeking the unexpired term, Ward Five voters will decide a four-year term on the City Council April 5.

Candidates for the full term are Alderman Steve Basarich and Lloyd H. Bailey.

"I am a candidate for the office of alderwoman in the Fifth Ward because I want to continue and complete the projects and desires that my late husband, Walter, wanted completed but because of his death was unable to fulfill."

"Since I do not have full-time employment, I can and will devote full time to trying to help the people of the ward if I am elected to the two-year term."

Program on legislation

The Gateway East Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa will hold a breakfast meeting Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant, High Three, East Alton.

Chairman will be Richard Small, educational consultant, Sarti-Huff Architectural Group.

Speaker will be Robert Leininger, who will present "The Legislative Picture, 1977-1978." He is assistant superintendent for governmental relations with the Illinois Office of Education and works closely with the General Assembly, Congress and state and federal agencies on legislation.

He has held this position since January 1976. Previously, he was superintendent of schools for ten years at the River Bend School in Fulton, Ill.

His presentation will focus on new proposals introduced by legislators, along with educational issues introduced by agencies and organizations.

State tax form advice Alderman Baker in Sixth Ward

State taxpayers can avoid refund delays by making sure to enter their refund amount on the proper line of the Illinois income tax return. Department of Revenue officials say that each year some taxpayers delay processing of their tax returns by entering refund amounts on the wrong line.

"A taxpayer sums up his computations on either Line 11 or 12 of the Illinois tax return," according to Gary V. Ey, income tax operations manager.

"These lines tell us whether the taxpayer owes the state money or is due a refund."

Refunds are claimed by entering the amount on Line 12 of the state return.

"If the taxpayer wants part or all of his refund credited to next year's tax liability, he should enter that amount on Line 12 of the return," Ey said.

Taxpayers who find they have a balance due the state should enter the amount on Line 11 of the return and attach a check or money order payable to the Illinois Department of Revenue. The taxpayer's Social Security number should be printed on the check, he said.

Deadline for filing Illinois income tax returns is April 15. The Illinois Department of Revenue provides free assistance and information at any of its offices throughout the state.

Taxpayers also can obtain help by calling the department toll free at 800-252-8972.

Retirement and service dinner

The seventh annual service awards and retirement banquet at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has been scheduled for Monday, April 18, Ken Ramers, personnel officer, heads the banquet committee.

Those honored are 30 retirees, three persons who have completed 20 years of service to the university, 25 employees with 15 years of service, and 74 with 10 years of service.

Nearly 70 employees will receive five-year service awards from department heads on the day of the banquet.

"Happy Days" is the theme of the dinner, scheduled to begin in Meridian Hall at 6:45 p.m. Special entertainment will be presented by Gene and Jean Kunz of Wood River, guitarist and vocalist.

Jane Altes, assistant vice-president for academic programs in the Office of Vice-President and Provost, will be in charge of ceremonies. Awards will be presented by SUIU President Kenneth Shaw. Musical interludes before and after the banquet will be played by the Old Guys Jazz Band.

BOOKLET AVAILABLE ON AGING IN ILLINOIS
Director Josephine K. Obinger has announced publication of a booklet by the Illinois Department on Aging outlining information about older citizens of Illinois. Entitled "Older Persons in Illinois," the booklet was developed through joint efforts of the department and the University of Illinois.

"This booklet examines factors in our society that are living extremely difficult when one is old," Mrs. Obinger has commented. She said Quaker City may write the Department on Aging, 2401 W. Jefferson, Springfield 62706 for a copy.

Mr., Mrs. Earl Phelps to mark anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phelps, 4808 Warnock Ave., will be honored on their 40th wedding anniversary at a reception from 2 to 4:30 p.m., Sunday, April 3, at the Calvary Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, 3000 Washington Ave.

Mr. Phelps and his wife, the former Thelma Eaton, were married April 3, 1937, in Norris City, Ill., in a ceremony officiated by the Rev. Otto Kottlin. The honorees are both members of the Calvary Baptist Church in Granite City.

Mr. Phelps has been employed at Granite City Steel for 40 years and will be retiring Oct. 1 of this year. Hosting the event will be the guests of honor's daughters and sons-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Allen (Phyllis) Holt, of Washington, D.C., Mr. and Mrs. William (Earline) Cress, of Schaumburg, Ill., and Debbie Phelps, of Granite City.

The couple requests that no gifts be presented and extends an invitation to friends and relatives to attend the affair.

James Wilson won the first place trophy in the Cub Pack 122 pinewood derby conducted at Wilson School, during the weekend.

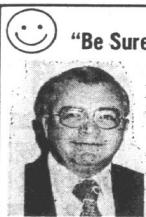

Sean McClure placed second and John Adler received the third place honor. All cub scouts received a pinewood derby ribbon for participating in the annual event.

The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance and posting of colors and introduction of the new cubmaster, Jack Dawson. Prior to the race the cubmaster presented awards to Duane Dawson, Wolf badge, gold and silver arrows; Harvey Kramer and Eddie Lance, Bobcat; Jack Brown, Bear badge; Donald Stevanus and Frank Woods, silver arrows; Michael Pinnon, Bobcat; Mike Geske, Donald Gilbert and John Adler, scholar badge under Webelos and Danny Lienemann, Bobcat.

Dinner cords went to Eddie Lance, John Blaylock and Mike Geske. Judges for the race were Mike Bledsoe, Jerry Poole and Jim Graham.

The cubmaster announced the pack is still collecting newspapers for a paper drive and anyone having papers to donate are advised to contact Dennis Kramer at 877-3723. Refreshments were served by Den Two after the meeting.

Kathleen Lane is betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Lane, 2121 Missouri Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kathleen Marie Lane to Sergeant-Major Ronald B. Offt.

Miss Lane is a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School South. She is presently employed at the Army Aviation Systems Command in St. Louis. Her fiancé, a member of the United States Army Aviation Systems Command, is the son of Mrs. Linda Offt, of Vinton, Iowa, and the late Raymond Offt.

Plans are being completed by the couple for a May 6 wedding at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, after which time they will be stationed at Camp Carroll Depot, Waegwan, Korea.

Dairy product theme Apr. 15

Dairy products of all kinds are the targets for the 1977 Farm Bureau statewide dairy promotion, slated for April 15. The Madison County Farm Bureau Women's Committee is planning another "Dairy Daze Taste-It-You'll-Like-It" party as its publicity promotional program. Mrs. Lucille Schaefer, chairman said.

The party will be held at the Farm Bureau auditorium, 900 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville, on Friday, April 15, with two sessions. The first is from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and the second from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Both sessions will be identical and the public is invited to attend either one. Many varieties of food will be there for viewing and tasting.

Cindy Sweetland of the St. Louis Dairy Council will give a talk on "Nutrition Labeling," plus other informational features.

Mrs. Schaefer is encouraging all area ladies to attend. There will be recipes for all.

District Garden Clubs hold annual meeting

Cloverview, Garden Study and Gardenettes Garden Clubs of Granite City, received blue ribbons for their year books during the annual meeting of District V Garden Clubs of Illinois, Inc., held last week at the First United Methodist Church, Collinsville.

A blue ribbon also was awarded to Cloverview Club for its history book entry.

President Mrs. Dennis Haislar gave the welcoming address and announced all 14 clubs were represented with 80 members and guests, including three members of the newly formed Fairview Heights Club.

Arrangements of spring flowers accented the tables. In response to roll call, a representative from each club gave a report on their activities for the year.

Mrs. Finis English, District V director, conducted the meeting and a memorial service for five deceased members was held by Mrs. Arthur Buesch.

The nominating committee submitted a slate of officers to be filled. Those named, Mrs. Richard Branding (Cloverview) as recording secretary; Mrs. W. Allen Smith (Holiday Shores) as treasurer and Miss Leah Kobusch (Cahokia) as historian, were accepted and installed in ceremonies conducted by Mrs. Judy Iselhardt of Edwardsville.

blue; Ruth Wolfe 1 blue; Josie Frieberg 1 blue; Irene Shea 2 blue, 1 red; Luella Klotz 1 blue; Barbara Green 1 red; Lavadna Hines 1 yellow.

The Garden Study Garden Club displayed the history book for their juniors, the Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club, The St. Clair County Junior Garden Club has entered Keep American Beautiful, Inc. Garden Club of Illinois, Inc. Miracle Garden Contest.

Coming events were announced — Collinsville plant sale, April 29; Mascoutah plant sale, April 30; Edwardsville Garden Club Tea, June 2 and the District V Flower Show, Dec. 3.

The speaker for the afternoon, Fred K. Gartung, president of Lincoln Memorial Garden, showed slides and narrated on the beautiful wild flowers, trees, paths and foot bridges of the garden. This is the largest continuous project of the Garden Club of Illinois since 1937. It is supported by the many garden clubs in Illinois and is a beautiful spot located on the edge of Lake Springfield, it was announced.

KNOTTY MACRAME TASKS TO BE TAUGHT

It's "knot" a problem to learn macrame in a special course offered this spring at SUE. Chris Kernan will teach macrame on Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m., April 13 through May 11.

This course is specially designed for those people who enjoy being creative. Students will learn basic knots and design techniques. Also, belts, plant hangers, wall hangings and jewelry will be made in the course. Registration at 692-5660 should be completed by April 7 for this $10 workshop.

Beta Sigma Phi hosts workshop

The Granite City Council of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority sponsored an all-day workshop on Saturday at St. John's United Church of Christ, 2601 Nameoki Road.

Workshop forums were presented by Carolyn Goodwin and Joy Heines of Alton; Sharon Cooper, Alice Koniczny, Dorris Lamb, and Juanita Loyet of Collinsville; Carol Cathy, Barb Hente, and Marilyn Lumpkins of Granite City.

The entertainment was directed by Joyce Tracy, Linda Yates and Linda Givens of Granite City. Linda Koenig reported on the balloting for division of the state for convention purposes, and with over 100 ballots received so far the majority favor four divisions. Co-chairmen for the workshop were Linda Givens of Theta Theta Chapter and Arlene Haldeman of Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter.

To the Voters of THE SECOND WARD:

What type of person do you want representing you as your alderman?

DO YOU WANT A PERSON WHO IS QUALIFIED AND EXPERIENCED?
DO YOU WANT A PERSON WHO IS HONEST, FAIR, AND DEPENDABLE?
DO YOU WANT A PERSON WHO WORKS HARD TO MAKE OUR GOOD CITY AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE AND WORK?

If this is the type of person you want as your alderman, then I recommend that you RE-ELECT FRANK GREENWALD.

I have worked with Frank for six years and I have found him to have all of these qualifications.

Granite Chapter plans past officers dinner

Granite Chapter 656, Order of the Eastern Star completed plans for its annual past matrons and past patrons dinner set for Saturday evening, at the business session of the chapter held during the weekend at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Mary Ann DeHart, chairman of the dinner, announced all officers are to assist with the cooking and serving. Presiding at the meeting were Maxine Compton, worthy matron and Charles Youngs, worthy patron.

The official visit of state officers, scheduled for April 22, was also the topic of discussion. Mrs. Compton said practice for the event will be at 2 p.m. on April 17.

Mrs. Compton announced the death of Helen Williams, grand Esther of the state organization, on March 22. She was a member of the LeGrange Chapter.

It was announced by Mrs. Mary Blibrey that Dorothy Watkins served as guest officer in Jerseyville last week and will serve again Saturday at Monroe Chapter, Columbia.

Marie Bauer, chairman of International Temple, submitted a report to the local chapter during the meeting.

Grand lecturers present were Hazel Wood, Arline Fox and Mary Blibrey of Granite Chapter and Mrs. Bauer of Edwardsville Chapter.

Pro tem officers, Mary Ellen Lewis, Florence Spior, Dorothy Brokaw and Wendell Gritz, were offered appreciation for filling office stations for the evening, by the worthy matron.

Those escorted and introduced included Mrs. Bess Henley, a past grand officer and grand chapter committee members.

All members and officers have greeting cards for sale at a cost of $1, it was noted.

An initiation ceremony will be conducted at 8 p.m. at the next meeting, Mrs. Compton added.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. DeHart and her committee, Cleveland Cox, John DeHart, Bonnie Fisher, Jerry Fisher, Elsie Staggs and Louise Orr.

Palm Sunday services at St. John United

The 9 a.m. Palm Sunday service will open with the processional, "All Glory, Laud and Honor." Each worshiper will be given a Palm branch, the universal symbol of Christ's triumphant entry into the holy city, the universal symbol of peace, and the Christian symbol of receiving the Prince of Peace into our very lives, according to the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey.

The Chancel choir, under the direction of the organist-choir director, Allen Miller, will present two anthems: "The Palms" by Jean Faure and "Ride on, Ride on" by John Prindle Scott. During this service a class of new adult members will be received into the fellowship of the St. John Church. Pastor Surbey will deliver the Palm Sunday message entitled, "Receiving and Giving Peace."

At the 10:20 a.m. service the confirmation class of 1977, composed of 17 members, will be received into the church through the Rite of Confirmation. Parents, grandparents, relatives and friends of the confirmands are invited to participate in this individual confession of christian faith, Rev. Surbey added.
